

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7, 1848.

This being the day prescribed by the constitution for the legislature of New Hampshire to assemble, the following persons, elected Senators, appearing, took and subscribed the oaths of office, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution :

From District No.	1—Hon. James Foss ;
“ “ “	2—
“ “ “	3—Hon. Noyes Poor ;
“ “ “	4—Hon. William H. Gage ;
“ “ “	5—
“ “ “	6—Hon. Jeremiah Dame ;
“ “ “	7—Hon. Ralph E. Tenney ;
“ “ “	8—Hon. Frederick Vose ;
“ “ “	9—Hon. John Preston ;
“ “ “	10—Hon. John Robb ;
“ “ “	11—Hon. William P. Weeks ;
“ “ “	12—Hon. Harry Hibbard.

The Senate was called to order by the clerk of last year.
On motion of Mr. Vose—

The Senate proceeded to the choice of a chairman, to preside until a president shall be chosen; and Hon. Mr. Foss was elected and took the chair.

On motion of Mr. Gage—

Resolved, That the Senate do now proceed by ballot to the choice of President.

On the first balloting the chairman announced the state of the vote, as follows:

Whole number of votes cast,	8
-----------------------------	---

Necessary to a choice,	5
------------------------	---

Hon. Harry Hibbard has	8
------------------------	---

and Hon. Harry Hibbard was accordingly declared unanimously elected President.

Mr. Hibbard, upon taking the chair, addressed the Senate as follows:

Senators—I shall enter upon the duties assigned me by your partiality with a deep sense of their importance, and of your kindness as manifested by the vote just taken. In all things I shall rely for assistance upon your forbearance and friendly support; and I confidently trust that our proceedings here may be so guided by wisdom and honesty of purpose as best to promote the good of that constituency who have intrusted their rights and interests to our hands.

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the Senate do now proceed by ballot to the choice of clerk.

On the first balloting the President announced the state of the vote, as follows:

-----------------------------	---

John H. George has	9
--------------------	---

and John H. George was accordingly declared unanimously elected clerk.

On motion of Mr. Foss—

Resolved, That the Senate do now proceed by ballot to the choice of assistant clerk.

On the first balloting the President announced the state of the vote, as follows:

-----------------------------	---

------------------------	---

Francis R. Chase has	9
----------------------	---

and Francis R. Chase was accordingly declared unanimously elected assistant clerk.

The President administered the oath of office to the clerk and assistant clerk, and they entered upon the discharge of the duties of their respective offices.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the rules of the Senate for the year 1847 be adopted as the rules for the present year, until otherwise ordered.

Hon. Joseph D. Pindar, Senator for senatorial district No. 2, having been duly qualified, was introduced by the Secretary of State and took his seat.

On motion of Mr. Robb—

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair, to nominate a suitable person for door-keeper of the Senate the present year.

Ordered, That Messrs. Robb, Foss, and Tenney, be said committee.

On motion of Mr. Preston—

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be requested to lay before the Senate the record of the returns of the votes given for Senators in the several senatorial districts in this State at the election in March last.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the Secretary of State thereof.

On motion of Mr. Tenney—

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair, to report rules and regulations for the government of the Senate the present year.

Ordered, That Messrs. Tenney, Vose, and Preston, be said committee.

The Secretary of State came in and laid before the Senate the returns of votes given at the election in March last, for Senators, in the several senatorial districts in this State.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the returns of votes in the several senatorial districts, be referred to a select committee of three, with instructions to examine and count the same, and report to the Senate whether any vacancies exist, and if so, in what senatorial districts.

Ordered, That Messrs. Vose, Weeks, and Pindar, be said committee.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk:

"Mr. President—I am directed to inform the Honorable Senate that the House of Representatives have assembled and organized by choosing Hon. Samuel H. Ayer, Speaker, Lewis Smith, clerk, and Thomas J. Whipple, assistant clerk, and are ready to proceed to the business of the session."

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the clerk inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have assembled, chosen Hon. Harry Hibbard, President, John H. George, clerk, and Francis R. Chase, assistant clerk, and are ready to proceed to the business of the session.

Mr. Foss, by leave, presented the following resolution :

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That the joint rules of the two branches of the legislature for the year 1847, be adopted as the joint rules of the two branches of the legislature for the present year, until otherwise ordered;

Which was read.

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives therein.

On motion of Mr. Gage—

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Robb, from the committee appointed to nominate a suitable person for door-keeper of the Senate for the present year, by leave, reported the following resolution :

Resolved, That Joel Frazier be appointed door-keeper of the Senate for the ensuing political year.

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Vose, from the select committee to whom were referred the returns of votes for Senators in the several senatorial districts, by leave, reported that they had attended to the duty assigned them, and from an examination of the returns made to the office of the Secretary of State, in compliance with the provisions of the constitution, it appears that there is no election of Senator in senatorial district No. 5. It appears that the whole number of votes cast is 5059; necessary to a choice, 2530; and no person having that number, there is no choice. The two highest candidates are Thomas E. Sawyer and James Drake.

On motion of Mr. Foss—

Resolved, That the foregoing report be accepted.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the clerk inform the House of Representatives that a vacancy exists in senatorial district No. 5, and that Thomas E. Sawyer and James Drake are the two highest candidates.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“ Mr. President—The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Gardner of Exeter, Rix of Lancaster, Bassett of Atkinson, Hildreth of Derry, and Woodbury of Weare, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to wait on His Excellency the Governor and inform him that a quorum of both branches of the legislature have assembled, are organized, and ready to receive any communication he may please to make, in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate.

The House concur with the Honorable Senate in the passage of a resolution, adopting the joint rules of the two branches of the legislature for the year 1847, as the joint rules of the two branches for the present year, until otherwise ordered.”

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the aforesaid joint select committee to wait on His Excellency the Governor and inform him of the organization of the legislature ?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Mr. Gage be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk:

“Mr. President—The House of Representatives are ready to meet the Honorable Senate in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.”

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the Senate now meet the House of Representatives in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, the Secretary of State came in and laid before the convention the returns of votes for Governor from the several towns and places in this State, and also the returns of votes for Councillors in the several councillor districts in this State.

On motion of Mr. Fowler, of the House—

Resolved, That the returns of votes for Governor be referred to a select committee, with instructions to compare and cast their numbers, and to report to the convention thereon.

Ordered, That Messrs. Vose of the Senate, Fowler and Hadley of the House, be said committee.

On motion of Mr. Woodbury of Wilmot, of the House—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to receive and sort the votes for Councillors, count and cast their numbers and report thereon.

Ordered, That Messrs. Weeks of the Senate, Woodbury of Wilmot, and Eastman of Hampstead, of the House, be said committee.

On motion of Mr. Norris of the House—

Resolved, That the convention do now proceed to fill the vacancy in senatorial district No. 5, James Drake and Thomas E. Sawyer being the two highest candidates.

On the first balloting the chairman of the convention announced the state of the vote, as follows :

Whole number of votes cast,	264
Necessary to a choice,	133
Blanks,	6
Thomas Sawyer has	1
Thomas E. Sawyer has	97
James Drake has	166

and James Drake was accordingly declared elected Senator for senatorial district No. 5.

On motion of Mr. Gardner, of the House—

The convention rose and the Senate returned to their chamber.

IN SENATE.

On motion of Mr. Poor—

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be requested to notify Hon. James Drake of his election as Senator from senatorial district No. 5, and request his attendance in this body.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the Secretary of State thereof.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

The Senate adjourned.

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1848.

Mr. Gage, from the joint select committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency the Governor, and inform him of the organization of the legislature, by leave, reported that they had attended to that duty, and that His Excellency gave no intimation that he had any official communication to make.

Hon. James Drake having been duly elected in convention, as Senator from senatorial district No. 5, and having been duly qualified, was introduced by the Secretary of State, and took his seat.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“ Mr. President—The House of Representatives are ready to meet the Honorable Senate in convention, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.”

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the Senate now meet the House of Representatives in convention, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention, in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution,

Mr. Vose, of the Senate, from the joint select committee appointed to compare and cast the votes for Governor, and to report to the convention thereon, by leave, made the following

REPORT :

The select committee appointed to open and record the votes for Governor, and to compare and cast their numbers, have attended to the duty assigned them, and instructed me to make the following report :

The whole number of votes returned, is	61,542
Necessary to a choice,	30,772
Estimated as scattering,	468
Nathaniel S. Berry has	28,829
Jared W. Williams has	32,245

and is duly elected Governor of the State of New Hampshire for the ensuing political year.

Returns were seasonably received from all the towns and places in this State, in due form, with the exception of Cambridge, Hart's Location, and Pinkham's Grant, in the county of Coos, from which no returns have been received.

The committee have instructed me to report the following resolution—

FREDERICK VOSE, for the committee.

Resolved, That Jared W. Williams, having a majority of all the votes cast, is duly and constitutionally elected Governor of this State for the ensuing political year.

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass?

It was decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Vose, of the Senate—

IN SENATE.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“ Mr. President—The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Parker of Fitzwilliam, Hale of Hollis, and Clement of Unity, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to report at what time the business of the present session may be brought to a close, in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate.”

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the above committee to report at what time the business of the present session may be brought to a close?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Mr. Poor be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

Mr. Tenney, from the select committee appointed to prepare and report rules and regulations for the government of the Senate the present year, by leave, reported for consideration the following

RULES OF THE SENATE.

1. The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present, the journal of the preceding day shall be read, and any erroneous entry shall be corrected.

2. No member shall hold conversation with another during the reading of the journal, or while a member is speaking in debate.

3. Every member rising to speak, shall address the President, and when he has finished, shall sit down.

4. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, on the same day, without leave of the Senate.

5. More than one member rising to speak at the same time, the President shall decide who shall speak first.

6. If any member transgress the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall sit down, and the Senate, if appealed to, shall decide in the case; but if there be no appeal, the decision of the President shall be conclusive.

7. No member shall absent himself, without permission, from the Senate.

8. A motion shall be seconded before it is debated, and if required by the President or any member, it shall be reduced to writing.

9. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to postpone indefinitely, to lay on the table, to postpone to a certain day, to commit or to amend, which several motions shall take precedence in the same order in which they are arranged. And no motion to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a certain day, or to commit, being decided, shall be in order at the same stage of the bill or proposition until after an adjournment.

10. If the question under debate will admit of division, any member may have it divided ; and in filling blanks, the longest time and the largest sum shall be put first.

11. When the reading of a paper is called for, and the same is objected to, it shall be decided by a vote of the Senate and without debate.

12. When the ayes and noes are required, each member shall declare his assent or dissent to the question, unless for special reasons he be excused by the Senate.

13. When a motion is made to shut the doors of the Senate on the discussion of any business, which in the opinion of any member may require secrecy, the President shall desire the gallery to be closed, and the doors shall remain closed until the subject is disposed of.

14. After a motion has been decided, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the majority, or if the Senate be equally divided, any member voting on the side prevailing, to move for a reconsideration thereof, unless the bill, resolution, report, amendment or motion, on which the vote was taken, has gone from the possession of the Senate ; but no motion to reconsider shall be in order, unless made the same day on which the vote was taken, or the next day after on which the Senate shall be in session ; but no vote shall be reconsidered when a less number of members is present than when it passed.

15. Before any petition or memorial, addressed to the Senate, shall be received and read, a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the member introducing the same.

16. At least one day's notice shall be given, before a motion for leave to bring in a bill shall be in order.

17. Every bill shall be read three times before its passage; and the President shall give notice at each time whether it be the first, second or third reading ; and no bill, after it has been read a second time, shall have a third reading before an adjournment.

18. All resolutions which may require the signature of the Governor, shall be treated in the same manner as bills.

19. When a bill shall have been read a first time and ordered to a second reading, it shall immediately be read a second time by its title, and by the President referred to the appropriate standing committee, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

20. The Senate may resolve itself into a committee of the whole at any time, on motion made for that purpose ; and in forming a committee of the whole, the President shall leave the chair and appoint a chairman to preside in committee : the President may at any time name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

21. The last question upon the second reading of a bill or resolution shall always be—Shall it be read a third time ? and no amendment shall be received or discussed on the third reading of any bill or resolution, unless by consent of eight members present ; but it shall at all times be in order, before the final passage of a bill or resolution, to move its commitment, and should such commitment take place, and an amendment be reported, the bill or resolution shall again be read a second time and considered as in committee of the whole.

22. The titles of bills and such parts thereof as may be affected by proposed amendments, shall be entered on the journals.

23. All bills, resolutions and addresses, after passing the Senate, shall be signed by the President ; and all warrants and other processes issued by order of the Senate, shall be under his hand and seal, attested by the clerk.

24. The following standing committees, to consist of three members each, shall be appointed at the commencement of any session, with leave to report by bill or otherwise : a committee on the Judiciary ; a committee on Incorporations ; a committee on Military Affairs ; a committee on Railroads ; a committee on Roads, Bridges and Canals ; a committee on Claims ; a committee on Agriculture and Manufactures ; a committee on Banks ; a committee on Elections ; a committee on Education ; a committee on Unfinished Business ; and a committee on Printers' Accounts.

25. All committees shall be appointed by the President, unless a member requests that the appointment shall be by ballot, in which case it shall be so done.

26. When the Senate shall concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of a joint committee, consisting of not more than five members of the House, one member shall be added on the part of the Senate ; but when more than five, two members of the Senate shall be added.

27. Messages shall be sent to the House of Representatives by the clerk of the Senate.

28. Messages from the Governor or House of Representatives may be received at all times, except when the Senate is engaged in putting a question, in calling the ayes and noes, in counting ballots, or in reading the journal.

29. All questions shall be put by the President, and each member of the Senate shall signify his assent or dissent by answering aye or no. If the President doubts, or a division is called for, the Senate shall divide; those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and stand till they be counted, and afterwards those in the negative shall rise and stand till they be counted. The President shall then rise and state the decision of the Senate.

30. No person except the members of the Executive, or members of the House of Representatives and their officers, shall be admitted within the bar of the Senate, except by invitation of the President, or some member with his consent.

31. The Senate shall adjourn to meet at ten o'clock in the morning and three o'clock in the afternoon of each day, unless the Senate shall otherwise order.

32. Motions to adjourn shall be decided without debate.

Which were read.

On motion of Mr. Gage—

Resolved, That the report be accepted, and that the foregoing rules be adopted for the government of the Senate the present year.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“Mr. President—The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Hadley of Weare, Gardner of Exeter, Wiggins of Durham, Sleeper of Sanbornton, Knox of Conway, Robinson of Concord, Sturtevant of Keene, Jones of Washington, Savage of Lisbon, and Thompson of Bartlett, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to wait upon His Excellency, Jared W. Williams, the Governor elect, and inform him of his re-election as Governor of this State for the coming political year, and that the legislature are ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make—in which they ask the concurrence of the honorable Senate.”

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the above joint select committee to notify His Excellency Jared W. Williams of his re-election as Governor of this State for the ensuing political year, and that the legislature are ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Messrs. Dame and Drake be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“Mr. President—The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Webster of Kingston, Hammond of Nashua, and Rix of Lancaster a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to audit the accounts of the State Treasurer, in which they ask the concurrence of the honorable Senate.”

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the above committee to audit the accounts of the State Treasurer?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Mr. Foss be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

Mr. Dame, from the joint select committee appointed to wait on His Excellency Jared W. Williams, Governor elect, and inform him of his re-election as Governor of this State for the ensuing political year, and that the legislature are ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make, by leave, reported that they had attended to that duty, and that His Excellency was pleased to reply that he would meet the legislature in the Representatives' Hall precisely at four o'clock this afternoon, accept the office, and take and subscribe the oaths prescribed by the constitution.

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the Senate do now take a recess until four o'clock this afternoon.

FOUR O'CLOCK.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“ Mr. President—The House of Representatives are ready to meet the Honorable Senate in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.”

On motion of Mr. Dame—

Resolved, That the Senate now meet the House of Representatives in convention, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention, in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, His Excellency, Jared W. Williams, Governor elect, came in attended by the Honorable Council, and escorted by committees of both branches of the legislature, and manifested his acceptance of the office of Governor of this State. He then took and subscribed the oaths of allegiance and oath of office before the President of the Senate and in presence of both branches of the legislature, whereupon Hon. Harry Hibbard, President of the Senate, made proclamation as follows :

“Jared W. Williams, having been duly re-elected Governor of the State of New Hampshire, accepted the office, and taken the oaths prescribed by the constitution, I do therefore declare that His Excellency Jared W. Williams is Governor of the State of New Hampshire, to hold the office during the ensuing political year.

And I here present your Excellency with a copy of the constitution of this State as your guide in the discharge of your official duties.”

His Excellency then made the following

ADDRESS :

*Fellow citizens of the Senate
and House of Representatives:*

In again communicating with the representatives of the people of the State, it gives me great pleasure to congratulate them on the cheering evidence of general welfare which our country exhibits. We are assembled to discharge the high trust confided to us by our constituents, at a period when our prosperity justly calls forth mutual gratulations, and the renewed homage of our grateful acknowledgments to the Supreme Ruler of the universe. Under the smiles of heaven, civilization, education and social refinement have extended, and the pure principles of morality and religion have been cherished and greatly advanced. With a population unparalleled in its increase, distinguished for its vigor, enterprise and sagacity, for its progress in wealth, and all the useful arts, we cannot fail to perceive in every section of the country, a firm and rapid improvement in all that pertains to the virtue and intelligence of the people, their means of social intercourse and intellectual elevation, and its correspondent effects on the genius of our free institutions and the laws of this extended republic. In our civil and political relations, with the exception of a single calamity, incidental to the most felicitous condition of human existence, we are tranquil and prosperous. This calamity—a war with Mexico—no spirit of forbearance or desire of peace on the part of our government, could avert, or shield our citizens from Mexican aggression.

The cardinal policy of our government, the character of our people and their institutions, are essentially peaceful. The American people endure wrongs and injuries with great patience, forbearance and magnanimity, while they can reasonably hope that amicable relations can be preserved, and just and honorable principles maintained. The total disregard of all treaty obligations on the part of Mexico, however, and her repeated injuries upon our persons, rights and property, followed by the invasion of our territory, and the shedding of the blood of our citizens, forced this war on our government, in defence of the rights of our citizens and of the honor of the nation. The duty which rests on every well regulated government, of protecting the rights of the citizens and the honor of the nation, is held sacred by every American, and regarded as essential not only to our well being, but to our existence as a nation. In the discharge of this duty, the power and patriotism of our own independent freemen have proved invincible, and demonstrated their unconquerable devotion to liberty and to the prosperity and integrity of the Union. The same pure flame of patriotism which distinguished our heroic fathers in the achievement of our national independence, burned with equal ardor and purity in the breasts of our brave officers and soldiers, and aided by the God of battles, has impelled them onward in triumph, from Palo Alto to the Halls of the Montezumas, and from one great conquest to those still greater, through a career of brilliant victories, securing the rights of our citizens and an honorable peace, and conferring immortal honors on our arms and national character. While the wisdom and energy of our national administration in directing its military achievements which have opened the way to peace, security and civil liberty, to the extension of civilization, Christianity, and free government, call forth the gratitude of every true patriot, their honest and just pride can be scarcely less gratified with the ability and success which has distinguished its civil administration and given increased confidence in our free institutions, and in our strength and capacity to defend them.

The legitimate object of a tariff is to raise revenue sufficient to defray the necessary expenses of government. This object, however, seems to have been lost sight of in the eagerness which has existed to increase the profits of capital invested in manufactures, by taxing one portion of the community for the benefit of another. Under this administration that odious system has been repealed, and a new tariff adopted, operating on all with more equal and exact justice. This tariff is designed as a revenue measure, and exempts from taxation, as far as practicable, all articles of necessary consumption, and such as do not come in competition with our own growth and manufacture, and imposes on other articles and commodities only such duty as will answer the ordinary demands of the treasury and furnish the incidental protection necessary to encourage the great interests of the country. This modification of the tariff, and the corresponding reduction of high duties by the British government on exports of grain and other agricultural products, has, without detriment to other interests, greatly increased the prosperity of our agricultural and industrial pursuits, augmented our commercial exchanges, and contributed largely to the general wealth and prosperity of the country.

The failure of banking corporations to discharge their liabilities under the law which formerly made them the keepers of the public moneys and treasuries of the government, was the occasion of great pecuniary distress, and public and private suffering. That law has also been repealed, and an independent treasury established, according to the requirements of the constitution, in which the public funds may be deposited in the safe custody of agents duly constituted by the people. This constitutional treasury, by checking excessive importations, exerts a healthy action on commerce, and by removing the public moneys from the vaults of the banks, has a most salutary influence in restraining their tendency to excessive paper issues, and in arresting those violent expansions and contractions of the paper money system which have so often involved the best interests of the country in one common calamity.

The great leading agricultural, manufacturing, and commercial interests are prosperous and flourishing, and the principles of our free government secure to all the greatest possible degree of rational liberty and happiness. Never did our happy and glorious union present so many claims to the affectionate attachment of the American people, or offer to the admiration of the world a brighter example of the successful operation of a free and popular government. Every friend of a republican government, who duly appreciates the vast superiority of our laws and institutions over those of every other government, cannot fail to exult that the example of patriotism exhibited by this republic in achieving liberty and independence, is operating with irresistible influence in removing the weight of oppressive institutions, and stimulating the people to successful efforts in the cause of freedom throughout the civilized world. The spectacle afforded by the present convulsed and agitated state of the older nations of the earth, now struggling to throw off tyrannical rule, and obtain constitutional liberty, is truly sublime, and demonstrates the purity of our political system, and the value of our free institutions. Who indeed that has a Christian heart, or the love of freedom glowing in a philanthropic breast, does not sympathize with the people of France, and desire to cheer them on in their efforts in favor of popular rights, and to congratulate them on their success in establishing a republic on the ruins of a French monarchy? Or who does not rejoice that the spirit of freedom is abroad in lands where its sighs have never before been heard, and rescuing, with its resistless energy, millions of our fellow beings from despotic power, and imparting to them the blessings which flow from our happy and free system of government?

Our government is founded on principles of justice and equity, and makes it the duty of the legislature at all times to enact laws which, in their operation and effects, shall prove as beneficial to the poor and humble as to the rich and influential. Under our free system of government, where the people are sovereign, that special legislation which furnishes facilities to one class of monopolizing the fruits of the toil and industry of another, is a violation of that natural law which entitles every man to the rewards of his honest industry, and subversive of every principle of justice, equality, and free government.

The right of the people to control corporations by amending or repealing their charters, wisely secured by the acts of our last legislature, affords the necessary power for legislative scrutiny into their condition, their means and liabilities, and cannot be surrendered without danger to our free institutions. Corporators having the control and management of the business of a corporation, should, like individuals in their business, be held liable and responsible for their control and management, and while they are permitted to divide the profits of their successful operations among themselves, should not be allowed to distribute the losses, growing out of bad management or improper speculation, among the people.

In a communication to the members of our last legislature, I called their attention to the subjects which I regarded most intimately connected with the interests of the people. Many of these subjects have been acted upon and some will be presented for your consideration with the unfinished business of that session. Notwithstanding the conviction impressed on my mind of their high importance, it is not my desire or duty to occupy your time impressing them upon your attention. An extensive and intimate knowledge of the different classes of society is necessary to enable us to carry into effect the objects and designs of government.— You are from the immediate neighborhood of your constituents, well acquainted with their condition, and are the best judges of what will promote their interests. The control, which in times less enlightened than the present, the law gave the creditor over the personal liberty of his debtor to compel him to pay his debts by the terrors or miseries of imprisonment, has been taken away by a course of legislation favorable to the poor debtor, and consistent with the liberal and humane feelings of the age. And the inquiry may now well be made by those sharing in the awakened sympathies of the people, if the time has not come when reason and sound policy, as well as humanity, will justify the exemption of a larger amount of property from attachment and execution for the relief of the poor debtor, than is now exempted by law. Oppression is the bane of honest industry and active enterprise. Arbitrary power exerted by a relentless creditor in wresting from his poor debtor his means of supporting his family and paying his debts, has no tendency whatever to facilitate the collection of his debts, and serves only to dispirit the debtor and drive him to despondency, vice and ruin.

That unfortunate class of our fellow-beings, the deaf and dumb, the blind and insane, have been materially benefitted by the appropriations made by the legislature for their relief. The means now placed at the disposal of the Executive are inadequate to the assistance of all the meritorious applicants for the State's bounty, and it is believed that an enlightened, liberal public sentiment in the cause of suffering humanity, will sustain an ardent disposition entertained by the different branches of the government, to increase these appropriations, which are recommended by every consideration of justice and the principles of religion, and to promote a charity so noble and honorable to our State character.

Reports from the Warden of the State Prison and from the State Treasurer, reflecting much credit on those officers, will be presented for your consideration during this session of the legislature—a session which a due regard to the expenditures of the State will terminate as soon as is consistent with the public interest.

The term of office of one of our Senators in Congress will expire on the 4th of March next, and it will be the duty of this legislature to elect some person to that office.

The law relating to the time of holding the election of Electors of President and Vice President of the United States should be changed, so as to conform to the law of Congress requiring that election to take place on the same day in every State in the Union.

The care and labor bestowed by our last legislature upon our militia laws was needed to remove their defects and restore the militia system to that respectable position which it deserved, and which was assigned to it by the framers of the constitution. The amendments made to these laws, and the provision engrafted on them establishing schools of instruction for officers, have imparted new life and vigor to the system, and given an honorable standing to the militia of New Hampshire. That the present militia law, containing as it does many extensive and complicated provisions, should not be found by the test of experience to need amendment in some of its minor details, cannot be reasonably expected. Any change in its general principles, however, would deprive the system of its necessary efficiency, and prove subversive of the stability of an institution on which free governments, constitutional liberty and the honor of our national character materially depend.

Among the general concerns of legislation, the constitution regards education of the first magnitude. Ignorance is unfavorable to the interests of virtue and religion, as it is to the preservation of freedom and free government. Without a knowledge of their rights, men will neither appreciate nor defend them; and while they remain ignorant of their duties, their performance cannot reasonably be expected. It is, then, one of the first duties of a legislator to extend his guardian care over our common schools, and to encourage literature and the general diffusion of knowledge. Our able Commissioners of Common Schools have labored with great fidelity and success in awakening the public mind to a sense of the importance of elevating the standard of popular education and in adopting means best calculated to promote this great object. The valuable reports of these commissioners give a full view of the progress and advancement of our system of common school instruction, which is destined to bless the rising generation, and impart fresh strength and vigor to our free institutions. To improve and perfect this system, which is to arm our youth with the knowledge and power which are to fit them for maintaining the rank and dignity of freemen, is indeed a delightful duty to the philanthropist, and the noblest object of legislation.

Our laws have been revised with great care and labor, are generally known, and have received a sound, satisfactory judicial construction, and it is the part of wisdom to permit a well-digested system of laws, which are free from those doubtful constructions that lead to litigation, to remain unchanged, till experience shall suggest defects in that system, which a due regard to the condition of society and the interests of the people require should be remedied. To your patriotism and ability, however, is wisely committed the honor and duty of legislating for the State. The people have confided to our care and protection these most vital interests, and it is our high duty to make a return of industry, care, and fidelity corresponding with the magnitude of the honor, and the responsibility of the trust. In the establishment of rules for the control of human conduct in every variety of situation and relation affecting the rights of individuals and the general prosperity and happiness, a legislator should be governed by the noblest motives which can influence the human mind. Pass . prejudice, and self-interest may sometimes misrepresent his acts and pervert his motives, and the amicable relations of mutual benefit may for a time be destroyed. But time, with that candid, dispassionate consideration which it never fails to bring, will do justice to his course and approve his official conduct ; and while in humble reliance on Divine Providence, that spirit is cherished which gave form and strength to the constitution, a conservative power will exist in the patriotism and intelligence of the people, which will shield them from the evils of disunion, and from every factious and dangerous design which can diminish the independence, degrade the dignity, or tarnish the honor of our country.

In conclusion, I cannot omit to assure you that you may rely on my cordial co-operation in all your efforts to promote the welfare of our fellow citizens, or refrain from acknowledging, with great sensibility and heartfelt gratitude, the expressions which I have received of their generous confidence and support. However inadequate may be the return for their continued cherished kindness, and whatever may be the result of my official acts, I shall ever have the unfailing consolation which is derived from a consciousness that my humble efforts have been directed by an ardent desire to discharge my duty with fidelity, and to subserve the best interests of the State.

On motion of Mr. Foss, of the Senate—

The convention rose, and the Senate returned to their chamber.

IN SENATE.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“ Mr. President—The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Woodbury of Weare, Sturtevant of Keene, and Hersey of Tuftonborough, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to prepare and report joint rules for the government of the two branches of the legislature the present year, in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate.

The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Gardner, Hadley, and Flagg, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to assign committee rooms to the several committees of the two branches of the legislature, in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate.

The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Harriman of Warner, Sturtevant of Keene, and Livingston of Westmoreland, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to procure the printing of six hundred copies of the rules of the Senate, the rules of the House, the joint rules of the Senate and House, the constitution of the State, the constitution of the United States, the names of the several members of the legislature and the officers thereof, their places of residence, their boarding-places, and the number of the seats they occupy, with a list of the standing committees of each branch, and the number of the committee room assigned to each committee—in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate.”

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the aforesaid joint select committee to prepare and report joint rules for the government of the two branches of the legislature the present year ?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Mr. Tenney be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the aforesaid joint select committee to assign committee rooms to the several committees of the two branches of the legislature?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Mr. Foss be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That that portion of the foregoing message from the House of Representatives relating to the appointment of a joint select committee “to procure the printing of six hundred copies of the rules of the Senate, the rules of the House, the joint rules of the Senate and House, the constitution of the State, the constitution of the United States, the names of the several members of the legislature and the officers thereof, their places of residence, their boarding-places, and the number of the seats they occupy, with a list of the standing committees of each branch, and the number of the committee room assigned to each committee”—be laid upon the table.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the foregoing portion of the message from the House of Representatives, relating to the appointment of a joint select committee to procure the printing of six hundred copies of the rules of the Senate, the rules of the House, the joint rules of the Senate and House, the constitution of the State, the constitution of the United States, the names of the several members of the legislature and the officers thereof, their places of residence, their boarding-places, and the number of the seats they occupy, with a list of the standing committees of each branch, and the number of the committee room assigned to each committee, be now taken up and considered.

Mr. Vose moved to amend the order embraced in the foregoing portion of the message from the House of Representatives, by adding to said order the following: “with one hundred additional copies in a separate form, of the rules of the two Houses and joint rules."

On the question,

Shall the amendment be adopted?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives therein.

Ordered, That Mr. Tenney be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

On motion of Mr. Foss—

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Tenney, from the joint select committee appointed to prepare and report joint rules for the government of the two branches of the legislature the present year, by leave, reported the following

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

1. When a convention of the two houses is to be formed, whether by requirement of the constitution, or by a vote or resolve of the two houses, a message shall be sent from the House of Representatives to the Senate, giving notice when the House will meet the Senate in convention. As soon thereafter as the convenience of the Senate will permit, they will attend in the House. The Speaker of the House shall be chairman of the convention, and shall state the reason for forming the convention. When the House and Senate are thus formed in convention, the rules adopted as the rules of the House shall be considered the rules of the convention, so far as they may be deemed applicable, and the convention shall accordingly be governed thereby.

2. Messages shall be sent by such person or persons as a sense of propriety, in each House, may determine to be proper.

3. When a message shall be sent from either House to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the house to which it may be sent, by the doorkeeper.

4. While bills are on their passage between the two houses, they shall be under the signature of the clerk of each house respectively.

5. There shall be a committee for the purpose of engrossing bills, consisting of two members of each house. All bills that pass both houses shall be delivered to said committee, be by them engrossed, carefully examined, and reported to the respective houses; and shall be signed, first by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and then by the President of the Senate.

6. There shall be a committee, to consist of three members of the House and one of the Senate, on each of the following subjects, to wit:—On all matters relative to the State Library, and on all matters relative to the State House and State House Yard.

7. When a bill or resolve which shall have passed in one house, is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the house in which the same shall have passed.

8. Each house shall transmit to the other all papers on which any bill or resolve shall be founded.

9. Each house shall transmit to the other all bills which have passed their several stages in the house in which they originated, at least twenty-four hours before the time fixed on for adjournment.

10. After each house shall have adhered to their disagreement, a bill or resolve shall be considered lost.

On motion of Mr. Drake—

Resolved, That the foregoing report be accepted, and that the joint rules as reported be adopted.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

The Senate adjourned.

SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1848.

The President of the Senate announced from the chair the appointment of the following

No. 12—by the committees on Education and on the Library.

No. 13—by the committee on Railroads.

No. 6—by the joint committee on Engrossed Bills.

No. 8—by the committee on the State House and State House Yard, and by the select committees ;

Which was read.

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass ?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof, and ask their concurrence therein.

On motion of Mr. Vose,

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to take into consideration the annual message of His Excellency the Governor, and report what disposition be made of the several subjects embraced therein.

Ordered, That Messrs. Vose, Preston and Robb be said committee.

On motion of Mr. Tenney—

The Senate adjourned.

MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1848.

LEGACY OF CATHARINE FISKE.

In pursuance of an act of the legislature, passed at the November session, 1844, the legacy of Catharine Fiske was received into the treasury in October, 1845.

The act authorizing the reception of this money, also appropriated it to the objects specified in the will of Miss Fiske.

Said will provides for the annual payment of a legacy of two hundred and fifty dollars to Eliza P. Withington, during her natural life. It further provides that after the decease of Miss Withington, further legacies shall be paid to such indigent persons as have at any time been members of Miss Fiske's school, or domestics in her family, to an amount equal to $10 per year, for each year they may have resided in her school or family, if the amount of property shall be sufficient. At the end of fifty years from the decease of Miss Fiske, the balance of the estate, if any thing remains, is to be paid to the N. H. Asylum for the Insane.

The amount received into the Treasury by virtue of the act aforesaid, was $5,419 67.

Payments have been made by virtue of said act, as follows :

1846, June 11, cash paid Eliza P. Hastings, (formerly Eliza P. Withington) annuity for 1846,	$250 00
1847, June 3, cash paid Eliza P. Hastings, annuity for 1847,	250 00

JOHN ATWOOD, Treasurer.

The clerk proceeded to read the foregoing report, when,
On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the further reading of said report, with the exception of the "Appendix," be dispensed with.

The said appendix was then read.

On motion of Mr. Tenney—

Resolved, That the foregoing report and appendix lie upon the table, and that the clerk be directed to procure one hundred printed copies of the same for the use of the Senate.

[Mr. Foss in the chair.]

On motion of Mr. Hibbard—

Resolved, That the rules of the Senate be so far suspended that he have leave at this time to introduce a bill, entitled "An act to repeal an act, entitled 'An act relating to constables;'"

Which was read a first and second time.

Ordered, That it be referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Vose, from the select committee to whom was referred the annual message of His Excellency the Governor, with instructions to report what disposition be made of the several subjects therein contained, by leave, reported the following resolution :

Resolved, That so much of the message of His Excellency the Governor, as relates to the exemption of property from attachment and execution, be referred to the standing committee on the Judiciary—so much as relates to our common school system, to the encouragement of literature and to the relief of the deaf and dumb, blind and insane, be referred to the standing committee on Education—so much as relates to the election of a senator in congress, and to the time of choosing electors of President and Vice President of the United States, to the standing committee on Elections—so much as relates to the militia, to the standing committee on Military Affairs—and so much as relates to the measures and policy of the general government, to a select committee of three.

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Messrs. Vose, Pindar and Robb be the select committee on so much of His Excellency's message as relates to the measures and policy of the general government.

On motion of Mr. Poor—

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of so amending the laws relating to granting licenses to hawkers and pedlars by the court of Common Pleas, that such licenses may be granted in vacation, and also to inquire into the expediency of further altering or amending said laws.

Mr. Vose, from the committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill, entitled "An act to repeal an act, entitled 'An act relating to constables,'" by leave, reported the same without amendment.

Ordered, That it be read a third time this afternoon at three o'clock.

On motion of Mr. Gage—

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

The Senate proceeded to the order of the day upon the bill, entitled "An act to repeal an act, entitled 'An act relating to constables.'"

Mr. Preston moved that said bill lie upon the table.

On the question,

Shall the bill lie upon the table?

It was decided in the negative.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

The ayes and noes were called for.

Those who voted in the affirmative, are Messrs. Poor, Gage, Drake, Dame, Tenney, Vose, Robb, Weeks, Hibbard—9.

Those who voted in the negative, are

Mr. Preston—1.

Ayes 9. Noes 1.

So the affirmative of the question prevailed, and the bill passed.

Resolved, That its title be as aforesaid.

Ordered, That the clerk ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives therein.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“ Mr. President—The House of Representatives are ready to meet the Honorable Senate in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.”

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the Senate now meet the House of Representatives in convention, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention, in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution,

The chairman informed the convention that the precept commanding the appearance of the town clerk of Windham, for the purpose of amending his return of votes cast for Councillor in said town at the last annual election, had been duly served and returned.

Isaac McGaw, town clerk of Windham, appeared before the convention.

On motion of Mr. Weeks, of the Senate—

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be requested to lay before the convention the return of votes for Councillor, cast in the town of Windham at the annual election in March last.

Ordered, That the clerk of the House notify the Secretary of State thereof.

The Secretary of State laid before the convention the return of votes for Councillor cast in the town of Windham, at the annual election in March last.

On motion of Mr. Weeks, of the Senate—

Resolved, That the chairman of the convention now proceed to propound such interrogatories to the town clerk of Windham as he may deem proper, and that said town clerk be required to answer upon oath to interrogatories that may be put by said chairman, or by his order.

The chairman of the convention requested that the committee to whom were referred the returns of votes for Councillors, proceed in the examination of said town clerk of Windham.

Said committee accordingly proceeded to the examination of said town clerk.

Isaac McGaw, town clerk of Windham, having been duly sworn, in reply to the following interrogatory, propounded by Mr. Weeks, chairman of said committee—

“Have you made any mistake in making up the record of the votes for Councillor, cast in the town of Windham at the annual election in March last? or have you made any mistake in your return of said votes; if so, what is that mistake?” testified that there was a mistake in the return; that the records of the town show that Joseph Clough had 54 votes for Councillor, whereas his return does not show that Joseph Clough had any votes. The record is right and the return is wrong; there should have been returned 54 votes for Joseph Clough.

On motion of Mr. Eastman of Hampstead, of the House—

Resolved, That the town clerk of Windham be permitted to amend his return, so that it may correspond with the record.

The said town clerk amended said return so as to correspond with the record.

On motion of Mr. Paige of Bradford, of the House—

Resolved, That the town clerk of Windham be discharged from further examination and attendance.

On motion of Mr. Weeks, of the Senate—

Resolved, That the clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to deposit in the office of the Secretary of State, the return as amended, of votes cast for Councillor in the town of Windham, at the annual election in March last.

On motion of Mr. Gardner, of the House—

The convention rose and the Senate returned to their chamber.

IN SENATE.

[Mr. Weeks in the chair.]

On motion of Mr. Dame—

The Senate adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1848.

Mr. Dame, from the standing committee on Unfinished Business, reported the following resolution :

Resolved, That bills with the following titles, postponed from the last session of the legislature, be referred to the committee on Banks, viz. :

Mr. Dame, from the same committee, reported the following resolution:

Resolved, That the bill with the following title, postponed from the last session of the legislature, be referred to the committee on Incorporations, viz.:

"An act to alter and amend the charters of certain corporations therein named."

On the question,

Shall the resolution pass?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Weeks, from the committee on the Judiciary, who were instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the law relating to the administering of the oath required to be taken by the clerks of courts, reported a bill, entitled

"An act in amendment of chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes ;"

Which was read a first time.

Ordered, That it be read a second time this forenoon at eleven o'clock.

The President presented the following communication from the clerk:

"To the Honorable Senate :

I was directed by the Senate of last year to serve a notice upon certain corporations named in a bill, entitled "An act to alter and amend the charters of certain corporations therein named," and which should have been organized at least thirty days before the first day of the present month, summoning them to appear before the legislature this day, for the purpose named in the order accompanying said bill, and also to cause a copy of said bill, with a copy of the order, to be published in the several newspapers authorized to publish the laws of this State on or before the first day of January last.

I have accordingly caused a copy of said bill and order to be published, and said notice to be served upon all said corporations which were organized at the expiration of the time limited, with the exception of the Union Manufacturing Company, the organization of which I was unable to ascertain, and I herewith present the certificates of said service.

JOHN H. GEORGE,

Clerk of the Senate."

Which was read.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the foregoing communication and the accompanying certificates be referred to the committee on Incorporations.

The Senate proceeded to the order of the day upon the bill, entitled "An act in amendment of chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes;"

Which was read a second time.

Ordered, That it be read a third time this afternoon at three o'clock.

[Mr. Vose in the chair.]

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

"Mr. President—The House of Representatives have passed bills with the following titles, and the following resolution, viz :

'An act in amendment of chapter twenty-eight of the Revised Statutes;'

'An act to annex school district number 6 in Fitzwilliam to school district number 6 in Troy;'

A resolution fixing on Saturday the twenty-fourth instant for the adjournment of the present session of the legislature."

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the foregoing message with the accompanying bills and resolution lie upon the table.

On motion of Mr. Hibbard—

Resolved, That the bill, entitled "An act in amendment of chapter twenty-eight of the Revised Statutes," be now taken up and considered.

The foregoing bill was read a first and second time.

Ordered, That it be referred to the committee on Elections.

On motion of Mr. Robb—

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

The Senate proceeded to the order of the day upon the bill, entitled "An act in amendment of chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes ;"

Which was read a third time.

Resolved, That it pass and that its title be as aforesaid.

Ordered, That the clerk ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives therein.

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the following resolution sent up from the House of Representatives be now taken up and considered, viz :

"A resolution fixing on Saturday the twenty-fourth instant for the adjournment of the present session of the legislature."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the passage of the foregoing resolution?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

Mr. Weeks, from the committee on Elections, to whom was referred the bill, entitled, "An act in amendment of chapter twenty-eight of the Revised Statutes," by leave, reported the same without amendment.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That the rules of the Senate be so far suspended that the foregoing bill be read a third time at the present time.

The bill was then read a third time.

Resolved, That it pass and that its title be as aforesaid.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

Mr. Gage, from the committee on Banks, to whom was referred the bill, entitled "An act to incorporate the Derry Bank," postponed from the last session of the legislature, by leave, reported the same in a new draft ;

Which was read a first time.

Ordered, That it be read a second time to-morrow forenoon at eleven o'clock.

On motion of Mr. Weeks—

Resolved, That the bill, entitled "An act to annex school district number 6 in Fitzwilliam to school district number 6 in Troy," be now taken up and considered.

Said bill was read a first and second time.

Ordered, That it be referred to the committee on Education.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

"Mr. President—The House of Representatives have on their part appointed four o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of going into the election of Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Public Printer, in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of four o'clock this afternoon, for the purpose of going into the election of Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Public Printer?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Which was read.

On motion of Mr. Vose—

Resolved, That it be referred to the committee on Military Affairs.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the foregoing resolutions sent up from the House of Representatives, viz : sundry resolutions relating to the treaty with Mexico, the tariff, and other matters pertaining to the general government ;

Which were read, and are as follows :

1. Resolved, That we congratulate our fellow citizens throughout our whole country upon the restoration of peace between the United States and Mexico : that a war forced upon us and commenced by the act of Mexico, brilliant and glorious in its progress, has terminated in a just, honorable and advantageous treaty of peace ; and that our grateful thanks are due alike to the national administration for its vigorous and energetic prosecution of the war, and to the officers and soldiers whose unconquerable courage, daring enterprise, unflinching fortitude and heroic gallantry have won imperishable glory for their country and undying renown for themselves.

2. Resolved, That the legitimate object of a tariff is to raise revenue sufficient to defray the necessary expenses of government ; that justice and sound policy, as well as the true spirit of the constitution, forbid the enactment of laws to foster one branch of industry to the detriment or neglect of another, or to favor one class or section at the expense of another class or section of our common country, and that the tariff of 1846, by conforming to those principles, has answered the legitimate purpose for which it was created, without operating injuriously upon any branch of industry, or class of people, or section of country.

3. Resolved, That the constitution does not authorize the general government to carry on a general system of internal improvement within the several States, nor to assume the debts of the States, for whatever purpose contracted, nor to distribute among the States the proceeds of the sales of the public lands.

4. Resolved, "That the separation of the moneys of the government from banking institutions is indispensable for the safety of the funds of the government and the rights of the people;" that the constitutional treasury in effecting this protects the currency and labor of the country, from ruinous fluctuations, and exerts a salutary influence upon the general business of the country.

5. Resolved, That we are opposed to a national bank, as a violation of the constitution, as hostile to the interests of the country, and as dangerous to our political institutions, to the liberties of the people, and to the business of the country.

6. Resolved, That the veto power conferred upon the President by the constitution is a highly salutary, necessary and conservative power, and should never be surrendered by the executive nor withdrawn by the people; that by its wise and opportune exercise, the country has twice been saved from the corrupt and oppressive domination of a national bank, and from a corrupting system of general internal improvement by the federal government.

7. Resolved, That the highest glory of the government and institutions of our country, is to be found in the rapid advancement of the country in the general prosperity of its various branches of industry, and in the general intelligence, prosperity, happiness and welfare of the people, in which facts are also reflected the wisdom, soundness and utility of the principles and measures of the present general administration.

Mr. Preston moved to postpone the foregoing resolutions to the next session of the legislature.

On the question,

Shall said resolutions be postponed to the next session of the legislature?

"An act in amendment of an act entitled 'An act to establish the city of Manchester,' passed July 10, 1846 ;"

A resolution in favor of Andover Academy ;

A resolution in favor of William H. Cummings and others ;

A resolution for the pay of the chaplain and furnishing books, papers and periodicals for the library of the State prison ;

A resolution in favor of Nathaniel Kingsbury ;

A resolution appropriating a sum for repairs of a road and bridge in Pittsburg ;

A resolution in favor of Ira M. Clark ;

A resolution concerning the war with Mexico, tariff, and other national affairs ;

A resolution in favor of William Fisk."

Thereupon the President of the Senate signed the foregoing bills and resolutions, they having been reported by the committee on Engrossed Bills to be correctly engrossed, and the same were delivered to said committee, to be laid before the Governor for his approval and signature.

Mr. Preston, from the committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill, entitled "An act in addition to chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the pamphlet laws, by leave, reported the following resolution :

Resolved, That the foregoing bill be postponed to the next session of the legislature.

On the question,
Shall the resolution pass?
It was decided in the affirmative.

So the said bill was postponed to the next session of the legislature.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

" Mr. President—The Speaker of the House of Representatives has signed bills of the following titles, and the following resolutions and addresses, reported to be correctly engrossed, by the committee on Engrossed Bills, to wit :

'An act to authorize the town of Bennington to elect and send a representative to the general court ;'

'An act to provide for the better instruction of youth employed in manufacturing establishments ;'

'An act to incorporate the Contoocook Valley Railroad ;'

'An act to incorporate the Amoskeag Bank ;'

A resolution for the distribution of the report of the commissioner of common schools ;

A resolution appointing William Fisk keeper of the State House and State House Yard ;

A resolution in favor of Joel Frazier ;

A resolution in favor of John F. Brown and others ;

A resolution for the purchase of chandeliers ;

A resolution relating to ordnance and military property ;

A resolution relating to the purchase of land near the State prison ;

'An act to provide for adjourned sittings, at Amherst, of the court of common pleas for the county of Hillsborough ;

'An address for the removal of certain officers ;'

'An address for the removal of an officer therein named.'

Thereupon the President of the Senate signed the foregoing bills and resolutions and addresses, they having been reported by the committee on Engrossed bills to be correctly engrossed, and the same were delivered to said committee, to be laid before the Governor for his approval and signature.

Mr. Tenney, from the committee on Incorporations, to whom was referred the bill, entitled "An act to incorporate the Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance Company," by leave, reported the same without amendment.

On motion of Mr. Tenney—

Resolved, That said bill be postponed to the next session of the legislature.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

Mr. Weeks, from the committee on Engrossed Bills, reported that they had laid before His Excellency the Governor, for his consideration, and if approved, for his official signature, all bills and resolutions reported by them as having been correctly engrossed, which have received the signature of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and of the President of the Senate, during the present session.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives by their clerk :

“Mr. President—The House of Representatives have appointed Messrs. Parker of Nashville, Kittredge of New Market, Sanborn of Hanover, Carpenter of Chesterfield, Robinson of Concord, Lane of Walpole, Goodrich of Portsmouth, Thompson of Holderness, Peabody of Franklin, a committee on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to wait on His Excellency the Governor and inform him that the business of the present session being finished, both branches of the legislature are ready to be adjourned to Wednesday, the twenty-second day of November next, in which they ask the concurrence of the Honorable Senate.”

On the question,

Will the Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of the above committee ?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That Messrs. Foss and Pindar be joined to said committee on the part of the Senate.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the House of Representatives thereof.

Mr. Foss, from the joint select committee appointed to wait on His Excellency the Governor and inform him that the business of the present session being finished, both branches of the legislature are ready to be adjourned to Wednesday, the twenty-second day of November next, by leave, reported that they had attended to the duty assigned them, and that His Excellency replied that he would send in a message by the Secretary, as soon as he had sufficiently considered the bills and resolutions now before him.

[Mr. Weeks in the chair.]

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, by the Secretary of State :

" To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

I have signed all the acts, resolutions and addresses which you have passed this session, and presented for my approval ; and having been informed by a joint committee of both branches of the legislature that you have finished the business before you, and are now ready to adjourn, by the authority vested in me, and agreeably to a resolution of the legislature, I do hereby adjourn this legislature to Wednesday, the twenty-second day of November next.

JARED W. WILLIAMS.

Council Chamber, June 24, 1848."

The President then declared the Senate adjourned to Wednesday, the twenty-second day of November next.

His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council then withdrew.

The House was called to order by L. Smith, clerk of the House last year.

On motion of Mr. Hale of Hollis—
Moses Norris, jr., was elected chairman.

On motion of Mr. Hadley of Weare—

The House proceeded, by ballot, to the choice of Speaker, and on the first balloting the chairman announced the state of the vote, as follows :

Whole number of votes cast,	263
Necessary for a choice,	132
T. J. Whipple had	1
Moses Norris; jr., had	1
George Y. Sawyer had	1
Asa Fowler had	30
Levi Chamberlain had	78
Samuel H. Ayer had	152

and Hon. Samuel H. Ayer was accordingly declared elected Speaker.

Mr. Ayer, on taking the chair, addressed the House as follows :

Gentlemen—While I return you the sincere acknowledgments of a grateful heart for the high honor your partiality has conferred, I must also express to you a distrust of my ability to discharge the important duties it involves in a manner commensurate with your generous confidence. I should shrink from a position for which I am possessed of so few qualifications, were it not for the conviction that the same generosity which induced you to elevate me to the chair, will also lead you to observe with a friendly eye the many errors I shall undoubtedly commit. Relying then upon your kind forbearance, as well as upon the aid and counsel you will not withhold, but most cheerfully afford me, I accept your trust, and can only promise you that I will bring to its discharge whatever abilities I may possess.

We are here, gentlemen, in obedience to a summons from the highest earthly authority—the sovereign people. They have entrusted us with duties among the most responsible that men are ever called upon to perform ; for they involve considerations affecting not only the interests and welfare of our immediate constituents, but, in a great measure, of generations yet unborn. Though an obnoxious law can be readily expunged from the statute book, its effects cannot be so easily effaced. Besides, the inconsiderate passing of bills by one legislature to be repealed by the next, creates such confusion that those which are in force are as little known to the great mass of the community as were the edicts of the Roman emperor, which he promulgated by posting them upon the pillars of his palace, above the reach of the public eye. It becomes us then to weigh well what we do. No act should be permitted to pass our body, without the most careful deliberation—without the fullest conviction that it will subserve the public weal. To conduct the business of the session with such fidelity, will require much labor, it is true ; but no more than a due regard to our official oaths demands—no more than a generous constituency, who have so freely entrusted their interests to our charge, have a right to expect at our hands.

And now, gentlemen, entertaining a deep sense of the responsibility under which we labor, let us proceed to the duties assigned us with all the powers of our minds and all the honesty of our hearts—let us, too, invoke the aid of that wisdom which cometh from on high, remembering that in His great hand we stand, and with His co-operation we can accomplish what feeble man alone cannot.

On motion of Mr. Burnham of Goshen—

The House proceeded to the choice of clerk.

On the first balloting, the Speaker announced the state of the vote, as follows :

Whole number of votes cast,	259
Necessary for a choice,	130
Daniel W. Quimby had	2
Thomas J. Harris had	41
Hamilton Hutchins had	62
Lewis Smith had	154

and Lewis Smith was accordingly declared elected clerk.

On motion of Mr. Fowler—

Resolved, That Thomas J. Whipple be appointed assistant clerk.

Lewis Smith and Thomas J. Whipple being present, were sworn to the faithful performance of their duties.

On motion of Mr. Kittredge of New Market—

Resolved, That information be given to the Honorable Senate that the House of Representatives have assembled, have chosen Hon. Samuel H. Ayer, Speaker, Lewis Smith, clerk, and Thomas J. Whipple, assistant clerk, and are now ready to proceed to the business of the session.

On motion of Mr. Hadley of Weare—

Resolved, That the rules of the House for the last annual session be adopted as the rules of this House, until otherwise ordered.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

“Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have assembled, have elected Hon. Harry Hibbard, President, John H. George, clerk, and Francis R. Chase, assistant clerk, and are now ready to proceed to the business of the session.”

On motion of Mr. Eastman of Hampstead—

Resolved, That when the House adjourn in the forenoon, they adjourn to meet again at three o'clock in the afternoon, and when they adjourn in the afternoon, they adjourn to meet again at ten o'clock the next morning, until otherwise ordered.

On motion of Mr. Flagg—

The House adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

On motion of Mr. Burnham—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to prepare and report rules for the government of the House the present year.

Ordered, That Messrs. Burnham, Fowler, and Hatch, be the committee.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

“Mr. Speaker—The Senate have passed a resolution adopting the joint rules of the two branches of the legislature for the year 1847, as the joint rules of the two houses for the present year, until otherwise ordered, in which they ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives.”

The House proceeded to the consideration of the foregoing resolution, which came down from the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing resolution?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

On motion of Mr. Gardner—

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to wait on His Excellency the Governor and inform him that quorums of both branches of the legislature have assembled, are organized and ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

Ordered, That Messrs. Gardner, Rix of Lancaster, Bassett, Hildreth, and Woodbury of Weare, be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof, and request their concurrence therein.

On motion of Mr. Eaton of Sandown—

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the several clergymen who are members of the legislature, and invite them to officiate as chaplains of the legislature during the present session, and that prayer be offered in the Representatives' Hall every morning at a quarter before ten o'clock, and that His Excellency the Governor, and the Honorable Council and Senate, be invited to attend.

Ordered, That Messrs. Eaton of Sandown, Wetmore, and Richardson, be the committee.

On motion of Mr. Rix of Lancaster—

Resolved, That the House are ready to meet the Senate in convention, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

On motion of Mr. Parker of Hill—

Resolved, That each member of the House be requested to leave a memorandum of his name, place of residence, boarding house, and the number of his seat, with the door-keepers, immediately after the adjournment of the House this afternoon.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

"Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that a vacancy exists in senatorial district No. 5, and that Thomas E. Sawyer and James Drake are the two highest candidates in district No. 5.

The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the passage of a resolution appointing a joint select committee to wait upon His Excellency the Governor, and inform him of the organization of the legislature, and have on their part joined Mr. Gage."

Messrs. George Clark of Manchester, John Burley of New Durham, and George W. Doe of Pembroke, members elect of the House, from said towns respectively, having been duly qualified, were introduced by the Secretary of State, and took their seats.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, the Secretary of State came in and laid before the convention the returns of votes for Governor from the several towns and places in this State, and also the returns of votes for Councillors in the several councillor districts in the State.

On motion of Mr. Fowler, of the House—

Resolved, That the returns of votes for Governor from the several towns and places in this State be referred to a committee, with instructions to open and record the same, compare and cast their numbers, and report to the convention thereon.

Ordered, That Messrs. Vose of the Senate, and Fowler and Hadley of the House, be the committee.

On motion of Mr. Woodbury of Wilmot, of the House—

Resolved, That the returns of votes for Councillors from the several councillor districts in the State, be referred to a committee, to open and record the same, compare and cast their numbers, and report thereon.

Ordered, That Messrs. Weeks of the Senate, and Woodbury of Wilmot, and Eastman of Hampstead, of the House, be the committee.

On motion of Mr. Norris, of the House—

The convention proceeded to the choice of Senator, to fill the vacancy in senatorial district number five, Thomas E. Sawyer and James Drake being the constitutional candidates.

On the first balloting the chairman announced the state of the vote, as follows:

There were six blank pieces of paper.

Whole number of votes cast,	264
-----------------------------	-----

Necessary for a choice,	133
-------------------------	-----

Thomas Sawyer had	1
-------------------	---

Thomas E. Sawyer had	97
----------------------	----

James Drake had	166

and James Drake was accordingly declared elected Senator for district number 5.

On motion of Mr. Gardner, of the House—

The convention arose and the Senate withdrew.

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Gardner, from the committee appointed to wait on His Excellency the Governor and inform him that quorums of both branches of the legislature had assembled, were organized, and ready to receive any communication he might be pleased to make, by leave, reported that they had attended to the duty assigned them, and that His Excellency informed the committee that he had no communication to make.

On motion of Mr. Sleeper—

The House adjourned.

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1848.

On motion of Mr. Parker of Fitzwilliam—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to report at what time the business of the present session may be brought to a close.

Ordered, That Messrs. Parker of Fitzwilliam, Hale of Hollis, and Clement of Unity be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof and request their concurrence therein.

Messrs. John Whicher of Wentworth and Farnum F. Lane of Walpole, members elect of the House from said towns respectively, having been duly qualified, were introduced by the Secretary of State and took their seats.

Mr. Hastings introduced the following resolution :

Resolved, That Tuesday next, at eleven of the clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the election of Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Public Printer.

Mr. Hadley moved to amend the resolution by striking out the word "Tuesday," and inserting instead thereof the word "Wednesday."

On motion of Mr. Norris—

Resolved, That said resolution be laid upon the table.

On motion of Mr. Gardner—

Resolved, That the House are ready to meet the Senate in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

On motion of Mr. Rix of Dalton—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to nominate two suitable persons for doorkeepers of the House the present year, and that they report immediately upon the coming in of the House this afternoon.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution,

Mr. Vose of the Senate, from the committee appointed to receive the returns of votes for Governor, from the several towns and places in this State, open and record the same, compare and cast their numbers, and report thereon, by leave, made the following

REPORT :

The select committee appointed to open and record the votes for Governor, and to compare and cast their numbers, have attended to the duty assigned them, and instructed me to make the following report :

The whole number of votes returned, is	61,542
Necessary to a choice,	30,772
Estimated as scattering,	468
Nathaniel S. Berry has	28,829
Jared W. Williams has	32,245

and is duly elected Governor of the State of New Hampshire for the ensuing political year.

Returns were seasonably received from all the towns and places in the State in due form, with the exception of Cambridge, Hart's Location, and Pinkham's Grant, in the county of Coos, from which no returns have been received.

The committee have instructed me to report the following resolution :

FREDERICK VOSE, for the committee.

Resolved, That Jared W. Williams, having received a majority of all the votes cast, is duly and constitutionally elected Governor of this State for the ensuing political year.

On the question,

Shall the resolution reported by the committee be adopted ?

It was decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Vose, of the Senate—

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Speaker announced the committee to nominate door-keepers to consist of Messrs. Rix of Dalton, Forsaith, and Knowlton of Stoddard.

On motion of Mr. Norris—

The House resumed the consideration of the resolution assigning a day for the election of Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Public Printer.

The question being upon agreeing to the amendment moved by Mr. Hadley,

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Norris moved further to amend by striking out the words "eleven o'clock in the forenoon" and inserting instead thereof the words "four o'clock in the afternoon."

The question being upon agreeing to said amendment,

It was decided in the affirmative.

The resolution as amended was then adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hadley—

Resolved, That a committee of ten be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to wait upon His Excellency Jared W. Williams, the Governor elect, and inform him of his re-election as Governor of this State for the ensuing political year, and that the legislature are ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

Ordered, That Messrs. Hadley, Gardner, Wiggin, Sleeper, Knox, Robinson of Concord, Sturtevant, Jones, Savage, and Thompson of Bartlett, be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

On motion of Mr. Woodbury of Weare—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to prepare and report joint rules for the government of the two branches of the legislature the present year.

Ordered, That Messrs. Woodbury of Weare, Sturtevant, and Hersey be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

Mr. Henry N. Boyden of Manchester, member elect from that city, having been duly qualified, was introduced by the Secretary of State, and took his seat.

The Speaker laid before the House a report which had been laid upon his table by Ira St. Clair, one of the Bank Commissioners.

On motion of Mr. Rix of Lancaster—

Resolved, That said report be laid upon the table.

On motion of Mr. Webster of Kingston—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to audit the accounts of the State Treasurer.

Ordered, That Messrs. Webster of Kingston, Hammond of Nashua, and Rix of Lancaster be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

“ Mr. Speaker—The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of a joint select committee to report at what time the business of the present session may be brought to a close, and have on their part joined Mr. Poor.

The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of a committee to wait upon Hon. Jared W. Williams, the Governor elect, and inform him of his election, and that the legislature will be ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make—and have on their part joined Messrs. Dame and Drake.”

Mr. Hadley, from the committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency Jared W. Williams, the Governor elect, and inform him of his re-election to the office of Governor of the State of New Hampshire for the ensuing political year, and that the legislature will be ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make, reported that they had attended to the duty assigned them, and that His Excellency would meet the two houses in convention in the Representatives' Hall, at four o'clock this afternoon, to take the oaths of allegiance and oath of office, and would at that time make a communication to the legislature.

On motion of Mr. Sturtevant—

AFTERNOON.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

“Mr. Speaker—The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of a joint select committee to audit the accounts of the State Treasurer, and have on their part joined Mr. Foss.”

On motion of Mr. Sawyer—

The House took a recess till four o'clock.

FOUR O'CLOCK.

On motion of Mr. Norris—

Resolved, That the House are ready to meet the Senate in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention, in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, His Excellency Governor Williams, the Governor elect, came in, attended by the Honorable Council, and escorted by committees of both branches of the legislature, and manifested his acceptance of the office of Governor of this State, and took and subscribed the oaths of allegiance and oath of office, before the President of the Senate, and in presence of both branches of the legislature, when the Hon. Harry Hibbard, President of the Senate, declared His Excellency, Jared W. Williams, Governor of the State of New Hampshire for the ensuing political year, and presented him with a copy of the constitution as a guide in the discharge of his official duties.

His Excellency the Governor then made to the legislature the following

ADDRESS:

Fellow citizens of the Senate

and House of Representatives:

In again communicating with the representatives of the people of the State, it gives me great pleasure to congratulate them on the cheering evidence of general welfare which our country exhibits. We are assembled to discharge the high trust confided to us by our constituents, at a period when our prosperity justly calls forth mutual gratulations, and the renewed homage of our grateful acknowledgments to the Supreme Ruler of the universe. Under the smiles of heaven, civilization, education and social refinement have extended, and the pure principles of morality and religion have been cherished and greatly advanced. With a population unparalleled in its increase, distinguished for its vigor, enterprise and sagacity, for its progress in wealth, and all the useful arts, we cannot fail to perceive in every section of the country, a firm and rapid improvement in all that pertains to the virtue and intelligence of the people, their means of social intercourse and intellectual elevation, and its correspondent effects on the genius of our free institutions and the laws of this extended republic. In our civil and political relations, with the exception of a single calamity, incidental to the most felicitous condition of human existence, we are tranquil and prosperous. This calamity—a war with Mexico—no spirit of forbearance or desire of peace on the part of our government, could avert, or shield our citizens from Mexican aggression.

The cardinal policy of our government, the character of our people and their institutions, are essentially peaceful. The American people endure wrongs and injuries with great patience, forbearance and magnanimity, while they can reasonably hope that amicable relations can be preserved, and just and honorable principles maintained. The total disregard of all treaty obligations on the part of Mexico, however, and her repeated injuries upon our persons, rights and property, followed by the invasion of our territory, and the shedding of the blood of our citizens, forced this war on our government, in defence of the rights of our citizens and of the honor of the nation. The duty which rests on every well regulated government, of protecting the rights of the citizens and the honor of the nation, is held sacred by every American, and regarded as essential not only to our well being, but to our existence as a nation. In the discharge of this duty, the power and patriotism of our own independent freemen have proved invincible, and demonstrated their unconquerable devotion to liberty and to the prosperity and integrity of the Union. The same pure flame of patriotism which distinguished our heroic fathers in the achievement of our national independence, burned with equal ardor and purity in the breasts of our brave officers and soldiers, and aided by the God of battles, has impelled them onward in triumph, from Palo Alto to the Halls of the Montezumas, and from one great conquest to those still greater, through a career of brilliant victories, securing the rights of our citizens and an honorable peace, and conferring immortal honors on our arms and national character. While the wisdom and energy of our national administration in directing its military achievements which have opened the way to peace, security and civil liberty, to the extension of civilization, Christianity, and free government, call forth the gratitude of every true patriot, their honest and just pride can be scarcely less gratified with the ability and success which has distinguished its civil administration and given increased confidence in our free institutions, and in our strength and capacity to defend them.

The legitimate object of a tariff is to raise revenue sufficient to defray the necessary expenses of government. This object, however, seems to have been lost sight of in the eagerness which has existed to increase the profits of capital invested in manufactures, by taxing one portion of the community for the benefit of another. Under this administration that odious system has been repealed, and a new tariff adopted, operating on all with more equal and exact justice. This tariff is designed as a revenue measure, and exempts from taxation, as far as practicable, all articles of necessary consumption, and such as do not come in competition with our own growth and manufacture, and imposes on other articles and commodities only such duty as will answer the ordinary demands of the treasury and furnish the incidental protection necessary to encourage the great interests of the country. This modification of the tariff, and the corresponding reduction of high duties by the British government on exports of grain and other agricultural products, has, without detriment to other interests, greatly increased the prosperity of our agricultural and industrial pursuits, augmented our commercial exchanges, and contributed largely to the general wealth and prosperity of the country.

The failure of banking corporations to discharge their liabilities under the law which formerly made them the keepers of the public moneys and treasuries of the government, was the occasion of great pecuniary distress, and public and private suffering. That law has also been repealed, and an independent treasury established, according to the requirements of the constitution, in which the public funds may be deposited in the safe custody of agents duly constituted by the people. This constitutional treasury, by checking excessive importations, exerts a healthy action on commerce, and by removing the public moneys from the vaults of the banks, has a most salutary influence in restraining their tendency to excessive paper issues, and in arresting those violent expansions and contractions of the paper money system which have so often involved the best interests of the country in one common calamity.

The great leading agricultural, manufacturing, and commercial interests are prosperous and flourishing, and the principles of our free government secure to all the greatest possible degree of rational liberty and happiness. Never did our happy and glorious union present so many claims to the affectionate attachment of the American people, or offer to the admiration of the world a brighter example of the successful operation of a free and popular government. Every friend of a republican government, who duly appreciates the vast superiority of our laws and institutions over those of every other government, cannot fail to exult that the example of patriotism exhibited by this republic in achieving liberty and independence, is operating with irresistible influence in removing the weight of oppressive institutions, and stimulating the people to successful efforts in the cause of freedom throughout the civilized world. The spectacle afforded by the present convulsed and agitated state of the older nations of the earth, now struggling to throw off tyrannical rule, and obtain constitutional liberty, is truly sublime, and demonstrates the purity of our political system, and the value of our free institutions. Who indeed that has a Christian heart, or the love of freedom glowing in a philanthropic breast, does not sympathize with the people of France, and desire to cheer them on in their efforts in favor of popular rights and to congratulate them on their success in establishing a republic on the ruins of a French monarchy? Or who does not rejoice that the spirit of freedom is abroad in lands where its sighs have never before been heard, and rescuing, with its resistless energy, millions of our fellow beings from despotic power, and imparting to them the blessings which flow from our happy and free system of government?

Our government is founded on principles of justice and equity, and makes it the duty of the legislature at all times to enact laws which, in their operation and effects, shall prove as beneficial to the poor and humble as to the rich and influential. Under our free system of government, where the people are sovereign, that special legislation which furnishes facilities to one class of monopolizing the fruits of the toil and industry of another, is a violation of that natural law which entitles every man to the rewards of his honest industry, and subversive of every principle of justice, equality, and free government.

The right of the people to control corporations by amending or repealing their charters, wisely secured by the acts of our last legislature, affords the necessary power for legislative scrutiny into their condition, their means and liabilities, and cannot be surrendered without danger to our free institutions. Corporators having the control and management of the business of a corporation, should, like individuals in their business, be held liable and responsible for their control and management, and while they are permitted to divide the profits of their successful operations among themselves, should not be allowed to distribute the losses, growing out of bad management or improper speculation, among the people.

In a communication to the members of our last legislature, I called their attention to the subjects which I regarded most intimately connected with the interests of the people. Many of these subjects have been acted upon and some will be presented for your consideration with the unfinished business of that session. Notwithstanding the conviction impressed on my mind of their high importance, it is not my desire or duty to occupy your time impressing them upon your attention. An extensive and intimate knowledge of the different classes of society is necessary to enable us to carry into effect the objects and designs of government.— You are from the immediate neighborhood of your constituents, well acquainted with their condition, and are the best judges of what will promote their interests. The control, which in times less enlightened than the present, the law gave the creditor over the personal liberty of his debtor to compel him to pay his debts by the terrors or miseries of imprisonment, has been taken away by a course of legislation favorable to the poor debtor, and consistent with the liberal and humane feelings of the age. And the inquiry may now well be made by those sharing in the awakened sympathies of the people, if the time has not come when reason and sound policy, as well as humanity, will justify the exemption of a larger amount of property from attachment and execution for the relief of the poor debtor, than is now exempted by law. Oppression is the bane of honest industry and active enterprise. Arbitrary power exerted by a relentless creditor in wresting from his poor debtor his means of supporting his family and paying his debts, has no tendency whatever to facilitate the collection of his debts, and serves only to dispirit the debtor and drive him to despondency, vice and ruin.

That unfortunate class of our fellow-beings, the deaf and dumb, the blind and insane, have been materially benefitted by the appropriations made by the legislature for their relief. The means now placed at the disposal of the Executive are inadequate to the assistance of all the meritorious applicants for the State's bounty, and it is believed that an enlightened, liberal public sentiment in the cause of suffering humanity, will sustain an ardent disposition entertained by the different branches of the government, to increase these appropriations, which are recommended by every consideration of justice and the principles of religion, and to promote a charity so noble and honorable to our State character.

Reports from the Warden of the State Prison and from the State Treasurer, reflecting much credit on those officers, will be presented for your consideration during this session of the legislature—a session which a due regard to the expenditures of the State will terminate as soon as is consistent with the public interest.

The term of office of one of our Senators in Congress will expire on the 4th of March next, and it will be the duty of this legislature to elect some person to that office.

The law relating to the time of holding the election of Electors of President and Vice President of the United States should be changed, so as to conform to the law of Congress requiring that election to take place on the same day in every State in the Union.

The care and labor bestowed by our last legislature upon our militia laws was needed to remove their defects and restore the militia system to that respectable position which it deserved, and which was assigned to it by the framers of the constitution. The amendments made to these laws, and the provision engrafted on them establishing schools of instruction for officers, have imparted new life and vigor to the system, and given an honorable standing to the militia of New Hampshire. That the present militia law, containing as it does many extensive and complicated provisions, should not be found by the test of experience to need amendment in some of its minor details, cannot be reasonably expected. Any change in its general principles, however, would deprive the system of its necessary efficiency, and prove subversive of the stability of an institution on which free governments, constitutional liberty and the honor of our national character materially depend.

Among the general concerns of legislation, the constitution regards education of the first magnitude. Ignorance is unfavorable to the interests of virtue and religion, as it is to the preservation of freedom and free government. Without a knowledge of their rights, men will neither appreciate nor defend them; and while they remain ignorant of their duties, their performance cannot reasonably be expected. It is, then, one of the first duties of a legislator to extend his guardian care over our common schools, and to encourage literature and the general diffusion of knowledge. Our able commissioners of common schools have labored with great fidelity and success in awakening the public mind to a sense of the importance of elevating the standard of popular education and in adopting means best calculated to promote this great object. The valuable reports of these commissioners give a full view of the progress and advancement of our system of common school instruction, which is destined to bless the rising generation, and impart fresh strength and vigor to our free institutions. To improve and perfect this system, which is to arm our youth with the knowledge and power which are to fit them for maintaining the rank and dignity of freemen, is indeed a delightful duty to the philanthropist, and the noblest object of legislation.

Our laws have been revised with great care and labor, are generally known, and have received a sound, satisfactory judicial construction, and it is the part of wisdom to permit a well-digested system of laws, which are free from those doubtful constructions that lead to litigation, to remain unchanged, till experience shall suggest defects in that system, which a due regard to the condition of society and the interests of the people require should be remedied. To your patriotism and ability, however, is wisely committed the honor and duty of legislating for the State. The people have confided to our care and protection these most vital interests, and it is our high duty to make a return of industry, care, and fidelity corresponding with the magnitude of the honor, and the responsibility of the trust. In the establishment of rules for the control of human conduct in every variety of situation and relation affecting the rights of individuals and the general prosperity and happiness, a legislator should be governed by the noblest motives which can influence the human mind. Passion, prejudice, and self-interest may sometimes misrepresent his acts and pervert his motives, and the amicable relations of mutual benefit may for a time be destroyed. But time, with that candid, dispassionate consideration which it never fails to bring, will do justice to his course and approve his official conduct; and while in humble reliance on Divine Providence, that spirit is cherished which gave form and strength to the constitution, a conservative power will exist in the patriotism and intelligence of the people, which will shield them from the evils of disunion, and from every factious and dangerous design which can diminish the independence, degrade the dignity, or tarnish the honor of our country.

In conclusion, I cannot omit to assure you that you may rely on my cordial co-operation in all your efforts to promote the welfare of our fellow citizens, or refrain from acknowledging, with great sensibility and heartfelt gratitude, the expressions which I have received of their generous confidence and support. However inadequate may be the return for their continued cherished kindness, and whatever may be the result of my official acts, I shall ever have the unfailing consolation which is derived from a consciousness that my humble efforts have been directed by an ardent desire to discharge my duty with fidelity, and to subserve the best interests of the State.

Executive Chamber, }
Concord, June, 1848. }

His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council then withdrew.

On motion of Mr. Hersey, of the House—

The convention arose and the Senate withdrew.

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. Sawtelle—

Resolved, That the address of His Excellency the Governor be laid upon the table, and that the clerk be directed to procure one thousand printed copies of the same for the use of the House.

On motion of Mr. Carpenter—

The House adjourned.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1848.

Mr. Burnham, from the committee appointed to prepare and report rules for the government of the House the present year, by leave, reported a series of rules for that purpose.

Mr. Sawyer moved to amend the thirty-eighth rule reported by the committee, by inserting after the words "when a bill shall have been introduced by a member upon leave," the words "or by message from the Senate."

The question being, upon agreeing to said amendment, It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Parker of Fitzwilliam moved further to amend the report of the committee by striking out the thirtieth rule reported.

The question being, upon agreeing to said amendment, It was decided in the affirmative.

The report, as amended, was then accepted, and the rules adopted as the rules of the House for the present year, and are as follows :

OF THE DUTY OF THE SPEAKER.

1. The Speaker shall take the chair at precisely the hour to which the House shall have adjourned, shall immediately call the members to order, and at the commencement of each day's session shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read.

2. He shall preserve decorum and order ; may speak on points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose ; and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House by any two members. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit : "As many as are of opinion that, (as the case may be,) say aye;" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion, say no." If the Speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the House shall divide. Those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and stand till they be counted, and afterwards those in the negative shall rise and stand till they be counted. The Speaker shall then rise and state the decision of the House.

3. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

4. All committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise directed by the House.

5. The Speaker shall designate to which of the standing committees all memorials, petitions, accounts, or other matters shall be referred, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

6. The Speaker shall vote in no case, unless the House be equally divided, or unless his vote, if given to the minority, will make the division equal ; and in case of such equal division, the question shall be lost.

7. All acts, addresses and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker ; and all writs, warrants, or subpoenas issued by order of the House, shall be under his hand and seal, attested by the clerk.

8. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries, the Speaker, or chairman of the committee of the whole House, shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

9. No person but the members and officers of the House, members of the Council, and members of the Senate, the Secretary of the State, Treasurer, and clerks of the Senate, shall be admitted within the door of the Representatives' chamber, unless by invitation of the Speaker, or of some member of the House with consent of the Speaker, except in public hearings, parties, their counsel and witnesses, under the direction of the Speaker.

10. The Speaker shall have power to substitute any member to perform the duties of the Chair, such substitution not to extend beyond an adjournment.

OF DECORUM AND DEBATE.

11. When any member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the Speaker.

12. If any member transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any other member may, call him to order; in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, and the question of order shall then be distinctly stated from the Chair; and in all cases where a member shall be called to order for uttering disrespectful words, upon the request of any member the words objected to shall be reduced to writing by the member so calling to order; after which the member so called to order may explain, and the question shall be open to debate, as in other cases, and decided by the Speaker, whose decision shall be submitted to, unless an appeal be made to the House by a member, in which case the only question shall be, "Is the Speaker's decision correct?"—which shall be decided without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, and the case may require it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House.

13. In all cases, the member first rising shall speak first. When two members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the person to speak.

14. No member shall speak more than twice to the same question, without leave of the House ; nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

15. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of or across the House ; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall entertain private discourse ; nor, whilst a member is speaking, shall pass between him and the chair ; nor shall any member leave his seat while the yeas and nays are calling.

16. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is directly interested ; or in any case where he was not present when the question was put.

17. Every member who shall be in the House when a question is put, shall give his vote, unless the House, for special reasons, shall excuse him.

18. No motion shall be debated until the same shall be seconded and stated from the chair ; and when a motion shall be made and seconded, it shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the Speaker or any member, and delivered in at the table, and read by the Speaker, before the same shall be debated.

19. No petition shall be received by the House, unless it be presented by a member thereof and upon motion made for that purpose, nor until the substance of said petition be concisely minuted, and the name of the member and town he represents, recorded upon the back thereof ; and it shall be the duty of the Speaker, whenever any motion relative to a petition is to be stated to the House, to state, in the first place, the substance of the petition, as minuted on the back thereof.

20. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, it shall be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before an amendment.

21. When any question is under debate, no motion shall be received but, 1st to adjourn ; 2d, to lie on the table ; 3d, to postpone indefinitely ; 4th, to postpone to a day certain ; 5th, to commit ; and 6th, to amend ; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged. Motions to adjourn, and lie on the table, shall be decided without debate.

22. When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon during the session.

23. Any member may call for a division of the question, when the sense will admit of it.

24. A motion for commitment, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendment to the main question; and all motions and reports may be committed at the pleasure of the House.

25. No new motion shall be admitted, under color of amendment, as a substitute for the motion under debate.

26. No vote shall be re-considered, unless the motion for re-consideration be made by a member who voted with the majority, nor unless notice of such motion be given on the same day on which the vote passed, or on the next day on which the House shall be in session, between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock.

27. When the reading of a paper is called for, and objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the House.

28. Any member may excuse himself from serving on any committee, at the time of his appointment, if he is then a member of two other committees, who have not reported.

29. Each member shall seasonably and punctually attend his duty in the House, and no one shall absent himself from the service of the House, unless he have leave, or be sick and unable to attend.

30. The Speaker shall appoint a sergeant-at-arms, whenever it may be necessary to execute the commands of the House and process issued by its authority.

OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

31. The following standing committees shall be appointed early in the June session:

A committee on Elections; a committee on the Judiciary; a committee on Banks; a committee on the State Prison; and a committee on Public Lands—to consist of ten members each.

A committee on Agriculture and Manufactures; a committee on Finance; a committee on Military Affairs; a committee on Education; a committee on Incorporations; a committee on Towns and Parishes; a committee on Railroads; a committee on Roads, Bridges and Canals—to consist of ten members each ; a committee on Unfinished Business, to consist of nine members.

A committee on Bills on their Second Reading ; a committee on Printers' Accounts ; a committee on Military Accounts ; and a committee on Claims—to consist of seven members each ; a committee on the Alteration of Names, to consist of five members.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Elections to examine and report upon the certificate or other credentials of the election of the members returned to serve in this House, and to take into consideration all such petitions and other matters in relation to elections and returns, as shall or may be presented, or come in question, and shall be referred to them by the House.

It shall be the duty of the committee on the Judiciary to take into their consideration all matters in relation to the judiciary system of this State ; to examine and report what laws have expired or are near expiring, and require to be revived or further continued, and report their opinion on all constitutional questions that may be referred to them by the House.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Banks to consider all applications for the incorporation of banks, and all subjects relating to such institutions, that may be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on the State Prison to take into consideration all matters in relation to the State Prison, to examine all reports and accounts that may be submitted by the Warden, and make such report, either by bill or otherwise, as they think the interest of the State requires.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Public Lands to consider all proposals and applications for the sale of public lands, and every matter in relation to them, that may be referred to the committee by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Agriculture and Manufactures to take into their consideration all matters concerning the agricultural and manufacturing interests of the State, and the incorporation of agricultural societies and factories, that shall be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Finance to examine and take into consideration the state of the treasury, to report what sum it may be necessary to raise as a State tax, and on every subject touching the financial interests of the State, that may be referred to them by the House.

It shall be the duty of the Military committee to consider all applications for altering or amending laws regulating the militia of this State, and for the removal of militia officers, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Roads, Bridges and Canals to consider all applications for the incorporation of turnpikes, bridges or canals, and for the alteration of tolls, and all matters relative thereto, that may be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Railroads to consider all petitions for the incorporation of railroads; for alterations; and all matters relative thereto, that may be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Education to consider all subjects relative to the regulation of school districts and schools, and all matters concerning education, that may be referred to them by the House, and report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Towns and Parishes to consider all applications for the incorporation of towns or parishes, for the alteration of town or parish lines, that may be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Incorporations to consider and report on all applications for acts of incorporation, and all other matters which may come in question relative to bodies corporate, that may be referred to them by the House, excepting those relating to towns, parishes, turnpikes, railroads, canals, banks, agricultural societies and factories.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Unfinished Business to examine and report from the journals of the last session, all such matters as were then pending and undetermined.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Bills on their Second Reading to take into consideration all bills on the second reading, that may be committed for amendment, or otherwise, and to make such report thereon as they may think expedient.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Printers' Accounts to examine and adjust all accounts against the State for printing, and every subject relating to such accounts, that may be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Military Accounts to examine, adjust and report on all accounts relative to the militia, that may be referred to them by the House.

It shall be the duty of the committee on Claims to audit, adjust and report on all accounts and claims that may be presented for allowance, except accounts for printing, military accounts, and accounts for engrossing bills.

32. All other committees shall consist of three members, unless otherwise ordered.

33. The standing committees shall attend at their respective committee rooms two hours before the meeting of the House in the morning, and at such other times as the House shall order; and no committee shall sit during the sitting of the House, unless when the Speaker shall consider it to be necessary.

34. The first named member of any committee appointed by the Speaker of the House, shall be chairman; and in case of his absence, or being excused by the House, the next named member, and so on as often as the case shall happen, unless the committee, by a majority of the number, elect a chairman. And when any committee shall report otherwise than by bill, they shall, if the subject admit of it, subjoin to their report a resolution, making such disposition of the matter committed to them as to the committee shall seem expedient.

35. Whenever it shall not be convenient for any standing committee to attend promptly to all the business which may properly be referred to it, the Speaker may, on a vote of the House to that effect, appoint an additional committee upon the same subject, to consist of the same number of members as the original committee, whose duty it shall be to take into consideration all matters in relation to that subject which shall be referred to them by the House, and to report thereon.

ON BILLS.

36. Every bill shall be introduced by motion for leave, or by an order of the House, on the report of a committee; and no bill shall be introduced by any member, (except on the report of a committee,) unless he shall have given at least one day's notice of his intention, and of the bill to be introduced.

37. Every bill shall have three several readings in the House previous to its passage; the first reading shall be for information, and thereupon, when the bill shall have been introduced by a committee, if not rejected or otherwise disposed of, a time shall be assigned for a second reading; and upon the second reading, if not rejected, or otherwise disposed of by the House, a time shall be assigned for a third reading. When a bill shall have been introduced by a member upon leave, or by message from the Senate, and read a first time, if it be not rejected or otherwise disposed of by the House, the question shall be, Shall the bill be read a second time? and, if ordered to a second reading, it shall immediately be read a second time by its title, and be by the Speaker referred to the appropriate standing committee, unless otherwise ordered by the House. No bill, after it has been read a second time, shall have a third reading until after an adjournment. The time assigned for the second and third reading of bills and resolutions shall be 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

38. No amendment shall be made, but upon the second reading of a bill or joint resolution, and all resolutions shall be in writing, with the name of the member and the town he represents, on the back thereof.

39. All bills and all votes and resolutions that are necessary to be carried to the Senate for their concurrence, may be sent by the assistant clerk.

OF COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.

40. The House may resolve itself into a committee of the whole House at any time, on the motion of a member made for that purpose; and in forming a committee of the whole House, the Speaker shall leave the chair, and a chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

41. Upon bills and resolutions committed to a committee of the whole House, the bill or resolution shall be first read throughout by the clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble of the bill to be last considered: the body of the bill or resolution shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the House. After report, the bill or resolution shall again be subject to be debated and amended by clauses, before a question to pass it to a third reading be taken.

42. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in a committee of the whole House, so far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the times of speaking.

43. No standing rule or order of the House shall be rescinded without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; nor suspended, unless by a vote therefor of two-thirds of the members present.

ORDER OF BUSINESS OF THE DAY.

44. As soon as the journal is read, the Speaker shall call for petitions from the members of the House. The petitions having been presented and disposed of, reports, first from the standing, and then from the select committees, shall be called for and disposed of. And the above business shall be done in no other part of the day, except by permission of the House.

45. The unfinished business in which the House was engaged at the last preceding adjournment, shall have the preference over all other business, except the general order of the day; and no motion on any other business, except the general order of the day, shall be received, without special leave of the House, until the former is disposed of.

Mr. Harriman of Warner submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to procure the printing of three hundred and fifty copies of the rules of the Senate, the rules of the House, the joint rules of the Senate and House, the constitution of the State, the constitution of the United States, the names of the several members of the legislature, and the officers thereof, their places of residence, their boarding places, and the number of the seats they occupy, with a list of the standing committees of each branch, and the number of the committee room assigned to each committee.

Mr. Hatch moved to amend the resolution by striking out the words "three hundred and fifty," and inserting instead thereof the words "six hundred."

The question being upon agreeing to said amendment,

It was decided in the affirmative. •

And the question being upon agreeing to the resolution as amended,

It was decided in the affirmative, and the resolution adopted.

Ordered, That Messrs. Harriman of Warner, Sturtevant, and Livingston, be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

On motion of Mr. Gardner—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to assign committee rooms to the several committees of the two branches of the legislature.

Ordered, That Messrs. Gardner, Hadley, and Flagg, be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

Mr. Rix of Dalton, from the committee appointed to nominate two suitable persons for door-keepers of the House the present year, by leave, made a report, whereupon—

Resolved, That T. A. Barker and B. A. Noyes be appointed door-keepers of the House the present year.

On motion of Mr. Eastman of Hampstead—

Resolved, That the House are ready to meet the Senate in convention for the purpose of proceeding in the elections, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

IN CONVENTION.

The Senate and House of Representatives being assembled in convention, in the Representatives' Hall, for the purpose of proceeding in the elections agreeably to the provisions of the constitution,

Mr. Weeks of the Senate, from the committee appointed to receive the return of votes for Councillors in the several councillor districts of the State, open and record the same, compare and cast their numbers, and report thereon, by leave, made the following

On motion of Mr. Foss, of the Senate—

The convention arose and the Senate withdrew.

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Hammond of Nashua moved that the House adjourn,
 And the question being put,
 It was decided in the negative.

Mr. Fowler gave notice that he will to-morrow ask leave to introduce a bill, entitled “An act to incorporate the State Bank.”

On motion of Mr. Eastman of Hampstead,
 The House adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Pierce of Hillsborough introduced the following resolutions :

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That this legislature have heard with feelings of the most profound regret, the tidings of the late death of the Hon. John Quincy Adams.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the friends of humanity every where, in the common sorrow for this melancholy event, which has transferred from our midst the profound statesman, the distinguished philanthropist and patriot, whose decease, now in the maturity of his years and his glory, falls upon us as a great national bereavement, and throws a whole people into deep and general mourning.

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be requested to communicate a copy of these resolutions to the surviving family of the deceased.

On motion of Mr. Pierce of Hillsborough—

Resolved, That said resolutions be laid upon the table.

Mr. Hale of Hollis gave notice that he will to-morrow ask leave to introduce a bill, entitled "An act in amendment of 'An act to establish the city of Manchester, passed July 10, 1846.' "

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

" Mr. Speaker—The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of a joint select committee to prepare and report joint rules for the government of the two branches of the legislature the present year, and have on their part joined Mr. Tenney."

The following further message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

" Mr. Speaker—The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the adoption of an order appointing a joint select committee to procure the printing of six hundred copies of the rules of the Senate, the rules of the House, the joint rules of the Senate and House, the constitution of the State, the constitution of the United States, the names of the several members of the legislature and the officers thereof, their places of residence, their boarding places, and the number of the seats they occupy, with a list of the standing committees of each branch, and the number of the committee room assigned to each committee, with the following amendment, to wit : by adding 'with one hundred additional copies in a separate form of the rules of the two houses and joint rules,' in which they ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives—and have on their part joined Mr. Tenney."

The question being upon concurring with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing amendment,

On motion of Mr. Hatch—

Resolved, That the question of concurrence be laid upon the table.

Mr. Eaton of Sandown, from the committee appointed to invite the several clergymen, members of the legislature, to officiate as chaplains during the present session, by leave, reported that they had attended to the duty assigned them, and those gentlemen had accepted the invitation, and would enter upon the discharge of their duties to-morrow morning at a quarter before ten o'clock.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

“ Mr. Speaker—The Senate concur with the House of Representatives in the appointment of a joint select committee to assign committee rooms to the several committees of the two branches of the legislature, and have on their part joined Mr. Foss.

The Senate have adopted the joint rules for the government of the two houses for the present year, reported by the joint committee appointed for that purpose.”

On motion of Mr. Hatch—

The House resumed the consideration of the question of concurrence with the Senate in the adoption of their amendment in relation to the appointment of a committee to procure the printing of the rules of the two houses.

Mr. Fowler moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of their amendment, with the following amendment: at the close of the Senate's amendment add the words, “ with Washington's farewell address.”

And the question being put,

It was decided in the negative.

The question recurring,

Will the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of their amendment?

It was decided in the negative.

So the House non-concurred with the Senate in the adoption of said amendment.

Ordered, That the clerk notify the Senate thereof.

Mr. Woodbury of Weare, by leave, made the following report :

The joint select committee appointed to prepare and report joint rules for the government of both branches of the legislature the present year, have instructed me to report the following :

WM. WOODBURY, for the committee.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

1. When a convention of the two houses is to be formed, whether by requirement of the constitution, or by a vote or resolve of the two houses, a message shall be sent from the House of Representatives to the Senate, giving notice when the House will meet the Senate in convention. As soon thereafter as the convenience of the Senate will permit, they will attend in the House. The Speaker of the House shall be chairman of the convention, and shall state the reason for forming the convention. When the House and Senate are thus formed in convention, the rules adopted as the rules of the House shall be considered the rules of the convention, so far as they may be deemed applicable, and the convention shall accordingly be governed thereby.

2. Messages shall be sent by such person or persons as a sense of propriety, in each house, may determine to be proper.

3. When a message shall be sent from either house to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the house to which it may be sent, by the doorkeeper.

4. While bills are on their passage between the two houses, they shall be under the signature of the clerk of each house respectively.

5. There shall be a committee for the purpose of engrossing bills, consisting of two members of each house. All bills that pass both houses shall be delivered to said committee, be by them engrossed, carefully examined, and reported to the respective houses ; and shall be signed, first, by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and then by the President of the Senate.

6. There shall be a committee, to consist of three members of the House and one of the Senate, on each of the following subjects, to wit : on all matters relative to the State Library, and on all matters relative to the State House and State House Yard.

7. When a bill or resolve which shall have passed in one house, is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the house in which the same shall have passed.

8. Each house shall transmit to the other all papers on which any bill or resolve shall be founded.

9. Each house shall transmit to the other all bills which have passed their several stages in the house in which they originated, at least twenty-four hours before the time fixed on for adjournment.

10. After each house shall have adhered to their disagreement, a bill or resolve shall be considered lost.

On motion,

Resolved, That said report be accepted, and the rules adopted on the part of the House as the rules for the government of the two houses for the present year.

On motion of Mr. Locke—

The House adjourned.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Commissary General to the Adjutant of the State, which had been laid upon his table by the Adjutant General, with a request that the same may be laid before the House :

“PORTSMOUTH, N. H., JUNE 10, 1848.

TO JOHN WADLEIGH, Esq., Adj. Gen'l N. H. Militia—

Sir—From a sense of duty, I would respectfully represent to you some particulars relative to the present condition of the property of the State, now under my charge. Time, in its ravages, has not neglected to attack the more perishable material of the State Arsenal; the water spouts and conductors attached to the building have yielded to its attacks, and have become totally useless, new spouts and conductors are therefore absolutely required, as well for the preservation as for the convenience of the building.

I am induced also to make another representation not only for the preservation of the property, but from opinion that less expense will be necessary to keep the State property in suitable order for immediate use, to wit : all the small arms now in this depot remain packed in boxes, from the fact of there being no more convenient place for them ; the consequence is, they more readily become unfit for immediate use, from the dampness which must attend such articles thus deposited. I would therefore, for the interest of the State property, respectfully suggest the propriety of having suitable racks constructed round the interior of the building, for the purpose of containing the small arms now on deposite.

I would also here remark that the present building having no glazed windows, renders it necessary to be closed a great portion of time, during which time, by the acquisition of glass windows, the admission of the sun's rays, although at intervals, would have a direct tendency to remove a large portion of the dampness which now attends it.

Respectfully, yours,

DAVID MOULTON, Commissary Gen'l."

On motion of Mr. Parker of Fitzwilliam—

Resolved, That it be referred to the committee on Military Affairs.

On motion of Mr. Danforth—

Resolved, That the use of the Representatives' Hall be granted to Hon. Henry Wilson of Massachusetts, next Tuesday evening, for the delivery of an address upon the proceedings and result of the recent national whig convention at Philadelphia.

On motion of Mr. Norris—

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of increasing the number of the judges of the superior court to five, and abolishing the offices of circuit judges, and fixing the salaries of the judges of said superior court and of the attorney general.

On motion of Mr. Lane of North Hampton—

Resolved, That the Committee on Agriculture and Manufactures be instructed to inquire into the expediency of passing a special act for the better protection of cranberry meadows.

On motion of Mr. Kittridge of Canaan—

Resolved, That the rules of the House be so far suspended that he have leave to introduce a bill at the present time.

Mr. Kittridge of Canaan accordingly introduced a bill, entitled "An act relating to meeting houses;"

Which was read a first and second time.

Ordered, That it be referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

On motion of Mr. Fellows of Andover—

Resolved, That when the House adjourn this forenoon, it adjourn to meet again on Monday next at three o'clock in the afternoon.

On motion of Mr. Loverin—

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the law relative to the support of paupers, and that they report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Kittridge of Canaan, agreeably to previous notice and by leave, introduced a bill, entitled "An act relating to embankments in the Connecticut river ;"

Which was read a first and second time.

Ordered, That it be referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

On motion of Mr. Simpson—

Resolved, That a committee be appointed on the part of the House, with such as the Senate may join, to fix upon a day to which the present legislature may adjourn.

Ordered, That Messrs. Simpson, Parker of Fitzwilliam, and Simonds of Warner, be the committee on the part of the House.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

On motion of Mr. Norris—

Resolved, That the rules of the House be so far suspended that all bills and resolutions which had been ordered to a second reading this forenoon at eleven o'clock, and not then read, be in order for a second reading at the present time.

The House accordingly proceeded to the consideration of the bill, entitled "An act to incorporate the New Hampshire Central Railroad."

On motion of Mr. Norris—

Resolved, That the rules of the House be so far suspended that the bill be read a second time by its title.

Said bill was then thus read a second time.

On motion of Mr. Fowler—

Resolved, That the bill be laid upon the table.

The House proceeded under the foregoing suspension of the rules, to the consideration of bills with the following titles and the following resolutions, to wit :

"An act relating to school districts in the town of Pittsburg ;"

"An act to incorporate the East Jaffrey Fireman's Company ;"

"An act to amend the act passed 25th Dec. 1844, rendering railroad corporations public in certain cases and constituting a board of railroad commissioners ;"

A resolution appropriating the sum of one thousand dollars for repairing a road and bridge in the town of Pittsburg;

A resolution authorizing and requesting His Excellency the Governor to cause a survey and plans to be made of such part of the public land in the town of Pittsburg as he may think expedient, and also to appoint an agent to sell the same ;

A resolution making an appropriation for the purchase of a chandelier to be placed in the Representatives' Hall ;

Lancaster Bank,	50,000 00	33,692 00	97,959 01
	<hr/> $2,088,000 00	<hr/> $1,514,417 00	<hr/> $3,613,746 77

The above banking capital is distributed among the several counties as follows, viz: Rockingham, $653,000; Strafford, $375,000; Belknap, $50,000; Hillsborough, $300,000; Merrimack, $180,000; Cheshire, $300,000; Sullivan, $80,000; Grafton, 100,000; Coos, $50,000.

It may throw some light upon the present position of our banks, and upon the policy we ought to pursue in reference to banks and banking, to refer to some statistics in reference to the number, capital, and condition of our banks hitherto. Such facts of this kind, as can readily be collected, are embraced in the following table. The periods for which these statements are made up, are the months of May, from 1824 to 1836, and of June, for the years subsequent to 1836:

Years.	No. of Banks.	Capital paid in.	Circulation.	Loans.
1824	11	1,067,050	527,727	1,479,351
1826	17	1,742,650	860,583	2,425,539
1829	17	1,691,670	685,246	2,329,169
1830	21	2,103,675	765,797	2,728,164
1831	21	2,065,310	1,107,901	2,915,439
1832	22	2,176,422	1,128,091	3,216,159
1833	22	2,178,308	1,238,643	3,390,826
1834	24	2,454,308	1,063,145	3,450,820
1835	25	2,555,008	1,347,124	3,805,383
1836	25	2,663,308	1,526,112	4,601,701
1839	28	2,939,508	1,439,519	4,524,626
1840	27	2,837,505	1,088,750	4,099,612
1841	26	2,735,000	1,229,708	3,859,853
1843	24	2,469,200	916,147	3,173,325
1844	19	2,008,298	1,021,914	2,760,009
1845	17	1,745,778	1,112,192	2,821,163
1846	17	1,558,000	1,189,962	2,750,113
1847	19	1,890,000	1,512,071	3,406,045
1848	21	2,088,000	1,514,417	3,613,746

It will be seen by the above, that during the last ten years the capital of our banks has increased $530,000, and their loans, $860,000 ; and that those loans bear a larger proportion to their capital, than in any year included in the above statement. The desire to raise money to invest in railroad enterprises, and to buy stocks, resulting partly from the fall in the prices of the one, and partly from the excitement in behalf of the other, has converted the lenders of money into borrowers, and the capitalists of other States even, in some instances, into profitable customers of banks in our own. That business men have sometimes been pushed aside, in their pursuit after bank accommodations, by this new competition, of larger operators—of men who seldom borrow, save when the rates of interest are high—is very probable. And the result is, that while many of our banks have been earning from nine to eleven per cent. from their enlarged loans, there are numerous individuals to be found who desire a large increase of banking capital, on the ground that loans are not to be had. An extension of our banking capital, which would leave to borrowers, under circumstances like the present, nothing to desire, might create an amount of liabilities, and of paper currency, too extensive to be safe, and too inflated and unstable to be at all consistent with sound credit or the public welfare. It is the duty of the legislature, therefore, carefully to inquire, how far the banking capital of the State may be extended by additional charters, and to take into one view the condition of our banking system as it exists, and the applications, now very numerous, for its extension.

Several of our banks have by their charters the power of increasing their capital at pleasure, and to an aggregate amount of about $860,000. Three banks in Strafford county alone, are thus empowered to add to their capital the large sum of $325,000. Your committee unanimously recommend that all banks hereafter chartered be limited to a fixed capital, so that the question of its increase may be left where it belongs, with the legislature, to be determined by it, whenever it shall be raised, as sound policy shall dictate.

None of the banks in this State appear, from any information before the committee, to have violated the laws which regulate the amount of their circulation, and none of them appear to be in such a condition as to afford any grounds to apprehend a loss to the holders of their bills.

Several of the banks appear to have neglected to make the proper returns to the assessors of public taxes, in reference to the ownership of their stock.

The cashier of the Ashuelot Bank was at the time of the examination by the commissioner, indebted to that bank, in violation of law, in the sum of $400. This is the only instance of the kind in the State; if it occurred in wilful disregard of the law, it cannot be too severely censured, and if it resulted from misapprehension, cannot be too promptly corrected.

In several instances, the directors of banks are indebted, illegally, to an amount greater than one-half the amount of their stock. Isaac Riddle, director of the Manchester Bank, upon $4500 stock, is indebted as principal and surety, $2600; Abner Merrill, director of the Granite Bank, is indebted as surety, $1797, and owns $1950 in stock. All the directors of the Lancaster Bank, except one, are indebted more than the law allows. Charles S. Faulkner, director of the Cheshire Bank, owns $6000 in stock, and is indebted $1000 in his individual capacity and $7,323 as one of the firm of Faulkner & Colony, which also owns $6000 in stock. Sumner Wheeler, director of the Ashuelot Bank, is similarly indebted, to an illegal amount, if the liability of the firm to which he belongs is to be regarded as his own, within the meaning of the law. In the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, "no director is in any way indebted, except as endorser of bills of exchange." To what extent this indebtedness extends does not appear, but the provision of the Revised Statutes making an exception in its favor was repealed, June session, 1843. The Winchester Bank has less than the legal number of directors, seven having been chosen, and three having declined that trust.

For further and more particular information in reference to the condition of our banks, the committee refer to the abstract of their returns, as they existed on the first Monday of June, 1847, and to the reports of the several bank commissioners, returned with and made a part of this report.

To the reports of the bank commissioners, also, the committee refer for information in reference to the condition and management of the several savings banks in this State. All which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES M. RIX, for the committee.

On motion of Mr. Rix of Lancaster—

Resolved, That said report be laid upon the table, and the clerk be directed to procure three hundred and fifty printed copies of said report, and the accompanying reports of the bank commissioners, for the use of the House.

Which was read a first time.

Ordered, That it be read a second time this forenoon at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Hatch, from the committee on the Judiciary, to whom were referred sundry petitions for an amendment of the charter of the city of Manchester, and sundry remonstrances against the granting the prayer of said petitions and the bill, entitled "An act in amendment of an act, entitled 'An act to establish the city of Manchester,' passed July 10, 1846," reported the same with the following amendments :

In the seventh line of the eighth section, strike out the word "Monday," and insert instead thereof the word "Wednesday."

In the sixth line of the ninth section, after the words "issue a warrant," insert the words "in each of said towns," and by striking out the word "such," in the eighth line of the same section and insert instead thereof the word "each."

Which amendments were severally adopted.

Mr. Cross moved further to amend the bill, by striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting the following :

"SEC. 1. That an act entitled 'An act to establish the city of Manchester,' passed July 10th, 1846, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. All the rights, immunities and privileges belonging to the town of Manchester, before the passage of the act aforesaid, establishing the city of Manchester, be and the same are hereby restored to said town, and the same is constituted and established a town, with all the rights and liabilities of other towns in this State.

SEC. 3. The said town shall succeed to all the rights, not inconsistent with a town organization, and be liable to all the debts of the city of Manchester.

SEC. 4. All taxes assessed by said city shall be paid the same as if this act had not passed, and all officers now holding office under the city organization, shall be considered officers of the town, and hold their said offices until other officers are chosen in their respective places.

SEC. 5. There hereby is established within the town of Manchester, a police court, to consist of one learned, able and discreet person, to be appointed and commissioned by the Governor, pursuant to the constitution, to take cognizance of all crimes, offences and misdemeanors, committed within the town of Manchester, whereof justices of the peace now have, or may hereafter have, jurisdiction.

And the court hereby established shall hear and determine all suits, complaints and prosecutions, in like manner as is by law provided for the exercise of the powers and authority which are or may be vested in justices of the peace ; and do all acts necessary to, and consistent with, such powers and authority.

And the said police court shall also have original jurisdiction and cognizance of all suits and actions which may now, or at any time hereafter, be heard, tried and determined before any justice of the peace in the county of Hillsborough ; and no writ, in any such suit or action, shall be made returnable before any justice within said town of Manchester, but to said police court only ; and an appeal shall be allowed from all judgments of said police court, in like manner, and to the same extent, that appeals are now allowed by law from judgments of justices of the peace ; and the justice of said police court shall not be of council or attorney to any party in any matter or thing whatsoever, which may be pending in said court.

All warrants issued by said court, or by any justice of the peace within said town, shall be made returnable, and be returned before, said court ; and if any warrant shall be issued by any justice of the peace, returnable before said court, the lawful fees, payable therefor, shall not be paid or allowed, unless, on the examination in hearing before said court, it shall appear to said court that there was just and reasonable cause for issuing said warrant ; in which case such fees, costs and charges shall be allowed and taxed in like manner as though said warrant had been issued by a justice of the peace, according to the law now in force.

All fines and forfeitures, and all costs in criminal prosecutions, which shall be received by or paid into the hands of the justice of said court, shall be by him accounted for and paid over to the town of Manchester, in the same manner, and under the same penalties for neglect, as are by law prescribed in the case of justices of the peace ; and all costs in such prosecutions, not thus received, shall be made up, taxed, certified and allowed, and shall be paid and satisfied in like manner as provided by law in cases of justices of the peace.

A court shall be held by said justice, at some suitable and convenient place, to be provided at the expense of said town of Manchester, on two several days of each week, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, and as much oftener as may be necessary, to take cognizance of crimes, offences and misdemeanors ; and one day in each fortnight, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, and may be adjourned from day to day by the justice thereof, and at such other times as may be necessary, for the trial of civil suits and actions ; and the justice of said court shall, from time to time, establish all necessary rules for the orderly and uniform conducting of the business thereof.

The justice of said court shall account for, and pay over, to the town of Manchester, all fees by him received, or which now accrue to justices of the peace in civil actions and criminal prosecutions, and the said town of Manchester shall pay annually the sum of five hundred dollars in full compensation for all services assigned to him by the provisions of this act.

The justice of said court shall keep a fair record of all proceedings in said court, and shall make return to the several courts of all legal process, and of his doings therein, in the same manner as justices of the peace are now by law required to do; and he shall also annually, in the month of January, exhibit to the selectmen of Manchester a true and correct account of moneys by him received as fees.

All suits, actions and prosecutions, which shall be instituted and pending before any justice of the peace within the city of Manchester when this act shall take effect, shall be heard and determined as though this act had not been passed.

There shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the council, two special justices of said court; and whenever it shall happen that the standing justice of said court shall be interested in any suit or prosecution, cognizable in said court; or shall from any cause, be unable to hear and determine any matter or thing pending therein, the cause shall be assigned on the record by the standing or special justice, and the court shall be held, and its jurisdiction exercised, by one of said special justices.

And the said special justice shall be paid for the services by him performed, three dollars each day.

SEC. 6. This act shall be void, unless the inhabitants of the city of Manchester, at a legal meeting called by the mayor and aldermen for that purpose, within sixty days after the passage of this act, shall by a majority of the legal voters present and voting thereon, in their respective wards, determine to adopt the same, and if this act is adopted, the present city authorities shall forthwith call a meeting of the legal voters and choose all necessary town officers."

After debate, before the question was put,

JARED W. WILLIAMS.

Council Chamber, June 20, 1848."

On motion of Mr. Fellows of Andover—

Resolved, That said message, with the accompanying document, be laid upon the table.

The following further message was received from His Excellency the Governor, by the Secretary of State:

To the Senate and House of Representatives :

I herewith transmit the annual reports of the Railroad Commissioners, exhibiting the condition of the several railroads in this State.

It will be seen by the reports, that the Franklin and Bristol railroad has been leased by the Northern railroad company, and it is contended by the directors of the last named road, that the lease is authorized by a provision in the Revised Statutes, chap. 142 sec. 10, which is as follows: "Any railroad corporation may contract with any other railroad corporation, for the transportation of freight or passengers, and the conducting of all business connected therewith, on their road." If such be the correct construction of the section referred to, it would seem that some further legislation was necessary upon this point, or some one of our railroads may obtain, in this way, the entire control, direction and management of all the railroads in the State.

I would call the attention of the legislature to that part of the commissioners reports relating to the Boston and Maine railroad. The facts set forth by the commissioner, warrant the conclusion that this railroad company has assumed powers not granted them by the legislature of this State.

JARED W. WILLIAMS.

Council Chamber, June 20, 1848."

On motion of Mr. Parker of Fitzwilliam—

Resolved, That said message from His Excellency the Governor, with the accompanying reports, be referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Ordered, To be read a third time to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

[The Speaker resumed the chair.]

Mr. Kittridge of Canaan introduced the following resolutions :

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That this legislature, in common with the people of this State, rejoice in the assurance they have that the war between the United States and the republic of Mexico is brought to a close by the ratification by both nations of a treaty of peace.

Resolved further, That in as much as by said treaty of peace, a large tract of territory is to be acquired by the United States which is now free—that the provisions of the Wilmot proviso, so called, have become of increased importance, and that our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to use their utmost exertions that human slavery shall not be permitted to exist therein while it remains a territory of the United States.

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be requested to furnish to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress a copy of these resolutions.

Mr. Clement of Unity, moved that the resolutions be laid upon the table.

So the further consideration of said bill was indefinitely postponed.

On motion of Mr. Norris—

The House proceeded to the consideration of the special order of the day for this hour, four o'clock in the afternoon, being the consideration of the bill, entitled "An act in amendment of an act, entitled 'An act to establish the city of Manchester,' passed July 10, 1846."

The question being upon agreeing to the amendment moved by Mr. Cross, to strike out all after the enacting clause, and inserting a new bill, and being put,

Mr. Norris called for a division of the question.

The question being first taken on striking out,

The yeas and nays were demanded.

Yeas 115, nays 144.

So the negative of the question prevailed, and the House refused to strike out all after the enacting clause of said bill, and said amendment was rejected.

Mr. Cross moved to amend the bill by striking out a part of the tenth section.

The Speaker decided that it was not in order now to move to strike out any portion of the bill, the House having once refused to strike out the whole.

Mr. Lane of Walpole moved to amend the bill by adding the following at the end of the last section :

"And provided further, That this act shall be adopted by a majority of legal voters, of said city of Manchester, voting at a meeting to be holden for that purpose on the last Tuesday of September next; and the mayor and aldermen are required to call a meeting of the legal voters of said city for that purpose, on said last Tuesday of September, in manner and form prescribed by law in other cases.

No one objecting, and the question being put upon agreeing to said amendment,

Mr. Lane of Walpole demanded the yeas and nays.

Yeas 84, nays 130.

So the negative of the question prevailed, and the House refused to lay said bill upon the table.

Mr. Cross moved to amend the bill by adding to one of the sections a proviso, that "no officer in that section named should receive any compensation for his services."

Mr. Norris raised a question of order—that the House having once refused to strike out the whole bill except the enacting clause, had thereby agreed to it as it was, and no amendment to the body of the bill was now in order.

After debate—

The Speaker decided that the motion of Mr. Cross was not in order.

Mr. Sawyer appealed from the decision of the chair to the House.

Upon the question,

Is the Speaker's decision correct?

Mr. Sawyer demanded the yeas and nays.

Mr. Hatch, from the committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred a resolution in relation to the salary of the register of probate for the county of Rockingham, reported a bill, fixing the salary of said register at six hundred dollars per annum ;

Which was read a first time.

Ordered, That it be read a second time this forenoon at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Hatch, from the same committee, to whom was referred the bill, entitled "An act to alter and amend the charters of certain corporations therein named," reported the same with the following amendment: in the preamble to the bill, strike out the words, "the last June session of the legislature," and insert instead thereof the words, "the session of the legislature in June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-six."

The question being put upon agreeing to said amendment, It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Chamberlain moved further to amend the bill by striking out the whole of the preamble.

And the question being put upon agreeing to said amendment,

It was decided in the negative.

Mr. Fowler moved that the bill be laid upon the table.

The question being put upon agreeing to said motion,

Yeas 120, nays 147.

So the negative of the question prevailed, and the House refused to lay said bill upon the table.

Mr. Fowler moved the following resolution :

Resolved, That the further consideration of the bill be postponed to the adjourned session, and that the clerk of this House give notice to all corporations chartered between June session, 1834, and June session, 1846, whose charters contain provisions similar to those of the corporations enumerated in this bill, requiring notice previous to an alteration, amendment or repeal thereof, to appear at said adjourned session and shew cause why their charters should not be amended in the same way and manner as the charters of the corporations enumerated in this bill are proposed to be amended.

The question being put upon agreeing to said resolution, Mr. Fowler demanded the yeas and nays.

Yeas 117, nays 137.

So the negative of the question prevailed, and said resolution was rejected.

Mr. Gardner moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the further consideration of said bill be postponed to the adjourned session of the legislature, and that the mayor and aldermen of the city of Manchester be directed to insert an article in the several warrants calling the meetings for the choice of Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, in the several wards of said city in November next, to take the sense of the legal voters upon the following question—"Is it expedient that the bill, now pending before the legislature, in amendment of the charter of the city of Manchester, become a law?"—and the votes in the affirmative and negative of said question shall be counted, declared, recorded and returned by the proper officers in the several wards to the clerk of the city of Manchester, who shall, on or before the first day of the adjourned session, make return thereof to the Secretary of State.

The question being put upon agreeing to said resolution, Mr. Gardner demanded the yeas and nays.

ushua,
ille,
ille, Mr. Fellows of Andover, from the select committee to whom was referred so much of the address of His Excellency the Governor as relates to our national affairs, reported the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That we congratulate our fellow-citizens throughout our whole country upon the restoration of peace between the United States and Mexico: that a war forced upon us and commenced by the act of Mexico, brilliant and glorious in its progress, has terminated in a just, honorable and advantageous treaty of peace; and that our grateful thanks are due alike to the national administration for its vigorous and energetic prosecution of the war, and to the officers and soldiers whose unconquerable courage, daring enterprise, unfaltering fortitude and heroic gallantry have won imperishable glory for their country and undying renown for themselves.

2. Resolved, That the legitimate object of a tariff is to raise revenue sufficient to defray the necessary expenses of government; that justice and sound policy, as well as the true spirit of the constitution, forbid the enactment of laws to foster one branch of industry to the detriment or neglect of another, or to favor one class or section at the expense of another class or section of our common country, and that the tariff of 1846, by conforming to these principles, has answered the legitimate purpose for which it was created, without operating injuriously upon any branch of industry, or class of people, or section of country.

3. Resolved, That the constitution does not authorize the general government to carry on a general system of internal improvements within the several States, nor to assume the debts of the States, for whatever purpose contracted, nor to distribute among the States the proceeds of the sales of the public lands.

4. Resolved, "That the separation of the moneys of the government from banking institutions is indispensable for the safety of the funds of the government and the rights of the people;" that the constitutional treasury in effecting this protects the currency and labor of the country, from ruinous fluctuations, and exerts a salutary influence upon the general business of the country.

5. Resolved, That we are opposed to a national bank, as a violation of the constitution, as hostile to the interests of the country, and as dangerous to our political institutions, to the liberties of the people, and to the business of the country.

6. Resolved, That the veto power conferred upon the President by the constitution is a highly salutary, necessary, and conservative power, and should never be surrendered by the executive nor withdrawn by the people; that by its wise and opportune exercise, the country has twice been saved from the corrupt and oppressive domination of a national bank, and from a corrupting system of general internal improvements by the federal government.

7. Resolved, That the highest glory of the government and institutions of our country, is to be found in the rapid advancement of the country, in the general prosperity of its various branches of industry, and in the general intelligence, prosperity, happiness and welfare of the people, in which facts are also reflected the wisdom, soundness and utility of the principles and measures of the present general administration.

Yeas 113, nays 106.

So the affirmative of the question prevailed, and said amendment was agreed to.

The question being put upon agreeing to said resolution as amended,

It was decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Fellows of Andover—

The House resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on Education, upon the resolution granting one of Carrigain's maps of New Hampshire, and Dr. Jackson's Geological Report, the pamphlet laws of the State, and the journal of the Senate and House of Representatives, to Andover Academy.

The committee reported a resolution postponing the further consideration of said resolution to the June session of the legislature, A. D. 1849.

Mr. Fellows of Andover moved to amend the report of the committee so that said resolution be reported to the House without amendment.

The question being put upon agreeing to said motion, It was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the resolution be read a third time.

On motion of Mr. Fellows of Andover—

Resolved, That the rules of the House be so far suspended that the resolution be read a third time at the present time.

Said resolution was then read a third time.

Resolved, That it pass.

Ordered, That the clerk request the concurrence of the Senate therein.

The following message was received from the Senate by their clerk :

"Mr. Speaker—The Senate have passed sundry resolutions relating to the services of Brig. Gen. Pierce and others, officers and soldiers, citizens of this State, in the war with Mexico, in which they ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives."

Said resolutions were as follows :

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That this legislature entertain a high and grateful sense of the bravery and patriotism of Brig. Gen. Franklin Pierce, as displayed in his participation in the conduct of the recent war with Mexico.

Resolved, That in the name and behalf of the people of New Hampshire we tender to Gen. Pierce, and also to Major Bliss, to Capts. Cady, Rowe, Bowers, and Dana, to Lieuts. Kendrick, Whipple, Foster, Potter, Pierce, Jackson, and to other brave officers and soldiers from this State, our sincere thanks for their gallantry and distinguished services in that war.

Resolved, That we tender our sincerest sympathy and condolence to the relatives and friends of the late Lieuts. Daniels and Smith, and of our many other gallant sons who have fallen in Mexico.

The question being put upon concurring with the Senate in the passage of said resolutions,

It was decided unanimously in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Fowler submitted the following resolutions:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That while this legislature is disposed faithfully to adhere to all the compromises of the constitution, and to maintain all the reserved rights of the States, we do not hesitate to declare, since the crisis has arrived when that question must be met in establishing territorial governments over the former provinces of Mexico recently annexed to the Union, our uncompromising hostility to the extension of slavery into territory now free.

Resolved, That our delegation in both houses of Congress be requested to use their influence to procure the incorporation of the principles of the Wilmot proviso into any bill which may be presented in their respective bodies, for establishing territorial government in any portion of the recently acquired free soil of our country.

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be requested to furnish each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress with a copy of these resolutions.

Mr. Kittredge of New Market moved that said resolutions be laid upon the table.

Yeas 33, nays 213.

So the negative of the question prevailed, and the House refused so to postpone the further consideration of said resolutions and proposed amendment thereto.

Mr. Hatch moved to amend the amendment by adding at the close of the first resolution the following words: "and that we will support no man for President at the next Presidential election, who is a slaveholder."

The question being put upon agreeing to said amendment to the amendment,

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Fowler moved further to amend the amendment by inserting after the word "President," the words "or Vice President."

The question being put upon agreeing to said amendment to the amendment,

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Lane of Walpole moved further to amend the amendment by adding at the close of the first section of the same, the words "or who is not in favor of the Wilmot proviso."

And the question being put upon agreeing to said amendment to the amendment,

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Hazelton moved further to amend the amendment by adding a proviso in relation to General Taylor, which, after some discussion, was withdrawn by the mover.

The question being put upon agreeing to the amendment as amended,

It was decided in the negative.

So said amendment was rejected.

On motion of Mr. Parker of Fitzwilliam, made by leave of the House—

Resolved, That when the House adjourn this evening, it adjourn to meet again at five o'clock to-morrow morning.

Mr. Kittredge of New Market moved that the House do now adjourn.

The question being put upon agreeing to said motion,

It was decided in the negative.

So the House refused to adjourn.

Mr. Goodrich moved that the resolutions be laid upon the table.

Mr. Parker of Nashville, from the committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency the Governor, and inform him that the business of the present session had been brought to a close, and that both branches of the legislature were ready to be adjourned to Wednesday, the twenty-second day of November next, by leave, reported that they had attended to the duty assigned them.

Mr. Sleeper submitted the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a sergeant-at-arms, with instructions to procure the immediate attendance of the absent members of this House.

Mr. Parker of Nashville moved to amend the resolution by striking out the word "immediate," and adding at the close thereof the words, "on the twenty-second day of November next."

The question being put upon agreeing to said amendment, It was decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Woodbury of Wilmot—

Resolved, That said resolution be laid upon the table.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, by the Secretary of State :

" To the Senate and House of Representatives :

I have signed all the bills, resolutions and addresses which you have passed at the present session of the legislature and presented for my approval, and having been informed by a committee of both branches of the legislature that you have brought the business of the present session to a close, and are now ready to be adjourned to the twenty-second day of November next, I do therefore adjourn the legislature to the said twenty-second day of November next.

JARED W. WILLIAMS.

Council Chamber, June 24, 1848."

The Speaker then declared the House adjourned accordingly.

REPORTS

OF THE BOARD OF VISITORS, TRUSTEES, AND SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW HAMPSHIRE
ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE,
JUNE SESSION, 1848.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF VISITORS.

---

To the Hon. the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of New Hampshire :

The Board of Visitors have lately visited the Asylum, and made an examination of the condition of the patients and the general management of the institution.

From the inspection made, they are satisfied that the patients are skilfully and kindly treated by the Superintendent, and that such attentions are bestowed upon them by him and his assistants, as their situations would seem severally to require. A commendable degree of order and cleanliness is observable throughout the various apartments of the building, and a strong desire is clearly evinced to render the condition of the inmates as comfortable as possible.

The appropriation made by the legislature last year, for the maintenance of the indigent insane, has been applied as directed by the legislature, and has been the means of continuing in the institution many who must have otherwise been deprived of the benefits of the treatment they have there received.

The farm connected with the Asylum seems to be well managed, and is a source of considerable profit. It already supplies a large portion of the hay, grain and vegetables required by the Asylum, and at prices much lower than the same could be purchased in the market, thus doing much towards keeping the board of the patients at the very low rate at which it is now established.

After an attentive examination of the condition of the Asylum, the Board returned, satisfied of the present prosperity of the institution, and confident that its managers were disposed to do all in their power to advance its interests and carry out the original design of its founders.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

To the Hon. Legislature of the State of New Hampshire :

The Trustees of the New Hampshire Asylum for the Insane, respectfully present this, their

SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Trustees of the N. H. Asylum for the Insane, are happy, in submitting their report for the year 1847-8, to congratulate the friends of the institution upon its continued prosperity. Nothing has occurred during the year just ended, to darken in any measure its prospects, and a high degree of success has attended the efforts made to meliorate the condition of those who have sought relief within its walls. The number of patients under treatment has been greater than during any former year of its existence, and its halls have been continually filled.

By reference to previous reports made to the legislature it will be seen that the whole number of patients at the Asylum during the first year, was..... 76

2d year,..... 151

3d " ..... 158

4th " ..... 174

5th " ..... 187

6th " ..... 192

From this it appears that there has been a gradual but constant increase from the first opening of the Institution, in 1842, to the present time. This has not been sudden or extraordinary, but such an one as an increasing appreciation of the design and utility of the Asylum, among the people of the State, would be likely to produce.

The greatest number of patients at any one time at the Asylum, during the past year, has been one hundred and fourteen, while the present number is one hundred and nine.

During the same period, twenty have been discharged, very greatly improved, and twenty-nine have returned to their friends fully restored.

The receipts of the Asylum during the past year have exceeded those of the year previous, eight hundred and thirty-six dollars and ninety-seven cents.

By our last year's report, it appears that the amount of cash on hand, May 31, 1847, was $107 02

By the accounts, books, and vouchers of the Superintendent and Treasurer, it appears that there has been received during the past year, for board of patients, and from other avails, 11,231 04

Total receipts to May 31, 1848,..... $11,338 06

There has been expended during the same time, for labor, provisions, wood, and other necessities for the support of patients, together with the payment of last year's debts, of more than five hundred dollars, .....	11,229 93

Cash on hand, May 31, 1848, .....	$108 13
Due for board of patients, on ledger, estimated good, .....	$2,337 90
Notes collectable, .....	183 60
Total, .....	$2,629 63
There is due from the Asylum, as estimated, ..	497 86
Deduct the same from the amount of available funds on hand, and it leaves a nominal balance in favor of the Asylum, of.....	$2,131 77
The nominal amount of the funds of the Asylum reported last year, was .....	$2,603 68

The history of the Asylum, thus far, has been such as to warrant the friends of the insane, who labored long and earnestly for the establishment of an institution where that unfortunate class of our people might receive such treatment as their dreadful maladies most imperiously demanded, in congratulating themselves upon its entire success. Their most sanguine expectations have been more than realized, and New Hampshire now can boast of an Asylum which maintains a highly respectable stand among the first in other States. The amount of good already done is great, but the amount yet to be done, the future only can determine.

Previous to the opening of the Asylum, the condition of the insane in this State was lamentable. Some few, whose friends were aware of the success attending the treatment of the insane at Asylums in other States, and were both willing and able to incur the expense of their maintenance at such institutions, received the benefits of the treatment they afforded. By far the greater portion, however, remained at home, and at poor houses, confined in chambers, in garrets, in out-houses, and in some instances even in cellars and cages. No enlightened and systematic course of management was pursued, and their restoration to reason was not attempted. They were merely restrained and left in cruel neglect, to suffer in solitude the terrors and the wild hallucinations of their insanity. But we are happy to say a more enlightened and humane sentiment now prevails, and the benefits of Asylum treatment have been both seen and realized. The merits of a public hospital for the insane have been fully tested and fairly proved. It is no longer regarded as an experiment. The old practice of solitary confinement and neglect has been condemned as pernicious and cruel.

A lively interest has been felt throughout the country during the last fifteen years in the condition of the insane, and much time and attention has been devoted to the discovery of the most successful manner of treating diseases of the mind. A systematic and enlightened practice now prevails, and insanity is regarded in the great majority of instances as a curable malady. But the work of a complete restoration is generally one requiring considerable time.—The mental faculties, when once disordered, are not wont to recover their former soundness in a brief period. Not only months, but in many cases years even, are necessary to effect a complete cure. This fact, although generally known perhaps, is but partially appreciated. As a consequence, the Trustees have found it no uncommon thing for the friends of a patient, after having placed him at the institution, to grow impatient of his recovery after a few months have passed and wrought but little apparent change. Despairing of his restoration, the patient is not unfrequently removed, and that too when his malady has actually begun to yield to the means employed. Very many, there is reason to believe, have been thus prematurely removed from this and other institutions, and have afterwards become hopelessly insane, whose recovery had actually commenced, and bid fair to have been certain, could they have remained a short time longer under the treatment they were receiving.

The experience of the past year has confirmed in a good degree, the doubts for some time past entertained by the Trustees, as to the size of the present Asylum building.—As before stated, there have been, during a part of the last year, no less than one hundred and fourteen patients at the Asylum. This is a greater number than can be accommodated without considerable inconvenience. Every room in the building is, in fact, filled by ninety-six patients, there being but six halls and sixteen rooms connected with each hall. Whenever, therefore, there happens to be a hundred or more to be accommodated, the managers of the institution are compelled to violate the original design of its founders, and in some instances to place two patients in a single room. This is by no means desirable, and rarely done, unless, as in the present instance, necessity renders it imperative; for the good of the patients requires, that each should have the sole occupancy of a room. It is also requisite for their successful treatment, that they should be classified, and that the different classes should be kept distinct, in separate halls.—In the N. H. Asylum, the male patients, divided into three classes, occupy the north wing of the building, and the female patients, divided in a similar manner, occupy the south wing. As the different classes seldom contain equal numbers, some portions of the building are frequently more than filled, when the whole number of patients is less even than the number of rooms.

If the past history of the Asylum is in any degree indicative of the future, there is good reason to suppose that the applications for admission the coming year will be more numerous than its managers will be able to comply with.—Under the circumstances, it has appeared to the Trustees, there were but two ways in which to meet the difficulty. One was, to close the doors of the institution against all who may apply after its halls are once filled; the other, to enlarge it, by such additions as may be sufficient for the accommodation of all who desire to avail themselves of the benefits of its treatment. They are very slow to believe, that the gentlemen of the legislature would entertain for a moment the idea of adopting a course like the first; but that they will give the matter their early consideration and take such measures as the exigency of the case may in their view demand, is their very earnest desire. The Asylum has already become an honor to the State and a blessing to many of its citizens. Humanity would seem to require that it should not only be sustained, but that it should also be enlarged, and to such an extent, that it answer fully the design of its institution. In thus sustaining and enlarging it, New Hampshire will but be pursuing the same course that neighboring States have already adopted. The Insane Asylum at Worcester, Mass., when first erected, was capable of accommodating but about one hundred patients. It has, however, from time to time, been so far enlarged, as to now afford ample accommodations for more than four times that number.

The grounds connected with the Asylum have been considerably improved during the past year. An arrangement has been effected with one of the railroad companies, whose road terminates at Concord, for removing the hill immediately north of the buildings, without expense to the Asylum, and a large portion of the work is already completed. When finished, an uninterrupted prospect will be opened to Pleasant street, and the convenience and beauty of the grounds greatly increased. The farm has also been rendered more productive, and is now, for the most part, in an excellent state of cultivation. It is fast becoming of very great importance to the Asylum, and the amount of hay, grain and vegetables produced the past year considerably exceeded that of any former year.

The Trustees, in closing the report now submitted, take pleasure in expressing their full confidence in the success of the Asylum under the management of its very able and intelligent Superintendent, Dr. M'Farland, to whose assiduous care and efficient skill its prosperity for the last few years, while he has been at the head of the institution, is to be mainly attributed.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

Sixth Annual Report of the Superintendent, to the Trustees of the N. H. Asylum for the Insane :

GENTLEMEN—

Another year has been added to the history of the N. H. Asylum for the Insane. During the year the proof of its necessity, and its full appreciation by the public, has been attained. For the entire year mostly filled with inmates, and now occupied to its utmost capacity, the period has arrived, when all who have entertained scruples as to the expediency of making the care of the insane a special object of public charity, will acquiesce in the wisdom of the legislation, by which it has been designed, established, and fostered.

Scattered in the remote districts of the State, and secluded from the eye of the public, it is not a subject of surprise that the hand of benevolence has been comparatively slow in raising them to the degree of mental and physical comfort which the most abject are capable of attaining. As the eye rests on so many now concentrated within the scope of its observation, the call of helplessness more quickly catches the open ear of philanthropy.

In detailing the affairs of the institution for the past year, much that has hitherto been laid before the Board and the public, will be omitted, as being unnecessary from frequent repetition, and while the undersigned will endeavor to comply fully with the statute, by laying open its curative results and its fiscal condition, attention will be more particularly directed to those specialties respecting insanity, that are usually looked for, because no where else found, in the reports of institutions for the insane.

The condition of those who now to a great extent fill the Asylum, is indicative of the tendency of this Institution, in common with those of every State in the Union, to become filled with the incurable, a class, whose total exclusion from hospitals for the insane, humanity forbids. Although the comparatively large proportion of such cases now in our wards is in itself melancholy, it is yet a happy indication that a spirit is abroad in the community which forbids the abandonment of these to a condition of neglect.

The timely appropriation of a small sum by the last legislature for the support of the insane poor, has been the means of retaining under treatment many whose necessitous condition would have otherwise demanded their removal. Several of these have joined their friends, as is believed, fully recovered, and many others remain, the recipients of the same bounty.

In fact, the condition of the indigent insane, whose malady is of long standing, is one that calls loudly upon public and private charity.

When an individual becomes insane, the idea of sending him to an asylum is usually suggested by some of the many whose advice is proffered with more zeal than true philanthropy. The trial may be made then, or it may be deferred by the recital of some of the many tales of unjust treatment, which always attach themselves to such institutions. It may be deferred to the point when recent insanity becomes chronic, when the diseased mental action becomes the natural, when all the faculties of the mind become warped and fitted to the deranged condition of some of the perceptions, as the muscles, ligaments, and blood vessels of the long misplaced joint accommodate themselves to the new relation of parts, and thus the mental machinery moves on, jangling and jarring, it is true, but irrecoverable, because the manifestations of insanity have become nature itself.

Insanity in such a phase is usually incurable. Cases of chronic insanity are reported as cured, it is true, in every report that reaches us, where statistics are given at length, but too often, if the individual thus discharged and reported recovered, could be traced to his home, would he exhibit in the delicate relations of parent and husband, many indications that the work of cure was but ill perfected.

He may be sent to an asylum when the disease of his mind is yet recent, but then how delicate the task of its attempted restoration! The surgeon who attempts the re-union of the broken bone, has a far less perplexing task to effect the juxtaposition of its dissevered parts, and yet with what scrupulous care does he confine the limb in its fixed receptacle, how strenuously does he insist upon quiet, how measured and careful all the necessary movements of his patient, and yet his task has not a tithe of the difficulty that invests the attempt to recover and re-adjust the fragments of a mind in ruins!

A thousand accidental or unavoidable influences may thwart the best directed efforts, or there may be an hereditary predisposition, so strong, that it is the natural tendency of the ill balanced mind to swerve from the track at a particular age, or a certain stage of its development, or some whim or caprice on the part of a guardian or friend may remove the patient from treatment when hope is just at its dawn, and thus the period for successful medication passes, and chronic derangement exists. If the circumstances of the individual permit, other measures are taken. Change of scene, a voyage at sea, amusements, and all that the anxiety of friends or the racked brain of ingenuity can suggest, are unavailingly tried, and all concerned finally acquiesce in an affliction which forethought could not avert, or skill remove.

The subject now assumes a more strictly moral aspect. As an individual, the unfortunate subject is dead. His estate is sequestered, his moral agency gone; others must think and act for him, and in his relation to society he is supposed to have no will of his own.

When the kindly sympathies which are reflected from one intelligent mind to another have become dim, and one of the mutually dependent minds has lost its moral existence, it requires no long time to decide which of the parties, in the selfish warfare that ensues, shall be "driven to the wall." It is in vain that wronged humanity lifts her voice at the outrage; it is undeniable, that the arm of the law becomes necessary, to guarantee to the sufferer the rights that he may justly demand from his own kind.

If the individual at the time of his seizure, was in the possession of a competency for his future maintenance, much of the gloom of his case vanishes, but if otherwise, his misfortune is accounted his crime, and a lot is often meted out to him, more to be dreaded than the doom of the malefactor. The presence of his friends, whose designs he suspects, and whose motives he questions, soon develop the worst tendencies of the insane mind. He becomes irascible, then dangerous. Instead of being soothed by those who fully comprehend his malady; brute force must be used in doing what has not been attempted by systematic kindness. Is the individual likely, under such circumstances, to improve mentally? Can he fail even to lapse into the condition of a brute, when all that separates the human mind from brute instinct, is dying within him for the want of culture? It is found easier to manage him in the strong cell, or within the sweep of his chain, and he sinks into forgetfulness, except when selfishness annually knocks him off to the lowest biddings of cupidity!

The case may wear a different aspect. It may be marked by no excitability, the individual may be harmless towards others, one of the class—

"That needful food
Though press'd with hunger oft, or comlier dress
Though pinch'd with cold, asks never."

Perhaps with reason enough to preserve the outward decencies of life, he wanders from place to place, a disturber of public assemblies, conspicuous around courts of law in prosecution of imaginary claims, mailing vexatious and unmeaning communications, the jeer of boys, and the wanton sport of boys of larger growth, his case is hardly less cheerless than that of his fellow sufferer, whom the alarm of the public has decreed dangerous.

Now such is believed to be, with hardly an exaggeration, the condition of the incurably insane, who are shut out by the accidental misfortune of indigence from the shelter which in this age of light should be afforded to those whom afflictive Providence has inscrutably smitten; and when the official guardians of this Institution shall pass through its wards, and behold many faces made familiar by former visits, they will doubtless concur, that although they may have drunk deeply of bitterness, yet kindly charity is mingling many of her sweets in their cup.

It is not to be inferred, however, that the incurably insane should be immured in an asylum without exception. Such a measure should only be resorted to when the welfare of the individual, or the protection of the public safety demand it. But from the comparative infancy of institutions for the insane in this country, the whole subject would seem to demand some statutory provision, that the commission of the insane to the Asylum, and their reception and detention, should be provided for, and yet limited, by sufficient restrictions, to guard against abuses, for it cannot be supposed that the insane in this country will be exempted from the evils which in older communities have demanded much parliamentary inquiry, and strict penal legislation. The mental vigor of many of even the incurably insane enables them to take care of themselves, and their moral sentiments are so unimpaired that they can respect the rights of others.

By the N. H. Revised Statutes, chap. 9, sec. 11, the Judge of Probate is empowered to commit to the Asylum, after proper hearing, any insane person "who is in such a condition as to render it dangerous that he should be at large." That this provision has not met the exigency contemplated in the Statute, is evident, as not more than two persons have been committed to the Asylum for the past three years by this court.

That the Statute has not been more fully operative, is mainly owing to the limited meaning allowed to the word dangerous.

Experience of the most painful kind has repeatedly taught the lesson, that it is by no means those whose mental manifestations exhibit the most insanity, who are most dangerous to be at large, and so long as this view is entertained, it must remain, that the power of the Statute will only be invoked after acts of violence. Another view of the subject, it is conceived, should be taken, as a case in point may show.

Several years since, there was admitted into the Asylum a young female, who had been twelve years insane. For six years she had not stood erect, and had spent that dismal period in a cage six feet square. She had lost part of one foot by being frost-bitten, and her knees had become fixed by the contraction of the muscles, so that they were in constant contact with her breast. Although entirely crippled, she was committed as a person dangerous to be at large. Here the view was obviously taken, that her being at large was dangerous to herself, and the decision of the court, while in no degree unjust, was highly humane, the Statute being the most available means, under existing circumstances, of placing her where, although incurable, her situation might be made comparatively comfortable.

These remarks respecting the condition of the incurably insane are made in the belief that this State, more than any other in which a State Institution exists, abounds with lunatic vagrants, whose natural or legal guardians take few measures to protect the public from the dangerous consequences of their being at large, and although public sentiment is presumed to be averse to depriving such friends or guardians of the right to take care of the insane in any way that their circumstances or inclination may prescribe, still, this report but anticipates the time, which must inevitably come, when existing Statutes must receive a new construction, or new provisions made to arrest a growing evil.

In the two preceding annual reports of the Asylum, the causes of insanity have been commented upon at some length, that being the most interesting point in the investigation of the subject.

The views therein expressed, are confirmed by the experience of each successive year. While all proper prominence in the scale is given to physical causes, such as ill health, intemperance, &c. &c., the unusual proportion of cases where no adequate cause could be adduced, is striking, and sufficient to carry the conviction, that much must remain obscure, till more light is thrown upon the phenomena of the mind in its normal state, and its subtle relations to the corporate system.

If the physician is foiled in the attempt, in the investigation of disease of the body, to establish the relation of cause and effect to the certainty of demonstration, he is yet able to predict with some confidence the organs which will suffer from any given breach of the laws of Hygiene. That exposure to Miasmata will produce intermittents, excess at the table, gout, atmospheric vicissitudes, rheumatism, and the various Phlegmasiae, experience has long taught, and so under the control of research are the various ills of the physical system, that even the modus operandi of the several causes of disease may be traced through the line of diseased action. Not so the laws which preside over diseased mind. No a priori reasoning can be admitted in the investigation; no certain effects can be produced from a given class of causes. It is no unusual thing for those made insane from causes particularly depressing in their nature, to exhibit the highest exhilaration in their insane manifestations, and vice versa. Devotional exercises may totally engross the attention of the lunatic, and religion may have had nothing to do in the production of the insanity. The emperors, knights errant and queens, to be found in every lunatic hospital, are as frequently from classes of society where no hopes of political preferment could be supposed to exist. This fact essentially detracts from the value of the causes of insanity, as given by those who commit friends to the Asylum, and so marked is the disposition to seize upon some accidental bias, which the insane mind exhibits in its waywardness, and dignify as a cause what is merely the exhibition of an effect, that, with many who have written upon the subject, I confess that all the data thus obtained, either at this or any other Asylum, are to be received with extreme caution, if not viewed as nearly valueless.

It will be seen by the above table, that a large proportion of the cases admitted have been put down as arising from causes unknown. In many of these cases, some cause was given by those under whose direction the commitment to the Asylum was made, but on subjecting the alleged cause to a more strict examination, it appeared as a mere accidental concomitant of the pre-existing insanity, and it also appeared that more than half the cases, so registered, exhibited a strong hereditary predisposition to insanity, becoming, as it would appear, a strong reason for placing hereditary predisposition among the actual causes of insanity. One lady was admitted during the past winter, from the investigation of whose case it appeared that traces of insanity had manifested themselves in the family for five generations, and no less than one hundred and fifty individuals of the family line had been thus deranged.

Now when the elements, from whose inscrutable workings mental alienation arises, are perpetually existant in the constitution of an individual, it needs nothing worthy of being adduced as a cause, to throw such subtle materials into operation.

There are also few other points which have been brought within the statistics of insanity, that are not equally fallacious and unsatisfactory. So difficult is it to determine the exact point where insanity begins, that the duration of the disease is often as loosely defined as the cause, and the same difficulty obtains in tabularizing recoveries. As tables made up from the records of institutions for the insane, are of use only as data from which may be deduced the relative value of different varieties of treatment, they lose much of their importance, in view of the difficulties that environ all attempts at keeping such records, with even tolerable precision.

This is deemed a proper time and place to record a skepticism as to the value of the system of forming tables, or rather the want of system, in making important deductions, and establishing infallible per centages, from extremely loose and insufficient premises, and all now engaged in the treatment of the insane, appear to be simultaneously arriving at the same conclusion; that before making further investigations, a strict inventory must be taken of our actual knowledge upon the subject, before claiming anything like mathematical precision in setting forth the results of treatment.

The internal management of the Asylum has been the same, which, since its establishment, has been deemed best adapted to secure the accomplishment of its great object. It has been our happy fortune for the past three years to record no instance of suicide, nor any accident where the life of any individual has been jeopardized. Although these are but negative evidences of successful management, they are pleasing reflections to those who have, during that period of time, been subjected to the keen solicitude which probably no other employment can, in an equal degree, produce. How perfectly the design of the Institution has been accomplished during the past year, your monthly visits at the Asylum bear their own record. Made at unexpected periods, and under circumstances calculated to lay open to your observation all the minutiae of treatment and domestic economy, no marked deficiency could fail to pass uninspected. Some defects, only to be remedied by architectural changes, have been specially noticed by successive visiting members of the board. These, with the lack of some other necessary architectural conveniences, will be brought more fully before your notice.

Some expenditures will become necessary during the ensuing year, in providing warming fixtures for the south wing of the building: The furnace which has been in use since the first opening of the Asylum, has now become unfit for further service. Since this Institution went into operation, much attention has been paid by those interested in the subject, in devising some better method for warming Asylums for the Insane, and hospitals generally, than the old hot air furnace which was most in use at that time. So much of the comfort, health, and consequent success of a curative institution, depends upon the uniformity of its temperature, and the respirability of the heated atmosphere introduced, that the subject becomes one of grave importance. That an atmosphere warmed before being introduced into the halls, by passing over steam or hot water pipes, is best on all accounts, is unquestionable; but whether the means of the Institution will justify the expenditure attending that method of warming, admits of doubt.

In closing this portion of the Superintendent's report, mention should be made of the happy effects resulting from a small appropriation made by the last legislature, for the support of the insane poor. The receipt of dividends from this fund, made by His Excellency the Governor, has continued under medical treatment many who must otherwise, from straitened pecuniary resources, have been prematurely removed from the Asylum. About sixty have been thus added, many of whom are now restored, as we trust and believe, to the enjoyment of reason. There can be no more legitimate objects of charity than the insane. Benefactions granted them, always yield a harvest of rich and tangible effects; they are a largess that cannot fail of being gathered by those for whom they are intended; they are a bounty, the almoners of which are always accountable. The numbers who will, for the ensuing year, enjoy the benefits of the institution, will largely depend upon the continuance of this appropriation.

It will be remembered, by recurring to former reports, that in the year 1844, an appropriation of $5,000 was made by the legislature, for the erection of a building for the furiously insane, and to pay the then existing debts of the institution. After erecting the proposed building, and paying the debts, there remained a balance in favor of the Asylum, in 1845, of..... $2,673 05
Deducting the balance now due, of..... 2,131 77

There remains a deficit in three years, of..... $541 28

When it is considered that the Asylum has, during that time, added annually to the value of its lands by high cultivation, and largely to its stock, furniture, fixtures, and even buildings to, within limits, three times this deficit, it will be perceived that all has been done from the regular receipts of the institution, that could be desired, or is even just; for it is hardly right, that avails from the often scanty means of patients, should accumulate in the form of permanent public property.

That the Asylum may remain in operation many years, without a demand for public aid, (extraordinary additions excepted,) is undoubted.

Its public necessity is acknowledged and the demand for its benefits will, as a natural consequence, sustain its financially independent existence. But something more is expected. It must keep pace with the active march of improvement. It must do all for the insane that the spirit of the age demands.

There is but one item of current expenditure in which an addition appears necessary. The compensation of the nurses, assistants and attendants is not sufficient to secure the constant services of those fully faithful and competent. Those persons to whom is committed a high trust, should be selected with especial care, and when trained to the delicate duties of their station, should feel that their situation is valuable; and thus it will be permanent. So long as the compensation is below that obtained at railroads, factories, &c., those persons best adapted, seek more lucrative and less responsible stations.

Some portion of the power which directs an asylum for the insane must be delegated to subordinates. These persons are the more immediate companions, curators and advisers of the patients. If ever abuses exist in an asylum for the insane, they arise from the employment of attendants and assistants not suited to duties calling into exercise the higher qualities of the mind and heart. The expense attending the enlargement of the compensation of this class of persons, will be well repaid by securing those of high qualifications, and making as perfect as possible the internal police of the institution; for small compensation and rigid discipline are contradictory in their operation.

The bathing conveniences of the Asylum have never been fully sufficient to comply with the wants of such an institution. The only bathing room is chiefly used for other purposes. A bath room should be attached to each hall. If remote, the use of such an important hygienic agent is too apt to be resorted to less frequently than it is really demanded. The difficulty which has heretofore existed in respect to the supply of water for the Asylum, we hope will be removed by the use of an hydraulic apparatus to elevate water from the stream about three hundred feet in the rear of the buildings. Should the measure now being put in operation prove successful, sufficient water will be obtained to supply the present deficiency. If bathing rooms are supplied, the most eligible plan would seem to be, to erect an appendage to each wing, sufficient to afford a room ten feet by twelve for each hall. Hot and cold water should then be admitted freely into cast iron bathing tubs in each room. By removing into the same appendage the water closets, which are now in too close proximity to the halls, there will be no risk of any atmospheric impurity in close weather.

It is highly probable that the receipts for the ensuing year will not meet anything more than the actual current expenses. The day of cheap breadstuffs and fuel has passed. All the articles of consumption, (groceries excepted,) have advanced much in price within two years last past. The price of labor is also much augmented. Besides the anticipation of these high prices, some permanent improvements and repairs are demanded, more than the receipts from the board of patients will permit. Either a striking falling off must occur, or an addition to the rates of board must be made, or the Asylum must signify its inability to rely strictly on its own resources, and claim the public aid. Either of these measures it is desirable to avoid.

It will be remembered that Miss Catherine Fiske of Keene, bequeathed the sum of $5,419 67 to the State, in trust for the Asylum, subject to the payment of an annuity of $250 per annum. Although the period is somewhat remote when the bequest would fall to the Asylum, according to the provisions of the will, yet the institution is directly interested in the management of the sum entrusted to the State. By a reference to the former State Treasurer's report, it will be seen, that in one instance, at least, the annuity has been paid from the principal of the fund. Should such a procedure ever be adopted as a precedent, a few years would exhaust the sum devised, thus annulling the intention of the donor, as well as possibly limiting the benefaction to the annuitant. By transferring the amount of the legacy directly to the Asylum, subjecting it, if deemed necessary, to the payment of the annuity, the possibility of a misconstruction of its purpose would be avoided, and a source of embarrassment removed from the books of the State Treasurer.

This sum, invested in wood lands, (for it would be policy to receive it in no other way,) would enable the Asylum to apply its surplus labor in the winter, to the preparation and transportation of the wood consumed in the buildings, reducing the expenditure of wood alone, from one thousand dollars, the cost of a year's supply at present prices, to the amount of the annuity. Such a disposal of a sum so obtained, would relieve the institution from some of the embarrassments under which it must labor, so long as the price of fuel and provisions remains at present rates, and that of board so moderate as at present.

In concluding this report, the Superintendent cannot let the opportunity pass, to express a high sense of the value of the system of frequent visitation, adopted at the last annual meeting of the Board of Trustees. Aside from the higher considerations, which are obvious to all, the system is protective to those whose official duty demands the detention of persons committed to their care. The law requires no formal process regulating the commitment of persons to the Asylum; all is at the discretion of friends. The opinions of these friends even, is often much divided in questionable cases. Under such circumstances, the officers of the Asylum are liable to incur opprobrium, in performing an obvious and imperative duty. An easy and frequent opportunity for appeal to an official Board of Visitors, while it amply guarantees individual rights, renders safe the duty of the officers of the Asylum.

The assistant officers of the institution are, Dr. William B. Stevens, assistant physician, and Mr. and Mrs. Tilton French, steward and matron. The professional services and private worth of Dr. Stevens, fully proved by a lengthened residence with us, render his assistance peculiarly valuable. I would respectfully urge that his compensation, which is now far beneath what he could command in another sphere of duty, be increased.

The connection of Mr. and Mrs. French with the Institution being comparatively recent, the full value of their services cannot be properly estimated. The zeal with which they enter upon the discharge of their duties, promises well for their future value to the Asylum.

To the above mentioned persons, and to all others connected with the institution, who have lightened the burdens of the Superintendent, by a ready acquiescence and co-operation in his measures for the better discharge of a common trust, I am under great and lasting obligations.

ANDREW McFARLAND.

Of the convicts now in prison, one is here on a third sentence, seven on a second sentence, and four only are known to have been committed in other States.

Of the 137 who have left within the past five years, four only have been re-committed here, and but one is known to have been committed to the prison of any other State.

I have the satisfaction to report that the health of the prisoners has been good, and, with few exceptions, their conduct and deportment has met my approbation and approval. Most of the convicts are desirous to secure the approbation and interest of those who have the charge of them. In reading, writing, and arithmetic, very good improvement has been made by many. Some who could neither read nor write when they came here, are now tolerable proficient. Ignorance is the parent of vice, and should be at all times combatted. Where there are high intellectual attainments, accompanied with proper moral culture, there cannot be a taste for such food as vice offers. Vice and virtue cannot mix, more than oil and water, and in any subject where there is a desire for the one, there can be none for the other. As much, therefore, as we raise the intellectual, moral and religious attainments, so much we raise a safe barrier to vice, degradation and suffering.

The chaplain and officers have been assiduous in giving instruction. I have permitted those convicts who could, to instruct those who could not read. I think I can see a marked improvement, which I look upon as the result of these efforts and of the intellectual and religious teachings of the chaplain.

The same course of discipline has been enforced this year as by me heretofore, and experience has confirmed me in the belief that a mild, yet firm, system of government is best. To carry out any system of government, much depends on the subordinate officers; and no system of improvement can result well without a proper and efficient co-operation. Here I have been constantly and faithfully aided and sustained by both officers and contractors. There has been a harmonious co-operation throughout, for which I feel under many obligations.

By inspection of the accounts, it will be seen that the pecuniary result of this year's business is not as prosperous as could have been desired, yet it is such as under the circumstances could have been reasonably expected, with so small a number of convicts—a part of the time not more than fifty-seven. It costs precisely the same to guard and govern sixty as ninety convicts, and the earnings in the one case would be at least $2500 more than the other. During the rebuilding of the shops, in July and August last, many of the convicts were thrown out of any profitable employment, by which the earnings of the Prison have been much reduced. Hay-forks, on hand at the commencement of the year, have been sold at about $310 less than they were invoiced. It was thought for the interest of the Prison to close these forks up at reduced prices. In the foregoing statements will be found the reasons of the excess of the disbursements over the income of the Prison this year.

The report of the Chaplain is herewith submitted. To it I would refer, as more fully illustrating the measures pursued for the religious, moral and mental cultivation and improvement of the convicts. To the labors and influence of the Chaplain, so diligent and efficient, is due much of the success in the administration and government of the Prison.

Accompanying this, is also the report of the Physician. To his attention, fidelity and ability is measurably due the good health enjoyed by the convicts.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council:—

GENTLEMEN—

The undersigned, Physician to the N. H. State Prison, has the pleasure to report to the Board of Directors that no death has occurred in that institution during the past year, and no disease of a severe or malignant character prevailed.

During the heat of summer and early autumn, bilious diarrhœas and kindred diseases prevailed ; all of which yielded to appropriate remedies, aided by the faithful services of an experienced nurse, whose assiduous attention to the wants of the sick is a great relief to the physician, and of vast importance to the health of the convicts.

During the spring a severe form of epidemic influenza prevailed, which proved severe, and in many cases tedious in duration ; all the cases have passed off, however, without leaving any chronic pulmonary affection.

But one confirmed case of typhoid fever occurred during the year, although there were several attacks of the premonitory symptoms.

As may be expected in all institutions of like character, there have been several cases of chronic diseases, consequent upon former dissolute habits ; in all of which there has been a constantly gradual improvement. The casualties have been few, and but one that could be called severe.

In buildings constructed as those of all such institutions are, with small apartments, and those but poorly ventilated, one of the most essential requisites for the preservation of health is cleanliness. Great credit is due to the warden and other officers for the strict performance of this important duty, and for their persevering attention to preserve as perfect cleanliness and ventilation as possible in every department. To their assiduity in this respect, is, in a great measure, to be attributed the continued good health of the occupants.

All which is respectfully submitted.

WILLIAM PRESCOTT.

Concord, May 30, 1848.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

It is highly honorable to our State, that the intellectual and religious improvement of the convicts in our prison is regarded favorably, and is receiving increased attention. It is clear that mere suffering inflicted as the punishment of crime, will not deter men from pursuing a career of wickedness. To this must be added kind and well directed efforts to cultivate the intellect and the heart.

Let the understanding be enlightened, let the mind be taught its own capabilities, and encouraged to enter upon the path of improvement, and at once a new world opens before it, full of encouraging prospects. Let the sacred claims of God's Law, including all relative and social duties, be taught and enforced. Let the Gospel offering, grace to the chief of sinners, be faithfully and fully presented, and greatly encouraging results will follow.

During the past year religious meetings have been held on the Sabbath as formerly, besides which, Bible class instruction and sacred music have occupied a part of the day. A course of lectures on Scripture Geography, illustrated with maps, also, lectures on Sacred History and Biography have been delivered; nearly all the convicts of choice attending. School books and stationery have been furnished, and instruction in reading, spelling, and other branches has been given to some extent. Some of the better educated convicts have, in a manner highly creditable to themselves, assisted in instructing others. A few books have been purchased and a considerable number solicited from benevolent individuals. Each convict has been furnished with a good newspaper weekly, mostly religious or literary. These have been procured from the office of the Congregational Journal. Our thanks are due to the editor and publisher of that valuable journal, who have furnished much good reading at a small expense. Added to all this, your chaplain has sought by friendly and familiar instructions, admonitions and encouragements, to lead to a sense of obligation, to obedience and respect to the government of the prison and faithfulness to the contractors, as well as all other duties to man, and to God. Of the results of all this, we have to say that in all congregations and communities, so here, much seed has unquestionably fallen on unpropitious soil. Whoever seeks to cultivate either the intellect or the heart, will often have occasion to mourn his want of success. But some good results are visible. A most respectful and serious deportment has marked our religious meetings, and we trust the gospel of Christ has not been listened to in vain. How many sad hearts have been comforted, how many have prayed in penitence and believed in Jesus, and how many have been restrained from sin by the powerful influence of religious truth, is known to Him who seeth in secret, and will be revealed at the last day.

Considerable progress has been made in sacred music, and very encouraging advancement in Biblical knowledge. Several who were unable to read, have become good readers, and others have made proficiency in other branches. Most of the convicts are fond of books, and our library is a source of much profitable knowledge.

Of our excellent warden and his deputy, I need only say they have, as formerly, co-operated most cheerfully, in all efforts for the intellectual and moral good of the convicts, as Christian men, having faith in the reforming influence of truth and love.

Respectfully submitted,

ELEAZER SMITH, Chaplain N. H. S. P.

Concord, June 1, 1848.

REPORTS OF BANK COMMISSIONERS.

---

To His Excellency the Governor of the State of New Hampshire :

The undersigned, one of the Bank Commissioners within and for the State of New Hampshire, having, during the month of May, 1848, made a personal examination into the affairs of the Dover Bank and Strafford Bank, at Dover, the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, the Rockingham Bank, and the Mechanics and Traders Bank, at Portsmouth, the Granite Bank, at Exeter, and the Derry Bank, at Derry ; and also the Savings Bank for the county of Strafford, at Dover, the Portsmouth Savings Bank, at Portsmouth, and the New Market Savings Bank, at New Market, now asks leave to submit the following

REPORT :

The undersigned, in the discharge of the duties imposed upon him by law, attended at each of the aforesaid Banks, without any previous notice, and inspected the books and records of the same, and other evidences respecting their affairs, and examined the several cashiers and treasurers under oath, touching their respective concerns, so far as was deemed necessary for him to ascertain the actual condition of each of said Banks.

The undersigned has no hesitation in assuring His Excellency, that said Banks have transacted their business during the year, in strict conformity to law, (except perhaps in one or two instances where the liability of a Director exceeds one half of his stock,) and are all abundantly able to discharge all their engagements and liabilities with fidelity.

DOVER BANK—May 16, 1848.

This bank was incorporated June 26, 1845, and commenced operations May 4, 1846, when it appears by the evidence before the undersigned that $50,000 of capital stock had been paid in cash, which capital has since been increased to $75,000. The whole amount of bills issued by said bank is $80,850—$17,970 of which are now in the vault of the bank. The manner of transacting the business of the bank is the same as reported by the undersigned, May, 1846, and published in "Bank Reports," page 12. The bank has divided 4 per cent. semi-annually during the last year. Nothing is now loaned upon pledge of its own stock. The present number of stockholders is 71. The cashier makes oath that in his belief, all the debts due the bank are good and collectable with the exception of about $800 00. The cashier's bond is the same as in 1846, and he is not liable to the bank except on his official bond. The officers of the bank are, Joseph H. Smith, President; Andrew Peirce, Cashier; Joseph H. Smith, Andrew Peirce 3d, Ichabod G. Jordan, Noah Martin, Calvin Hale, George Gray and Charles W. Woodman, Directors. Joseph H. Smith owes the bank $300 00 as principal and $500 00 as surety—he owns stock to the amount of $2000 00. Andrew Peirce 3d, owes the bank $2000 00 as principal, and he has $2000 00 deposited in said bank—his stock is $7700 00. Calvin Hale owes $531 74, and has deposited in the bank $705 00—his stock is $500 00. No other director is in any way indebted to the bank.

STRAFFORD BANK—May 16, 1848.

This bank was incorporated July 9, 1846, to continue till June 1, 1867, with a capital of not less than $100,000, nor more than $200,000, and commenced business the first Monday in January, 1847.

The officers of the bank are, William Woodman, President; Asa A. Tufts, Cashier; William Woodman, Daniel M. Christie, Nathaniel Young, Ezekiel Hurd, John Currier, Moses Paul, E. D. Chamberlain, Directors. The number of stockholders is 87. The bank has loaned $1700 on pledge of its own stock. Daniel M. Christie is indebted to the bank in the sum of $500 as principal—his stock is $7000. Ezekiel Hurd owes the bank $80—his stock is $1000. Nathaniel Young is indebted to the bank in the sum of $391 80 as surety—his stock is $1100. No other director is indebted to the bank. The cashier has given a bond to the bank in the sum of $25,000, with two sureties, and is not otherwise indebted to the same. The directors meet once a week and make the discounts; a majority constitutes a quorum, but the consent of three-fourths of those present is necessary to make a discount. The bank, in certain cases, pays interest on deposits, but that is not a general rule. The president signs the bills, delivers them to the cashier and takes his receipt for the same. The cashier then enters them upon the books of the bank and puts them into circulation as fast as called for. The whole amount of bills issued by the bank since it went into operation is $99,700—$21,103 of which are now in the bank. The cashier makes oath that, in his belief, all the debts due the bank are good and collectable.

This bank was incorporated December 23, 1828, with a capital of not less than $100,000, nor more than $200,000, and to continue to January 1, 1849; consequently its charter will expire on the first day of January next. The officers of the bank are, Alanson Tucker, President; James Thom, Cashier; Alanson Tucker, John Ordway, John W. Noyes, William Choate, Edward P. Parker and Lucien Harper, Directors. There is now one vacancy in the board of directors. The capital was all actually paid in before the bank commenced operations. The president signs the bills, hands them to the cashier who gives his receipt for them, and then makes a regular entry upon the books of the bank. Alanson Tucker owes the bank $200—his stock is $1100. No other director is indebted to the bank. The cashier is liable to the bank only on his official bond. Bills are destroyed by a vote of the directors, and the consent of, at least two of the directors is necessary to make a discount. The directors meet semi-annually and make a thorough examination of all the affairs of the bank, and settle accounts with the cashier. Dividends of 3 per cent. were made in September, 1847, and of 3½ per cent. in March, 1848. The whole amount of bills issued by the bank and now in existence is $90,000—$34,622 of which are in the vault. There is loaned by the bank the sum of $5461,35 upon the pledge of its own stock. The number of stockholders is 117—many of whom are women; and several literary institutions have purchased this stock with their funds, supposing them to be there perfectly safe. .

The president, vice presidents, treasurer, treasurer's bond, meeting of the trustees and manner of transacting business, are the same as stated in the report of the undersigned to His Excellency, the Governor, in May, 1846, and published in "Bank Reports," page 18. The bank pays 2½ per cent. semi-annually. The treasurer makes oath that, in his opinion, the real estate is estimated $2500 too high, but thinks the railroad stock will so far exceed the estimate as, at least, to make the whole property worth the amount at which it is valued. No officer is in any way indebted to the bank. The present number of depositors is 2327. Moses Paul, John Currier, Asa A. Tufts, John H. Wheeler, Benjamin Wiggin and William Woodman constitute the present board of trustees.

The officers of this bank, the manner of conducting their business and making dividends, and the treasurer's bond are the same as reported by the undersigned in May, 1846; which report is published in "Bank Reports," page 19. The treasurer makes oath that, in his belief, all the securities are good and worth the amount at which they are valued. From the examination made by the undersigned, it appears by the books and other evidences exhibited, that there is a surplus of $22,480 24 in the bank belonging to the depositors. The examination of this bank was made by the undersigned, May 18, 1848, but the statement of the condition of the bank is given above as the same appeared on the 31st of January last, at which time the books were made up.

The above is the statement of the treasurer, made under oath, May 19, 1848. The treasurer's bond, the number of members, and the manner of transacting their business is the same as is stated by the undersigned, in his report made to His Excellency the Governor, in May, 1846, and published in the "bank reports" already referred to, to be required by the charter and by-laws of said bank. It appears that a thorough investigation of the bank was made by the trustees, June 30, 1847, when it was found that a surplus of something more than $1000, (which had accumulated within the last five years,) was in the bank belonging to the depositors, all of which surplus, with the exception of $12 32, was divided among the depositors and added to their original deposits. The books also show that another examination of the concerns of the bank was made by the trustees on the first day of January last, and that the above sum of $21,737 43 was found to be the true amount of the deposits in said bank. At that time a settlement was made with the treasurer, and also with said company, and a regular voucher taken for the sum so found due from the same. Upon the whole, the undersigned takes pleasure in being able to state that there has been a manifest improvement in keeping the books, records and vouchers belonging to this bank since he last visited it in 1846, and he has now no hesitation in assuring His Excellency that he has no doubt that the above statement of the treasurer, is the true statement of the affairs of the bank.

The officers of this bank are, George W. Kittredge, President; Henry C. Weatherby, Treasurer; George W. Kittredge, Henry C. Weatherby, John Webster, William W. Stickney, Benjamin Brooks, William Smith, Samuel A. Haley, James M. Chapman, and George A. Bennett, Trustees. The number of depositors is 158, and the bank pays them 4 per cent. per annum upon their deposits.

The undersigned finally takes pleasure in being able, once more, to give it as his opinion that all of the above banks are well managed, and that neither the stockholders nor the public have any thing to fear from the result of their operations.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

IRA ST. CLAIR, Bank Commissioner.

Concord, May, 1848.

To His Excellency the Governor, and the legislature of the State of New Hampshire:

The undersigned, as one of the Bank Commissioners, having at the dates specified made examination into the condition and management of the banks and savings institutions hereinafter mentioned, respectfully submits the following

REPORT:

CONNECTICUT RIVER BANK—May 5, 1848.

No interest is paid by the bank on deposits.

Letters to the assessors of towns in this State, giving the amount of stock held in those towns, were duly mailed by the cashier on the first of April last.

The whole amount of bills which have been signed, exclusive of those which have been burnt, and of $3,500 of mutilated bills reserved from circulation, is $100,000.

The cashier is of opinion that all the notes discounted are good. No one of them is now over due.

WINCHESTER BANK—June 2, 1848.

John H. Fuller is President, and William B. Hale, cashier. The Directors are now John H. Fuller, Henry Kingman, Asahel H. Bennett, and Charles S. Faulkner. Three others were elected by the stockholders, but declined, and the vacancies have not yet been filled.

It was incorporated July 3, 1847, for 20 years from January 1, 1848, and went into operation on the 31st of May last.

The capital stock is $100,000, of which $97,750 was paid in specie and bills of other banks, and $2,250 in checks drawn by individuals upon banks in Boston.

There are 1000 shares of $100 each, and the number of stockholders is 75.

The directors are indebted to the bank only as follows :

John H. Fuller owns stock, $6,600, owes $2,500 as principal and $100 as surety.

Henry Kingman owns stock, $12,100, owes as surety $574 32.

Asahel H. Bennett owns stock, $600, owes as surety $148 33.

There is nothing due the bank on pledge of its stock.

The cashier is not indebted or liable to the bank except on his official bond.

The cashier is of opinion that all the debts due the bank are good.

The discounts have been made with the approval of at least two of the directors.

The whole amount of bills which have been signed is $47,000.

The means and liabilities of the bank are as follows :

Notes discounted,	78,182 26

CONNECTICUT RIVER SAVINGS BANK—May 5, 1848.

Incorporated June 16, 1831, for an unlimited time.

Samuel Webber is President, Enos Stevens, Vice President, and George Olcott is Secretary and Treasurer. There is a board of eighteen trustees and a finance committee of five persons who make the loans, viz: David Holton, I. F. Wetherbee, Roswell Robertson, John Starrett, and Joel Willard. There are 43 members of the corporation, the number being limited by the charter to 50.

The number of depositors is about 650.

According to the estimate of the treasurer, about half the loans are secured by mortgages of real estate, and about one third by notes of hand with sureties. The institution holds as collateral about $18,000 of Fitchburg railroad stock and $13,500 of Cheshire railroad bonds. The treasurer gives his opinion on oath that all the debts due the bank are good. Nothing has ever been lost by the bank in bad debts. No officer but the treasurer receives any compensation. There is allowed 5 per cent. interest on the deposits, payable semi-annually, and there have been two extra dividends, one every five years. The first was of $66 65, the last of $399 22.

The amount of all debts due the bank is $150,237 32, from which is to be deducted $4,381 64, the amount of an over draught on the Connecticut River bank, leaving a balance of deposits of $146,855 68.

The concerns of the bank are examined by a committee once in six months, but their statements are not uniformly published.

A portion of the deposits are of large amounts, some of them exceeding $2,000 each.

MANCHESTER SAVINGS BANK—May 12, 1848.

Incorporated July 9, 1846, for an unlimited time.

Hiram Brown is the President, and Nathan Parker the Secretary and Treasurer. There is a board of eight trustees, and a standing committee of three, besides the president, viz: Daniel Clarke, Herman Foster, and William P. Newell.

There are now 22 members of the corporation. The present number of depositors is about 165. There is but one deposit (which was made some time since) exceeding five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and a by-law of the corporation now prohibits the payment of interest on any greater sum than five hundred dollars to any depositor. The loans are made by a board of control. The treasurer gives it as his opinion upon oath that all the debts due the institution are good. No compensation or emolument is allowed to any officer except the secretary and treasurer. The dividends of interest have been one per cent. each three months. No other dividend has as yet been made. The only examination of the affairs of the bank was made by a committee in July, 1847.

The amount due depositors is,	21,318 62

CHESHIRE PROVIDENT INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS—May 23, 1848.

Incorporated July 5, 1833, for 20 years.

Amos Twitchell is the President, Salma Hale, Levi Chamberlain, Vice Presidents, and George Tilden the Secretary and Treasurer. There are fifteen trustees chosen annually, from whom is chosen a board of investment, of five persons. They are L. Chamberlain, John Elliot, Calvin Page, Samuel Wood, and Sumner Wheeler. There are 47 members of the corporation, the number being limited to 50. The total number of depositors is about 2320. The board of investment make the loans and direct the collection of such demands as they think proper. Collections are also directed by an annual committee of the trustees.

The treasurer estimates that of the investments about one half are on mortgage of real estate, on notes with sureties about one third, on pledges of bank and railroad stock about one tenth, and in railroad bonds about $25,000.

No officer but the treasurer has any compensation or emolument. Five per cent. semi-annually is paid to depositors and an extra dividend once in five years, the first having been made in 1839. This extra dividend is made on those deposits which have been in a year or more, and has amounted to more than one per cent. a year. The treasurer's account is examined weekly by one or more of a committee of the board of trustees, and semi-annually by another committee of that board. A committee of the trustees annually report upon the securities of the institution.

The treasurer makes oath that in his opinion, all the debts due the institution are good and collectable, except one of about $100 which is doubtful.

The expenses of the institution for the year 1847, were $552 37.

The means and liabilities of the bank are as follows :

Debts due the institution,	354,619 65
Cash on hand,	2,537 46
	<hr/>
	$357,157 11
Due the depositors,	349,363 79
Surplus,	7,793 32
	$357,157 11

This statement includes interest up to Jan. 1, 1848. The treasurer estimates that probably two-thirds of the amount deposited is in less amounts to each depositor than $500.

There is one deposit exceeding three thousand dollars; two between $2000 and $3000; twelve between $1000 and $2000, and about one hundred between $500 and $1000.

These large deposits would seem to be attracted by the semi-annual interest and extra dividends, which, in a few years become equal to six per cent. compound interest, without trouble or expense to the owners in the management of their property. It may well be doubted whether the receiving of such large sums is consistent with the original benevolent design and ultimate security of these excellent institutions.

FREDERICK VOSE, Bank Commissioner.

To His Excellency the Governor :

The undersigned one of the Bank Commissioners for the State of New Hampshire, has in pursuance of the laws of this State, made a careful personal examination into the affairs of the Banks named below, at the specified dates, viz :

Lancaster Bank, March 31, 1848.
 Bank of Lebanon, April 4, "
 Belknap County Bank, " 6, "
 Mechanics Bank, " 7, "
 Merrimack County Bank, April 8, 1848.
 Great Falls Bank, " 14, "
 Rochester Bank, " 15 "

And the result of said examination, he respectfully submits in the following

REPORT :

The following is an abstract of the statements of the Cashiers of the several Banks, as made by them on oath, and will afford a general view of their condition, at the dates mentioned. The expenses of safes and fixtures in some of the banks, are included in the item of "real estate," and "unpaid dividends" are regarded, in this statement as "deposits." Bank checks are also included in the item "bills of other banks."

The several items, embraced in the foregoing statements, I made the subjects of examination, more or less particular as to each, as circumstances seemed to require, so far as to satisfy myself of their correctness and of the general correctness of the accounts of the banks, from which these items are in most cases stated by their cashiers.

If all the assets of the banks, could be regarded as good and available, each of them, as will be seen, would possess a full capital and a large surplus of profits on hand. But this is not the case. Have then these banks, so large a proportion of bad assets, as to impair their capital? Or, which is a matter of still more general interest, to render at all doubtful, the discharge of their obligations to the public? The cashiers of the Belknap County, Great Falls and Rochester banks, all state upon oath, that none of their "bills discounted" are in their opinion either bad or doubtful—a statement which on examination I can find no grounds for questioning, and which if true, leaves their assets free from all deductions. The cashiers of the other banks embraced in this report, state the amount of their bad and doubtful debts as follows, viz:—Bank of Lebanon, $200 ; Merrimack County Bank, $811 00 ; Mechanicks Bank, $11,780 16 and Lancaster Bank $22,823 70. There should also probably be some deduction upon the item of "real estate" included in the statement of the Mechanicks Bank, and of $1000 upon the same item in the statement of the Lancaster Bank. Disposing of all these deductions, all the banks except the latter, have a balance of profits on hand, while there is an admitted diminution of the capital of that, of some $8,000, and a real diminution, as I think after a careful examination, of nearly twice that amount. Even upon that estimation, the affairs of the bank present an important appearance, when compared with that presented at some former examinations. I am of opinion, that there is no reasonable ground for apprehending loss, to the holders of the circulation of any of these institutions.

The following tabular statement shows the amount loaned by each bank on a pledge of its own stock, its legal circulation, and actual circulation—all of the dates above mentioned :

Banks.	Loaned on pledge of stock.	Legal circulation.	Circulation.
Lancaster bank,	2,259 33	47,740	42,835
Bank of Lebanon,	none.	100,000	98,216
Belknap County bank,	none.	50,000	49,797
Mechanicks bank,	3,520 00	96,480	91,413
Merrimack Co. bank,	976 87	79,023	70,810
Great Falls bank,	5,509 37	94,490	92,926
Rochester bank,	1,650 00	98,350	60,922
		<hr/> $566,083	<hr/> $506,919

It will be seen by the above, that the laws in reference to bank circulation, as modified in 1846, were at the dates referred to, violated by none of our banks. It will also be seen, that the privilege of circulation, now broadly extended, is generally used by our banks very nearly to its extent, and that their loans have been considerably expanded. It is however, at least one advantage arising from the extensive loans made by some of our banks, to business men and capitalists residing out of the State, that in case a large reduction of their loans becomes necessary, they will have ample means—means which it is hoped they will improve—to effect it without inflicting the evils of a sudden contraction upon our own people. If the expansion of our bank circulation, at a time of pressure in the great commercial centres of the country, shall expose us to no revulsion here ; if the foreign loans to which I have referred, have been made without any consequent denial of reasonable accommodations to our own citizens, we should perhaps congratulate ourselves, that the measure of our banking capital is so full, as after supplying all our own rational wants, to overflow to some extent to other States, and give life to the business, and motion to the machinery, of those whose "foreign capital" we have been accustomed to regard as the support of manufacturing enterprise in New Hampshire. But how far our bank circulation may safely be extended ; how far the extension of our already large bank accommodations can safely proceed, are something more than a matter of curious inquiry. They are questions which involve the well being and prosperity of the whole body of our people.

LANCASTER BANK.

Royal Joyslin, Richard P. Kent, Joseph Colby, David Burnside, Turner Stephenson, Thomas Montgomery and Benjamin Hunking are directors of the bank, the former being its president. George A. Cossitt is its cashier, has given a good bond, and is indebted to it for no sum whatever. Deducting the sums due them for deposits, the liabilities of the directors are presented below, together with the amount of their stock :

	Owms stock.	Owes as principal.	As surety.
Royal Joyslin,	5,650	4,224 77	2,608 57
Richard P. Kent,	3,000	1,542 39	—
Joseph Colby,	250	272 42	274 31
David Burnside,	2,000	—	238 32
Turner Stephenson,	3,000	2,419 43	1,834 50
Thomas Montgomery,	250	229 31	—
Benjamin Hunking,	500	458 62	458 62
	<hr/> 14,650	<hr/> 9,146 94	<hr/> 5,414 32

Bad as this state of things appears, it is an improvement (but not by far so extensive as should have been made) upon that which preceded it. In June, 1844, upon $16,300 stock, the directors were liable for $36,219, above all offsets, and in April, 1847, upon $17,150 in stock, they were liable in the sum of $18,297 61. For a full explanation of the origin of these liabilities, I would respectfully refer to my reports, appended to the legislative journals of 1844 and 1846. And I would again suggest, that a bond be required from the bank, to provide for the redemption of its bills, of an amount at least equal to the probable diminution of its capital. The last dividend made by this bank was in 1842. The discounts are made by the directors.

BANK OF LEBANON.

Robert Kimball, Timothy Kenrick, Paul Buswell, Halsey R. Stevens, Samuel Wood 2d, Abner Allen and Uriah Amsden are the directors of this bank, the former being president. Together the directors own $17,900 in stock, and are indebted $870 to the bank, no one being indebted more than the law allows, and four of them not indebted at all. James H. Kendrick the cashier, has given a good bond, and is not indebted to the bank. The discounts are made under the supervision of the directors, who annually make a thorough examination into the affairs of the bank. Its dividends for the last three years have been at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum.

BELKNAP COUNTY BANK.

Warren Lovell who is president, and Daniel M. Gale, Stephen W. Mead, Joseph P. Pitman, Jonathan T. Coffin, Andrew Mack and Samuel Webster are directors. Together they own \$12,000 in stock, while one of them only is indebted to the bank, in the sum of \$800 only, being less than half the amount of his stock. John T. Coffin the cashier, has given a good bond, and is not indebted to the bank. The full board of directors meets semi-annually and a committee of the directors makes the discounts, and twice each year, examines thoroughly into the affairs of the bank. The bank, since it went into operation, has made two dividends, in October 1847, one of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. for nine months, and in March 1848, one of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. for six months.

MECHANICKS BANK.

Joseph M. Harper, Joseph Clough, Seth Eastman, Charles H. Peaslee, Josiah Minot, Cyrus Barton and D. M. Carpenter are directors of this bank, neither of whom is indebted to it for any sum whatever, either as principal or surety. Joseph M. Harper is president. George Minot is cashier, has given a good bond in the sum of \$30,000 and is not indebted to the bank. The discounts at this bank are made by its directors, who appear to exercise a proper general jurisdiction over its affairs. The dividends for the last two years have been at the rate of 3 per cent. for every six months, with the exception of that of January last, which was  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

MERRIMACK COUNTY BANK.

Francis N. Fisk, Abiel Walker, Samuel Coffin, Richard Bradley and Joseph B. Walker are directors of the bank—the former of them president. Of these, two only are indebted for any sum, and no one for a sum greater than is allowed by law. Ebenezer S. Towle, the cashier, is not indebted to the bank. He has given a good bond. The directors make the discounts. They meet every Monday at 10 o'clock. Annually, on the first of January, they make a thorough examination, of all the funds, accounts and affairs of the bank. The dividends have been 3 per cent. semi-annually.

GREAT FALLS BANK.

John A. Burleigh, Joseph Doe, Nathaniel Wells, Winthrop A. Marston, D. G. Rollins, O. H. Lord and Charles E. Bartlett are directors, the first named being president. They own $12,100 in stock, and one of them owning $500 is indebted for $250, and another owning $1000, for $204 65. The rest are not indebted to the bank. D. H. Buffum, the cashier, is not indebted to the bank, and has given a good bond in the sum of $20,000. Discounts are made by a majority of the board of directors, who meet weekly.

The bank has made two dividends—one in August 1846, of 3 per cent. and one in February 1847, of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

ROCHESTER BANK.

Simon Chase is president; Simon Chase, John Greenfield, James Farrington, James C. Cole, Jeremy Wingate, Dominicus Hanson and Charles Dennett, are directors, and John McDuffie, cashier. Together the directors own \$28,400 in the stock of the bank, and are indebted to it in all forms \$2,000; no one of them for so much as the law allows. The cashier owes nothing. He has given a good bond. The discounts at this bank are made by the directors at regular meetings or by a majority's approving notes between the meetings. The dividends of the bank for the last year, have amounted to  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

Below is a concise statement, excluding cents, of the immediate means and liabilities of these banks, reckoning their cash funds and deposits for the redemption of their bills under the first head, and their circulation and deposits—in other words their debt to the public under the second. The third shows the per cent. upon the whole amount of its notes due and regarded good, in this report, which each would have to collect to pay the balance it owes to the public:

	Immediate means.	Immediate liabilities.	Per cent.
Rochester bank,	32,808	65,164	24 $\frac{1}{2}$
Bank of Lebanon,	85,458	125,804	26 $\frac{1}{2}$
Merrimack Co. bank,	33,189	88,899	40 $\frac{1}{2}$
Belknap Co. bank,	13,282	52,237	42 $\frac{1}{2}$
Great Falls bank,	25,938	107,286	45 $\frac{1}{2}$
Lancaster bank,	18,081	56,224	54 $\frac{1}{2}$
Mechanicks bank,	24,076	133,086	54 $\frac{1}{2}$

The real estate holders by the above banks, would of course be a deduction, to the amount of its cash value, from the amount of their liabilities to be provided for, by collections upon their notes due.

All which is respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. RIX, Bank Commissioner.

Concord, June, 1848.

To His Excellency the Governor of New Hampshire :

In pursuance of his duty as Bank Commissioner, the undersigned, during the month of April last, visited and made an examination into the condition of the Meredith Bridge Savings Bank, at Meredith, the Somersworth Savings Bank, at Somersworth, and the New Hampshire Savings Bank, at Concord. From the information obtained, he submits the following

REPORT :

NEW HAMPSHIRE SAVINGS BANK.

The examination was made on the 18th day of April last. The following is the sworn statement of Mr. Samuel Morril, the treasurer, in reference to its condition on that day—a statement which, from the remarkable precision with which his books are kept, as well as from the means taken by me to test the same, I believe to be entirely correct.

During the past year, a bad debt amounting to $5,827 33 has been carried to profit and loss account. The treasurer now estimates the whole amount of "bad" and "doubtful" debts due the bank, at no more than $2,520 00, showing, if, as I have no reason to doubt, this estimate is correct, a surplus of more than $10,000 on hand, the property of the depositors. During the year ending the 17th of April, $71,002 have been deposited in the bank, and $60,733 withdrawn; $8,236 57 have been divided in interest, and $12,300 19 of interest has been collected, more than $13,400 having accrued in the same time. The expenses of the bank, including the treasurer's salary of $600, have been $1,010 92. During the current year, the whole amount of discounts has been $72,324.

The following classification of the deposits and loans of the institution for the current year, will be found substantially correct, and shows from whence the deposits have come and how the new loans have been distributed :

The general direction of the business of this savings bank has been entrusted to Francis N. Fisk, Ira Perley, Theodore French, and Nathan Stickney, as an investment committee, men who appear to exercise great care and judgment in the discharge of their duties. One of the committee is indebted to the bank for $500, hired before his election, and another for a small temporary loan. The members of the corporation are about 50 in number; four fifths of them citizens of Concord, men whose general reputation affords us the best guarantee for the proper management of the interests committed to their care.

MEREDITH BRIDGE SAVINGS BANK.

Examination on the 6th day of April, 1848. On that day the assets and liabilities of the bank, were as below :

Assets.

Notes principally secured by pledge of real estate,	39,864 42
20 shares Belknap County bank stock,	2,000 00
United States 6 per cent. stock,	5,000 00
Cash on hand,	830 54
Interest unpaid, due prior to January 17, 1848,	447 94
	<hr/>	$48,142 90

Liabilities.

Amount of deposits received to this time,	134,477 54
Dividends of interest to January 19, 1848,	24,074 56

	158,552 10
Paid to depositors,	111,007 94
	<hr/>	47,544 16
Balance,		$598 74

The treasurer makes oath that he considers all the assets of the bank good. The whole amount of bad debts, made and carried to profit and loss account, since July, 1841, is about $120,50. The whole expenses for the last current year were $191, showing a very economical administration of the affairs of the institution. The bank has made regular dividends of five per cent. John L. Perley, W. Melcher, Francis Russell, Alex. Beaman, Alvah Tucker, Thos. Eastman, Elijah Beaman, Stephen Gale, and Thomas Babb, are the trustees of the bank, and are not allowed to borrow, or be indebted to the bank as principals. They are sometimes taken as sureties. A thorough examination is made into the affairs of the bank semi-annually, by a committee of the trustees. The charter is perpetual.

SOMERSWORTH SAVINGS BANK.

The Somersworth Savings Bank was incorporated in July, 1845, for 20 years. The following is a statement of its affairs, as made upon oath, by Mark Noble, the treasurer, on the 14th day of April, A. D. 1848:

Means.

Notes, secured by real estate,	10,200 00
“ “ personal security,	31,185 49
150 shares in Great Falls bank,	15,000 00
Cash on hand,	68 55
	<hr/>	56,454 04

Liabilities.

Amount due depositors, including dividends of January 3, 1848,	55,101 02
	<hr/>	55,101 02
Balance,		<hr/> $1,353 02

Since the bank commenced its operations, there have been 598 accounts opened with depositors, and the whole amount of deposits has been $78,056 40. Of these accounts 478 remain open, $22,955 38 being the whole amount of deposits withdrawn. The bank received its first deposit on the 18th of September, 1845. Regular dividends of interest have been made semi-annually, at the rate of five per cent. per annum, amounting in all to $2,621 02. The whole amount of the expenses of the institution, from the commencement, is $368 68. The treasurer states that the bank has never made any loss, and has no bad or doubtful paper. The treasurer has given a bond, with good sureties, in the sum of $10,000. Six of the trustees, residing in the village where the bank is located, constitute the discount committee, and all discounts are made by them, or a majority of them, and a thorough examination is made semi-annually, into the affairs of the bank, by a committee of the trustees. The officers of the bank are, John A. Burleigh, President; Hiram R. Roberts and Daniel G. Rollins, Vice Presidents; who, together with Joseph Doe, William W. Rollins, Ichabod G. Jordan, Nathaniel Wells, Benjamin Hanson, Oliver H. Lord, and Winthrop A. Marston, constitute the board of trustees. Mark Noble is the secretary and treasurer. The trustees are indebted as principal and surety, as below :

	Principal.	Surety.
John A. Burleigh,		6,094 39
Wm. W. Rollins,		850 00
W. A. Marston and N. Wells,		1,206 27
Nath <sup>l</sup> Wells,		200 00
W. A. Marston,		485 50
Oliver H. Lord and another,	1,750 00
Oliver H. Lord,	600 00	1,350 10
Hiram R. Roberts and W. A. Marston,	1,750 00
Daniel G. Rollins,	1,000 00	750 00
	$5,100 00	$10,936 26

The two notes of $1,750 are said to be amply secured by a pledge of real estate, and not to have been originally discounted by the bank, but transferred to it by the holders thereof. The above loans are doubtless as well secured as any made by the bank. And yet, the fact that they are made to the men who control its affairs, and make its discounts, I cannot regard otherwise than as a dangerous precedent. Holding their funds as a sacred trust, reposed in them by a vast number of people of small means, the officers employed to invest them may be subjected to undue temptations, if in institutions of this kind they may loan them to themselves. If the practice obtains, of their assuming to judge of their own securities, they will scarcely find those securities insufficient under any circumstances.— Their disposition to borrow from the means within their reach, will doubtless arise in the first instance, as here, from a desire to furnish a good investment for those means. But should their private necessities increase, their credit be shaken, and one of those reverses overtake them, from which business men are never wholly safe, they might justify themselves by precedent, in making discounts to themselves upon securities which nothing but the partial judgment of men judging in their own case, would hold sufficient, and in such a manner as to hazard loss to the depositors, for their own advantage. The precedent existing in most savings banks, of a refusal on the part of the persons making discounts, to receive discounts themselves, cannot be too highly commended, or become too binding or too universal. And it would be well, very well, in my opinion, to confirm it by a positive law.

All which is respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. RIX, Bank Commissioner.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE ADJUTANT GENERAL.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Concord, June 16, 1848. }

To His Excellency JARED W. WILLIAMS—

SIR: I have the honor to submit to your Excellency the following

REPORT:

The military strength of New Hampshire for the year 1848, consists of Division and brigade officers.....	65

Field and staff officers.....	465
Cavalry.....	576
Artillery.....	1984
Infantry.....	22726
Riflemen.....	1788

Total..... 27592

Your Excellency will perceive that the condensed returns which I have the honor to submit, furnish the amount of ordnance, ordnance stores, arms and military equipments, musical instruments now in the care of the several regiments, the Commissary General at Portsmouth, his Deputy at Lancaster, and of the Adjutant General at Concord.

The returns from the Adjutants of many of the regiments have come in somewhat imperfectly, and require great care on my part, to make an accurately condensed report to your Excellency.

It will readily be seen by comparing the present with the report of last year, that while there have been an increase of men, arms and military equipments have diminished. This is in consequence, I suppose, of a greater number of conditional exemptions than would have been under the old law.

The State government has, for the most part, been disposed to encourage and sustain a well regulated militia. Laws have been enacted and appropriations made from year to year, to place the militia system upon a permanent basis—to give it character and efficiency as well as to encourage our citizen soldiery to emulate each other in obtaining a more perfect knowledge of the science of military tactics.

Among the provisions of statute enactments, no one, in my opinion, is better adapted to secure this end, than an act passed at the last session of legislature—entitled an Act in addition to and in amendment of the militia laws of this State—establishing the school of the soldier.

The benefits resulting to our militia officers from this school of instruction, though, from the fact of its having but recently gone into operation, may be considered only as an experiment, are, it seems to me, very apparent—yet the permanency and uniformity of law to regulate the militia system is required much more than the kind of law—or perfection of system.

Constant change destroys confidence; and it is this, perhaps, more than any thing else, that subjects our militia to the reproach and ridicule which so unsparingly characterizes the day.

Having been appointed but recently to the office which I have the honor to hold, many suggestions from this department will not be expected. I cannot, however, but indulge the hope that the school of instruction will receive the support of the government until its merits shall have received a fair trial.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN WADLEIGH,

Adjutant General N. H. Militia.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CONCORD RAIL ROAD.

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of New Hampshire :

The Directors of the Concord Railroad Corporation respectfully submit the seventh annual report of their acts and doings, receipts and expenditures for the year ending April 30, 1848.

During the year the road has been successfully operated and the travel and transportation has been regularly increasing. The statistics of the road in this respect show the necessity of the policy adopted by the directors for the last two or three years in the construction of a second track, procuring a larger class of engines, rebuilding our engine and passenger houses, and otherwise placing the road in as perfect order as possible not only to accommodate the local population upon it, but on a line of road extending through New Hampshire, Vermont and New York, to the great Lakes, and the Mississippi.

The great outlay of expense on this line which is now rapidly completing, is based on the anticipation of an immense amount of business which must seek the sea coast through this avenue, thereby giving increased importance to the commercial capital of New England, and associating by new bonds of union large sections of country heretofore but slightly connected in business associations.

In these prominent objects of enterprise, so closely connected with the prosperity of the Concord road, our stockholders have taken a deep interest, and rendered efficient aid by a liberal contribution of their means.

In conducting the affairs of the road the directors have endeavored to carry out the views of the stockholders in the spirit manifested by them.

We consider ourselves now very nearly prepared for any amount of business that may seek its outlet through this valley from any distance, and in making these preparations we have looked to that system of economy and accountability in expenditure that has caused New England to develop her resources with such rapidity and soundness, and that enables her to hold in her hand the commercial and industrial destinies of the nation.

To meet the necessary outlay in placing the road in this condition an increase of $150,000 has been made to the capital stock within the year, making the whole amount of capital stock $1,350,000. This sum it is believed will enable us to perfect our arrangements, and to meet the demands of the public upon us.

During the past year the Receipts of the road have been as follows :

From passengers,	$138,907 11
“ freight,	159,602 12
“ express,	2,520 00
“ mails,	5,064 00
“ rents,	767 87
“ interest,	4,374 90
	<hr/>	$311,236 00

EXPENSES.

For road repairs and fencing,	$25,264 24
For wood and oil,	18,846 54
For repairs of engines,	17,025 00
For taxes,	7,903 12
For freight, passenger and other expenses,	111,658 64
	<hr/>	$180,697 54
Leaving a balance of net earnings of		$130,538 46
From which two dividends of 5 per cent. each have been paid, amounting to		120,000 00
The remainder has been carried to the contingent and deterioration account, being		10,538 46
		$130,538 46

The account for engine repairs includes the expenditure for a new engine. The account for passenger expenses includes three new passenger cars, and one passenger engine, and the account for freight includes twelve new gravel cars, and one new freight engine, which additions will abundantly make good all deterioration of the furniture of the road.

During the year large expenditures have been incurred at various stations upon the road. A new engine house has been constructed at Nashville to contain five engines of the largest class ; also a new engine house at Concord, to contain twelve engines. The former engine houses were not constructed of a size to hold the class of engines now used, or half the number of engines necessary for the present business of the road. A new passenger house has been erected at Concord to accommodate our increased business and to furnish offices for the roads centring there, and the former passenger house has been removed to a new site graded for it, and has been fitted up with an addition to it as a car house. The wood sheds have also been removed and fitted up in connection with the new engine house.

The freight and passenger houses have been re-constructed at Read's Ferry, together with a new watering station; and an additional wood shed and a turn-table have been placed there.

The expenditures incurred for these purposes are as follows:

For the engine house, and new wood shed at Nashville,	$11,839 22
For freight, passenger house, &c., at Read's Ferry,	3,000 00
For new car house at Concord and grading for same,	5,000 00
For engine house and removing wood sheds at Concord,	17,350 00
For passenger house at Concord,	27,866 46
Amounting to	$65,056 28
Of this amount there has been carried to construction,	$8,484 78
And to contingent and deterioration account the remainder,	56,571 50
	$65,056 28
The contingent and deterioration account amounted at the date of our last report to	71,461 97
To which add the surplus of the present year,	10,538 46
	$82,000 43
Deducting the above sum of expenditures for buildings,	56,571 50
Leaves a balance of contingent and deterioration now on hand,	25,428 93
Which sum is invested as follows—
Stock in machine shops,	5,975 29

Wood and oil,	16,807 60
Outstanding debts for freight not delivered,	2,646 04
	$25,428 93

We are this season erecting a new repair shop at Concord, and removing the old shops farther east to open a sufficient width for side tracks to accommodate the roads connecting with us. This will complete our proposed arrangements, and the capital stock now created will be sufficient for these purposes and the completion of the second track.

The amount of tonnage transported is as follows :

No. of tons upward.	No. of tons downward.	Total tonnage.	No. of trains run.	No. of cars run.	Average tons per train.	Average tons per car.
51,793	49,398	101,191	622	28,148	162 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$

Tonnage in connection with the Northern Railroad since Sept. 1 :

Amount of freight up in lbs.	Amount of freight down.	Total in lbs.	Total in tons.
35,951,200	30,634,476	66,585,676	33,292 $\frac{1}{2}$

Which added to the tonnage of the Concord makes the total tonnage for the year 134,483 $\frac{1}{2}$  tons.

The whole number of passengers carried any distance over the road is 237,827. The total number of miles run by engines is 199,955. This includes the run of engines in the construction of the second track.

The amount of furniture on the road is as follows :

10 passenger and freight engines.
15 long and 2 short passenger cars.
4 long baggage cars.
4 short " "
122 covered freight cars (reckoned as short cars.)
84 platform " " "
22 new gravel cars.

It is proposed to reduce the fare after June 1st for passengers betwixt Concord and Boston to $1 50, and proportionally betwixt other stations.

The second track is laid and in daily use to Robinson's Ferry, within four miles of Concord. When completed we shall have with our side tracks more than 75 miles of heavy rails laid. There is no road in the country with such an extent of track and with buildings and furniture in similar order that has been completed and finished with so small an investment of capital stock.

The line of route betwixt Boston and Concord has these advantages; the grades betwixt these places and for fifteen miles above Concord, are very much less than those of any other route radiating from Boston, the maximum grade being fifteen feet per mile. There is besides no line of route in this country that has so much double track, and none whose fare is so cheap.

In addition to these advantages, we have endeavored to place the road in perfect order in all its arrangements. In so doing we have believed that we were promoting the best interests of the stockholders, should receive the approbation of the State, and a fair share of the patronage of the public.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ISAAC SPALDING,
JOSIAH STICKNEY,
ROBERT' READ,
URIEL CROCKER,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.

---

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

The Directors of the Boston and Maine Railroad respectfully present their annual

REPORT :

During the past year the road has been conducted successfully upon its Maine line and branches. The work upon the change of locations of the present line of road in the town of Andover, authorized by the legislature, is in progress of construction, and will probably be ready for use by the month of July next. The laying of a double track has been commenced at Boston, and now extends to the town of Malden, and it is designed to continue laying the same to the town of Lawrence. The bridge across the Merrimack river at Lawrence is nearly completed in a very substantial manner for a double track, and the branch road to the town of Methuen is in progress, and will be completed in time to meet at the line of the State, the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad.

To provide for the increasing business of the road, extensive additions have been made the past year to the working furniture, and to prevent the delay of vessels, which has heretofore occurred from the want of conveniences for discharging their cargoes, to be transported over the road, large expenditures have been made to procure the necessary wharf accommodations. An engine house, machine and smith shops of suitable dimensions, with engines, tools, and fixtures, calculated to be sufficient for to carry on the work required to maintain the motive power of the road, has been completed the past year.

Power," "Miscellaneous," "Income during the year," and "Dividends," are correct.

Those under the head of the "Doings of the year," the number of miles run by the trains, the number of passengers carried in the cars, the number of passengers carried one mile, the number of tons merchandise carried in the cars, the number of tons merchandise carried one mile, are only an approximation to correctness.

The number of passengers carried one mile to and from other roads, the number of tons of merchandise carried one mile to and from other roads, cannot be given, but are included in the general return of passengers and merchandise over the road.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WILTON RAILROAD COMPANY.

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of New Hampshire :

The Directors of the Wilton Railroad Company, respectfully submit their annual report of the acts and doings, receipts and expenditures of the corporation for the year ending May 31st, 1848:

This company was incorporated December 28th, 1844, with a capital of five hundred thousand dollars, and at a meeting of the grantees duly holden at Milford, on the 11th day of April, 1845, the corporation was temporarily organized by the choice of a president, clerk, and board of managers.

On the first day of October, 1846, the corporation was fully organized, by the choice of a board of seven directors, agreeably to the provisions of the charter.

Having adopted the act, entitled "An act to render railroads public in certain cases, and constituting a board of railroad commissioners," application was made to the railroad commissioners to locate said railroad and appraise the damages to the owners of the lands through which said road should be located, who, in accordance with said application, on the 8th day of December, 1846, met and proceeded to locate said railroad a short distance out of the village of Nashville, on the original route designated by them, but owing to the lateness of the season and the inclemency of the weather at that time, they suspended their operations, and reported "that it was not expedient, and that it would not be conducive to the interests of all concerned to lay out the remainder of said roads or any part thereof at that time." No further location was made by the railroad commissioners until sometime in the month of June following, when they met and located the residue of the route from Nashville to West Merrimack, a distance of 5 3-10 miles, and made their report to the Governor and Council, which was accepted.

The grading and masonry of that portion of the road laid out by the commissioners is nearly completed the whole distance, and ready to receive the superstructure, and it is confidently believed that this portion of the road will be opened to the public travel sometime during the month of July.

The location of the route from West Merrimack to Amherst has been made under the direction of George Stark, Esq., engineer of the corporation, by whose report to the directors it appears that the route selected by him is the most favorable one, both for the stockholders and the public, in regard to cheapness, feasibility, and the future extension of the railroad to its final destination, and the directors intend to put the residue of the road under contract to Marlow, and proceed with its construction as fast as practicable, consistently with the interests of the stockholders and the public good.

During the past year the directors have laid five assessments of 5 per cent. each, payable on the first days of December, January, February, March, and April, and three of 10 per cent. each, payable on the 15th of May, 1st of June, and 1st of July, on each share of the capital stock of said

Corporation, of which there was paid into the treasury prior to June 1, 1848, the sum of	43,290 00
Also on interest account,	81 76

Total amount of receipts,	$43,371 76
---------------------------	--------------------

The expenditures of the corporation to the 1st of June, 1848, have been as follows, viz :—

Engineering,	$2,547 89
Grading,	8,545 50
Superstructure,	2,418 86
Real estate and land damages,	8,079 30
Fencing,	330 00
Railroad and county commissioners,	545 75
Printing and stationery,	71 13
General expenses,	1,131 19
Not included in the above,	134 54
	$23,804 16

The corporation have contracted with Messrs. Baily, Brothers, & Co., of Liverpool, for six hundred tons of rails, weighing 56lbs. per yard, at $61 per ton, and with the same company for three hundred and twenty tons of rails of the same quality and weight, at $57 50 per ton. This iron is to be delivered in the United States, and is daily expected to arrive in Boston.

The corporation have also made favorable contracts for chairs, spikes, and other materials necessary for the construction of their road.

The net earnings of our road since we commenced running it ourselves, that is from Sept. 1, 1847, to May 1, 1848, a period of 8 months, were $102,751 59.

During this time, we have run the road from Concord to Lebanon Centre Village.

The whole road to White river has not been run with the regular trains up to that time.

Our number of passengers to Sept. 1, 1847, was	54,204.
Number of passengers from Sept. 1, 1847, to May 1, 1848,	72,048

On the 7th day of October last, the Directors finding that two millions would not be sufficient to complete and equip the road, voted to increase our capital stock, by the further addition of $400,000. On the 22d day of April last, for similar reasons, the Directors voted to add the further sum $200,000 to its capital stock. When this capital stock is paid in, our capital stock will amount to $2,600,000

On the 20th of January last, we paid to the stockholders interest at the rate of 6 per cent. upon all payments made by them prior to January 1, 1848, and on the 1st day of the present month, the interest to May 1st, last.

The Directors of this road, being satisfied that the Northern railroad had the means of running the Franklin and Bristol road at a cheaper rate for the public than it could be done by themselves, were induced to enter into an arrangement, by which it is stipulated, that we take a lease of the Franklin and Bristol road, and agree to run it, and to receive the income thereof, and pay the stockholders thereof the same pro rata dividends upon their stock as we pay our own.

This contract was made subject to the ratification of the stockholders of the respective corporations, and the same has been submitted to said stockholders in each corporation, and by them confirmed.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Note.—The passenger fares, when the road first commenced operations, between Nashua and Boston, was $1 50. A gradual reduction has annually been made, as the business increased, until the present fare between the same places is only 80 cents, and the freight tariff has been reduced in nearly the same proportion. The running time, which was originally 2 hours for 40 miles, is now but 1½ hours. No accident has occurred, by which any passenger has been injured upon the road, since the 4th day of July, A. D. 1841.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE FRANKLIN AND BRISTOL RAILROAD.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of New Hampshire :

The directors of the Franklin and Bristol Railroad herewith submit their first annual report.

On the 25th of May, 1847, the necessary preliminary steps having been taken to organize the corporation, and to have its line of railroad laid out by the railroad commissioners, agreeably to the statutes, a board of directors was chosen with reference to an immediate prosecution of the work.

At this time, a considerable portion of the capital stock believed to be necessary to complete the work had been subscribed for. On the 23d day of July last the grading and masonry on the whole line of between 12 and 13 miles were put under contract. This work has now been completed, with the exception of a small portion about, and near, the station house at Bristol.

The iron was early contracted for with an English house; and the greater part of it has arrived. It is the T rail, of fifty-six pounds to the lineal yard, and has been purchased on favorable terms. The chairs used are the heavy class.

The track is now laid to within one and a quarter miles of the terminus in Bristol village, and the road will be open for use on the 1st day of July, and in less than a year from the time the work was commenced.

It has proved an easy road to construct, and has been built with economy, and with a view to permanency. The whole cost of about thirteen miles will not, it is believed, exceed the original capital of two hundred thousand dollars.

As this road enters the Northern Railroad at Franklin, at a favorable point just at the foot of their highest grade, and where they have station houses, engine houses, and a spare motive power quite equal to running this branch road, and could, therefore, run it at much less cost than a separate company, it was thought desirable to effect an arrangement with the Northern Railroad for that purpose, and this road was accordingly leased to them for one hundred years.

The advantages of this arrangement are, that the interest on the cost of an entire equipment of engines and cars, &c. is saved, and also the salaries of several officers and men. These together would amount to several thousand dollars annually, and would of course be a tax upon the public in fares and freights to that amount.

Believing that they ought to adopt such measures, as, while they protected their own interests, would enable them to carry passengers and freight at the lowest price, the directors effected the arrangement mentioned.

We herewith submit a statement from the Treasurer's books, of receipts and disbursements up to May 1st, last.

By this it appears that there had then been received—

For assessments on stock,	112,973 87
Less loss on 389 shares, sold by vote of directors,	3,890 00
	<hr/>
	$109,083 87
Bills payable—deposit for land damages, Mechanics bank,	2,925 92
Levi Bartlett—balance collected by him, paid over, but not ret'd,	227 00
	$112,236 79

And there have been paid out

For expenses,	3,009 76
Land damages,	10,691 43
Balance of interest,	135 73
Preliminary expense,	104 58
Engineering,	1,577 97
Grading,	28,069 88
Masonry,	12,061 65
Changing roads and streams,	74 00
Spikes,	2,468 50
Thompson, Forman & Co., iron,	27,056 87
Iron, other persons,	125 00
Sleepers,	325 94
Depots,	8 13
Bridging,	1 75
Advances to contractors, towards 25 per cent. retained,	3,450 00
In hands of disbursing agents of Co., to meet payments,	3,875 00
Bills receivable,	524 00
Mechanicks bank, deposit to credit State Treasurer for land damage unsettled, &c.,	3,525 92
	<hr/>	$97,086 11

Leaving a balance of cash in hand, May 1st, last, $15,150 68

Since May 1st, last, large payments have been made for iron, and on other accounts.

In conclusion, the directors are happy to believe that in a week or two the public will have the pleasure of passing over their road, and inspecting its character.

They believe it will be found to be a well constructed and a cheap road ; affording great facilities of communication to a section of country needing them, and, in its humble sphere, developing the resources of the State.

And while it will not be unfruitful of good to the public, they hope it will not, under the arrangements they have made, be unprofitable to its proprietors.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

To His Excellency the Governor of the State of New Hampshire :

The undersigned, one of the Railroad Commissioners for said State, having in the month of May, 1848, made examination into the condition of the Portsmouth and Concord

Railroad, and Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire Corporations, reports as follows :

PORTSMOUTH AND CONCORD RAILROAD.

The capital stock of this corporation, is $800,000, only a part of which had been taken up.

The receipts up to the first day of May, 1848, were
Capital stock paid in,	$107,668 50
Expenditures up to that time,	121,685 95
Making a balance of expenditures over and above the amount paid in,	$14,017 45

The road is nearly graded from Portsmouth to the Boston and Maine railroad in New Market, and it is understood that the work is progressing upon other parts of the road.

EASTERN RAILROAD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The road owned by this corporation is still under lease to and is occupied by the Eastern railroad corporation in Massachusetts, upon the same terms as reported by the Commissioners, June 1846.

The capital stock of the corporation is $492,500, of which $10,000 was created Feb. 3d, 1848.

The cost of the road up to April 30, 1848, is $494,065 69.

The corporation is in debt in the sum of $1,565 69, and has real estate not necessary for the use of the road, estimated to be worth $9000.

There have been from April 30, 1847, to April 30, 1848, two dividends of 4 per cent. each.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIJAH R. CURRIER,

Railroad Commissioner.

June 1, 1848.

To His Excellency the Governor of the State of New Hampshire :

The undersigned, one of the Railroad Commissioners of said State, having, agreeably to the provisions of the act entitled an act to render Railroad Corporations public in certain cases, and constituting a Board of Railroad Commissioners, made examination into the condition of the following railroad corporations, and into the management of their affairs, to wit: The Concord Railroad Corporation, the Nashua and Lowell Railroad Corporation, the Wilton Railroad Company, the Franklin and Bristol Railroad, the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad, the Sullivan Railroad Company, the Northern Railroad, the Cheshire Railroad Company, and the Boston and Maine Railroad Corporation, reports as follows:

THE CONCORD RAILROAD CORPORATION.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 25th day of February last.

Its capital stock at that time, was $1,200,000.

The sums charged to construction up to May 1, 1844, were, as stated in my last report, $742,223 27

Since that time, the sums charged to this item have been—

For land purchased for Depot purposes at Manchester,	13,355 99
--	-----------

For new buildings at Manchester, being the estimated increased value of the new buildings there, the balance of the costs there, of having been charged with the expenses of the last year instead of being taken from the surplus fund as mentioned in my last report,	6,622 78
---	----------

For land, new side tracks, new stations, engineering, bridging, engines and cars, up to Feb. 1, 1848,	50,654 90
---	-----------

$812,856 94

The amount expended for the construction of second track and for materials for the same on hand, up to Feb. 1, 1848,	359,877 42

Making the whole amount,	$1,172,734 36
--------------------------	----------------

At the time of the examination, a second track from Nashua to Hooksett had been completed and was in daily use; and materials had been purchased and a part of the grading done for a second track from Hooksett to Concord, which, I was told, the directors designed to have finished, in the course of the ensuing spring and summer.

During the year past, there had been expended in building a new engine house at Nashua, the sum of $4,508 00

And for removing the old passenger depot at Concord and enlarging and fitting up a car house, and on the construction of a new engine house at Concord, and for grading the grounds, 30,398 96

Making an amount of $34,906 96

The President and Superintendent stated that it was designed to charge a large portion, if not the whole of these expenditures, to the surplus fund, or, as it is sometimes called, the contingent and deterioration fund. The amount of this fund, at the time of the examination, was $71,461 97. This fund is made up of balances of the earnings of the road, which, from time to time, have been carried to it, and reserved to meet the deterioration of fences, cars, engines and depot buildings, and of the superstructure of the road and materials thereon.

A full investigation of all the affairs of the corporation is made by the directors twice in each year, to wit: on the last day of May, and the last day of October.

The receipts for the year ending Oct. 31, 1847, were

From passengers,	$137,657 96
From freight,	160,747 25
From express,	2,520 00
From rents and storage,	1,074 27
From interest,	6,013 72
From mails,	4,086 93
	$312,100 13

The disbursements during the same time were, besides those above mentioned,

For wood and oil,	$21,275 12
For repairs of fences and road,	18,018 90

For passengers and freight expenses, including salaries and wages of agents and workmen, and ex- penses of machine shop,	123,976 80
New buildings in Manchester,	12,588 57
Taxes,	7,803 86
Dividends,	110,000 00
	<hr/>	$293,663 25
Leaving a balance of		$18,436 88

The amount of business upon the road, for the current six months up to the time of the examination, was considered, by the President and Superintendent, as equal to that of the corresponding period of the last preceding year.

The property of the corporation, besides the above balance, its road, depot land and buildings, and road furniture, consisted, on the 31st of October last, of

Real estate, estimated at	$8,500 00
Outstanding freight bills,	7,236 38
Stock on hand, consisting of wood, oil, iron and timber in workshop,	15,176 31
The surplus fund,	71,466 97

At the time of the examination, the outstanding freight bills were estimated at $9000, and stock on hand, at $5000.

The number of engines belonging to the road, is	9
“ “ of passenger cars,	15
“ “ of freight cars (reckoned as short cars,)	206
“ “ of baggage cars for passenger trains—4 long and 2 short.

The corporation owes no permanent debt. Settlements are made monthly with the men employed ; and all bills are paid as they become due and are presented.

The dividends paid to the stockholders, up to Nov. 1847, are equal to ten per cent. upon their capital stock, without any deduction on account of the taxes paid by the corporation into the treasury of the State.

The salary of the Superintendent is $2000 a year. The compensation of the President is said to depend on the amount of his services during the year. For the year ending Oct. 31, 1847, the sum allowed him was $1000. The Treasurer has $1000, and Clerk $50 a year. The Directors have no compensation except the privilege of passing free over the road.

During the year ending Oct. 31, 1847, the number of miles run by the engines over the road was 183,110; the whole number of passengers transported any distance was 228,640; and the amount of freight upon the road was 78,054<sup>257</sup>/<sub>1000</sub> tons.

NASHUA AND LOWELL RAILROAD CORPORATION.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 18th day of March last.

Its capital stock is $500,000; and has been expended as follows:

For grading and masonry,	$95,451 87
For superstructure, including iron and bridging,	233,998 35
For stations, buildings and fixtures,	23,757 53
For land and fencing,	79,074 15
For locomotives,	21,759 69

For merchandise cars,	20,101 09
For engineering and other expenses,	20,710 61
	$500,000 00

A full investigation of all the affairs of the corporation is made by the Directors twice in each year, to wit: on the first day of May and the first day of October.

For the year ending Oct. 1, 1847, the receipts were

From passengers,	$69,142 60
From freight,	82,620 75
From rents,	760 58
From British and U. S. mails,	1,910 80
From miscellaneous receipts,	2,372 78
From interest,	537 61
	.$157,345 12

The disbursements during the same time, were

For road repairs in N. H.,	$17,206 78

	<hr/>	96,937 08
Leaving a balance of		<hr/> $60,408 04

out of which there have been paid two dividends of five per cent. each upon the capital stock.

The amount of business for the current six months up to the time of the examination, was estimated to be about equal to that of the corresponding period of the last year.

The property of the corporation, besides its road, the furniture thereof and its depot lands and buildings consisted of real estate, estimated at $8000; and its surplus fund, which, including stock in the shop, $3000, and wood $3812, amounted, Nov. 1, 1847, to $17,625 21.

The corporation has six engines of sixteen tons, and two engines of nineteen tons each; three long passenger cars; two long freight cars; forty-five short do., nineteen covered do.; forty stake, or platform do., and five gravel do.

Since Nov. 1, 1847, two new engines have been purchased, which, with other expenses, it was supposed would absorb the net earnings of the road from that time to the time of the examination.

The corporation owes no permanent debt, but pays all claims against it as they become due and are presented.

During the year ending Oct. 31, 1847, the number of miles run by engines over the road was 52,553. The number of passengers transported any distance was 225,984. The whole number of miles they all rode was 3,119,207. The number of tons of freight upon the road was 151,111; the number carried one mile was 2,238,121.

The salary of the Superintendent is $1500, and that of the Treasurer $250 a year. Since the last examination, the President has been voted for his services from May, 1845, to Feb. 15, 1848, the sum of $500.

WILTON RAILROAD COMPANY.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 26th day of April last.

The act of incorporation was passed Dec. 28, 1844. The first meeting of the grantees was holden April 4, 1845, and the first meeting of the stockholders Oct. 1, 1846.

The exact amount of stock subscribed could not be ascertained, all the subscription books not having been returned. The amount was supposed to be about $304,000.

The amount of capital stock paid in, was	$27,500 00
The disbursements had been,	12,114 09

Leaving on hand a balance of	$15,385 91
------------------------------	--------------------

About five miles of their road had been laid out and was nearly graded. The iron for the superstructure of the same had been contracted for, and it was expected would be received about the first of June.

FRANKLIN AND BRISTOL RAILROAD.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 5th day of May last.

The act of incorporation was passed July 8, 1846. The first meeting of the grantees was holden Aug. 1, 1846; and the first meeting of the stockholders, May 20, 1847.

At the time of the examination, the amount of capital stock subscribed, was $179,200, in shares of $100 each.

The amount paid in was	$114,739 87
The disbursements had been	87,044 54

Leaving on hand a balance of	$27,695 33
------------------------------	-------------

Of the stock subscribed, 389 shares were disposed of by the directors at ten per cent. below the par value ; that is at the price of $90 each.

The road, extending from the depot of the Northern railroad, in Franklin, to Bristol village, a distance of about thirteen miles, is nearly graded, and it is expected that the superstructure will be completed and the road opened for travel, before the first day of July next.*

BOSTON, CONCORD AND MONTREAL RAILROAD.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 10th day of May last.

The act of incorporation was passed Dec. 25, 1844. The first meeting of the grantees was holden April 8, 1845 ; and a meeting of the stockholders, at which by-laws were adopted and directors chosen, Oct. 30, 1845.

At the time the examination was closed the amount of stock subscribed without condition and considered reliable, was $611,000.

The amount paid in was	$365,771 65
The disbursements had been	350,039 48

Leaving on hand a balance of	$15,732 17
------------------------------	-------------

At the time of the examination the road had been finished to Sanbornton Bridge, a distance of eighteen miles, at the cost of less than $12,000 a mile for substructure, superstructure and land damages, and was about to be opened, as it has since been, for passenger and freight trains to that place. Upon the next eleven miles of the road, to wit.—from Sanbornton Bridge to Lake Village, about $65,000 had been expended ; and some work had been done above the latter place.

The road has been laid out to West Rumney, a further distance of about thirty-three miles.

* In relation to the lease of this road to the Northern Railroad, see that part of the report in the Northern Railroad which treats of that subject.

The corporation had real estate not necessary for the use of the road, and which it was therefore supposed would be sold, estimated at $8000, one small engine, one 18 ton passenger engine, 4 long passenger cars, 6 eight-wheel platform cars, and 15 dumping cars. Other engines and cars had been contracted for but had not then been delivered.

SULLIVAN RAILROAD COMPANY.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 22d day of May last.

The act of incorporation was passed July 10, 1846. The first meeting of the grantees was holden in August 1846, and the first meeting of the stockholders Nov. 25, 1846.

The capital stock of the corporation is $500,000. The receipts of the time of the examination had been

Capital stock paid in,	$198,497 38

Leaving on hand a balance of	$44,398 45

Besides the above balance, the corporation had real estate not necessary for the road or depot purposes, and therefore to be sold, estimated at $8,100; and also wood for future use, cut and standing, estimated at $763.

The whole of the main road is under contract; considerable work has been done upon it; and the contractor states that he will have it finished and ready for use by the first of November next.

The branch to Claremont village has just been laid out, but is not yet under contract.

The road was opened for public use, from Concord to Franklin, on the 28th of December, 1846, and was run by the engines and cars of the Concord road until Sept. 1, 1847, at which time the road was opened to Grafton; and on the 17th of November to Lebanon Centre Village. The road is now graded and the track laid to Connecticut river; and the bridge across the river is nearly finished. Further expenditures are however considered necessary for the perfection of the road and its defence against injury.

The corporation has ten first class engines, one second class do., 11 passenger cars, 5 eight-wheel baggage cars, 2 four-wheel do., 121 eight-wheel merchandise do., 64 four-wheel do., 47 gravel and stone do., 29 haul do. and 8 snow-ploughs.

The salary of the President is $1500; of the Treasurer $2000; and of the Clerk $100 per annum.

In addition to the Treasurer's salary there was voted to him by the directors, on the 23d of March last, the sum of $500 for clerk hire.

By deed of indenture duly executed, the railroad of the Franklin and Bristol Railroad Company has been leased to the Northern Railroad, for the term of one hundred years, to be operated and managed and the income thereof to be received by the latter corporation, upon certain terms and conditions set forth in the deed. A part of these terms and conditions, as I understand them, is—that the Bristol and Franklin Railroad is, for certain purposes, to keep up its corporate organization; and its stockholders are to receive for the use of the road the same dividends that are paid to the stockholders of the Northern Railroad—thus making the stocks of the two corporations of equal value.

That the Northern Railroad derives from its charter authority to make this contract, and thus to enlarge the sphere of their operations, is not, I suppose, pretended. But the directors do contend that the lease is authorized by a provision in the Revised Statutes, chap. 142, sec. 10, which is as follows:

“Any railroad corporation may contract with any other railroad corporation for the transportation of freight, or passengers, and the conducting of all business connected therewith, on their road.”

But was this provision intended to extend any farther than to authorize one railroad corporation to contract for the transportation of its own passengers and freight, and for conducting the business of such transportation over the road of another railroad corporation? Under this provision contracts have been made by the Northern Railroad and the Concord Railroad, for the transportation, and for conducting the business of the transportation, of their own passengers and freight over the railroads below; and to such contracts, it seems to me, that this provision was intended to be, and, therefore, should be confined. This construction, while it renders the provision effectual for the accomplishment of a consistent and useful object, leads to no inconvenient, or absurd result. But if the construction put upon it by the directors be correct, then, for aught I see, the Concord Railroad Corporation may take leases of, and operate, and manage, the Northern, the Boston, Concord and Montreal, the Nashua and Lowell, the Portsmouth and Concord, and the Manchester and Lawrence Railroads; and, indeed, all the railroads hereafter to be made which shall be connected with its own road—a result which, I think, was never contemplated by the legislature, and to which, I apprehend, very few persons are, as yet, prepared to submit. That it is for the interest of the public to have both roads operated by the same corporation I am not disposed to deny. If a lease be necessary to accomplish that object the legislature would, I doubt not, if applied to, grant the power to make it. But it seems to me that a grant of power to make a lease is not, in this case, a necessary, or even the most useful and convenient mode of accomplishing the object in view. Rather let the two corporations be united by a special act and made one. The stockholders in both are by the terms of the lease to receive the same dividends. Their interests are the same. Why then should they be subject to the inconvenience and expense of sustaining two separate corporate organizations?

CHESHIRE RAILROAD COMPANY.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 26th day of May last.

The corporation has, besides its road and depot lands and buildings, real estate estimated at $23,000, and has wood and oil on hand estimated at $4,000. It has 6 engines, 4 long passenger cars, 72 four wheel box freight do., 12 platform, do., 36 gravel, do., 2 eight wheel passenger baggage, do., and one car with post office arrangements.

The road, commencing in Ashburnham, Mass., was opened to Winchendon, in that State, on the 8th day of October last, and to Keene, on the 16th day of May last. It is expected that the whole road to its termination at Bellows Falls, will be finished in the course of the present season.

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD CORPORATION.

The examination of this corporation was closed on the 30th of May last.

The railroad mentioned in my last report as having been granted by the first section of an act of the legislature of Massachusetts, and as being in part constructed and in use, to wit: from North Andover to the city of Lawrence, is now nearly all graded, and is expected to be open for use upon its whole length, about the first of July next. The bridge mentioned in the second section of the same act, and in my said report, has been built, and cars daily run across it from North Andover to a temporary depot which has been built in the city of Lawrence, at which place the corporation is now building a permanent depot for the accommodation of its own road and other railroads which it is expected will terminate there. All this has been done without the consent of the legislature of this State, consequently, as I conceive, without right.

Further, by an act of the legislature of Massachusetts, passed March 11, 1847, it is enacted, as follows: "That the Boston and Maine railroad company and the Eastern railroad company, are authorized to make any contract or contracts with the Portland, Saco, and Portsmouth railroad company, a corporation created by an act or law of the State of Maine, for the use and maintenance of the railroad and property of the said corporation last mentioned, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon by the contracting parties, and for the transportation of persons and freight upon and over the same road, in the same manner and under the same provisions, as are contained in the 9th chapter of the acts of the year 1838."

Afterwards, by deed of indenture, dated April 1, 1847, the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth railroad company, of the one part, and the Boston and the Maine railroad corporation and the Eastern railroad company of the other part, entered into a contract, to be perpetual, unless terminated as provided for in the deed, by which, as I understand the contract, the two corporations constituting the party last named, assumed the property, rights, liabilities and obligations of the party first named, and were to maintain and operate the road of the party first named, agreeably to its charter, and receive all its income from every source, and have the same power of disposing of the property of the party of the first part, except the road, which was possessed by its own directors; and in consideration thereof, was to pay the stockholders of the party first named, the sum of $3 semi-annually upon each share of their capital stock. To this arrangement the consent of the legislature of this State has not been obtained.

Upon the records of the directors, I found the following vote, passed Dec. 7, 1847:

"Voted, That whereas the permanent establishment of a steamboat communication between Portland and Bangor will conduce to the public accommodation and promote the interests of the company, therefore, that the president be authorized, in his own name, but as the trustee of the company, to subscribe for 1750 shares in the Penobscot steam navigation company, and that the treasurer be directed to pay the assessments on the same, not exceeding $100 per share, out of any earnings of the road not otherwise appropriated."

The president informed me that he had subscribed for the stock agreeably to the above vote; and the books of the treasurer show, that he has paid upon that subscription the sum of $15,312 50.

The stock of the corporation, on the 18th day of April last, consisted of 29,741 shares of $100 each; some of which, as stated in my last report, had been disposed of at a discount. On that day, 5,948 shares of new stock were created—thus making the capital stock equal to $3,568,900.

The amount of capital stock paid in was at the time of the examination $2,949,441 52.

The sums disbursed up to the same time for construction, including depots, workshops, locomotives and cars, were

The balance of debts against the corporation is $297,221.
 The salary of the president is $2,000; of the superintendent, $2,000; and of the treasurer and clerk, $1,500 per annum.

The treasurers of the Concord railroad corporation, the Cheshire railroad company, the Franklin and Bristol railroad, and the Northern railroad, are citizens of Massachusetts, and keep their offices and reside in that State.

In conclusion, I take pleasure in stating, as in my last report, that the agents of all the corporations manifested a disposition, in the most obliging manner, to exhibit their records and papers for my inspection, and to render me all the aid I desired in conducting my investigations.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, }
 JUNE 14, 1848. }

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of New Hampshire :

In compliance with the provisions of an act, entitled "An act relating to the State Library," approved June 30, 1846, the undersigned respectfully reports :—

That during the past year there has been added to the State library 442 vols. of bound books, and 99 pamphlets, (a schedule of which is herewith submitted.) Of this number, about 100 vols. of valuable scientific, statistical, historical, biographical, and other works, including the latest edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, in 21 volumes, were purchased by the committee on the State library, at an expense to the State of $343 53. The balance, except those published by our own State, were received from the United States government, and from the several States of the Union.

There has also been added to the library, valuable maps of the States of Massachusetts, Georgia and Missouri—received from the executives of those States.

Under a resolution of the legislature, passed at its last session, I have procured the printing and binding of one hundred copies of the pamphlet laws of this State, from December, 1842, to June, 1847, inclusive—which have been deposited in the library. I have also procured the binding of about 50 volumes, consisting mainly of law reports and legislative journals, and there still remains many valuable books and pamphlets which need binding.

A catalogue of the books, pamphlets and maps having been made last year, and three hundred copies of the same printed and deposited in the library, where most of them now remain, I have deemed it unnecessary to make out and cause to be printed a new catalogue at the present time, and because it was found to be impossible, by reason of the want of sufficient room, to arrange the library as it should be arranged—nor can it be so arranged until more room is provided.

I would respectfully suggest the expediency of removing the library to the room directly under the hall of the House of Representatives, which, it is believed, could be fitted up for the purpose at a small expense to the State, and where would be ample room to arrange it methodically, and to place around the walls the various maps belonging to the library.

In many of the States of the Union the practice prevails of publishing, at the close of each session of their respective legislatures, all important reports made to the legislature—such as bank reports, railroad reports, the reports of bank and railroad commissioners, the reports of State officers, and all important reports made by committees of their legislatures. These official papers bound up together often contain much useful statistical and other valuable information; and a number of the States publishing them have sent copies for the use of our library, with a request from the executives of those States, that they may receive similar publications of this State in exchange. Legislative journals of other States have also been received, with a similar request, but as no law exists authorizing the librarian to furnish to other States copies of our legislative journals, the request has not been complied with.

I have taken the liberty of calling the attention of the legislature to this subject, with the hope that they will authorize the publication of an additional number of legislative journals, sufficient to furnish one or more copies to each of the States of the Union—confident that such an interchange of official papers must conduce to a closer union of the States, and diffuse a better and more perfect knowledge of the progress and resources of different portions of the country.

THOMAS P. TREADWELL,
State Librarian.

REPORT OF THE AUDITING COMMITTEE.

The committee appointed to audit the accounts of the State Treasurer, report that they have carefully examined the Treasurer's books, which exhibit a summary of receipts and payments of the Treasury during the last fiscal year, ending on the 7th day of June, 1848, and also a statement of the debts due to and from the State, as embraced in his report, viz :

MEMORIAL OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE PORTSMOUTH, NEW MARKET, AND CON- CORD RAILROAD.

To the Legislature of the State of New Hampshire :

Respectfully represent the undersigned that at the June session of the legislature, 1845, an act of incorporation was granted for the purpose of constructing a railroad from Portsmouth, or from some point on the Boston and Maine railroad, to Concord : That the undersigned, among whom are a majority of the grantees named in said act of incorporation, with their associates, have taken the necessary measures for the improvement of the privileges granted thereby, have expended much time and money in surveys and other necessary preparations, have now under contract that portion of their road between New Market and Nottingham, about eight miles and a half, and have secured by agreement with the proprietors, the right of way for nearly the whole line.

They would also represent, that at the same session, a grant was made to others to construct a railroad from Portsmouth to the Boston and Maine railroad, that in these respective acts of incorporation the stockholders of each were authorized to unite with the other by certain proceedings therein prescribed, and to form one corporation, that the proceedings required by the acts of incorporation have never been had by the stockholders, and in the view of the undersigned the respective corporations have not been in a situation to unite, inasmuch as one, it is believed, has had neither stockholders nor subscribers to the stock, and in the other the subscribers have not until recently been required to pay an assessment, to constitute them stockholders. Yet the obvious inclination, on the part of those interested in the construction of a railroad between Portsmouth and Concord, after the direct line through the most populous district had been surveyed, found the most feasible and entirely practicable, and adopted apparently by general consent, induced certain persons to assume, on an unauthorized expression, as a fact, that the acts of incorporation had been united. The public interest and the wishes and interests of all parties concerned being in unison, no objection, it is believed, was made to this assumption, and the railroad commissioners were petitioned to survey the line, and their report, filed in the Secretary's office, represents that the public interest requires that a railroad should be built through the towns of New Market, Lee, Nottingham, Deerfield, Allenstown, and Pembroke, to Concord, which report was approved by the Governor and Council, and an order issued for the laying out the road so surveyed thereto when required. That order, your memorialists are informed, has never been revoked nor changed, but is still in force. Nevertheless, it is pretended by persons interested in a railroad project between Portsmouth and Manchester, pretending to act under the grants mentioned, that a different and distinct line from that ordered to be laid out has been substituted.

Your memorialists are not aware that the grantees of the Portsmouth, New Market and Concord railroad have done any thing to divest themselves of the rights and privileges granted by the legislature in their act of incorporation, and with a view to carry out the designs of the legislature, and accommodate the great and increasing demand for railroad facilities, for travel and transportation, by the towns of Lee, Nottingham, Deerfield, Allenstown, Epsom, Pittsfield, Northwood, Strafford, and parts of other towns, embracing a population of upwards of twenty-five thousand, which must mainly depend upon this line, have with their associates, proceeded as above stated in the measures necessary for the construction of the road, in full confidence of the right, propriety and lawfulness of their proceedings.

There are, however, those deeply interested in this enterprise, who have been led by representations adverse to it, to doubt in this matter, and the object of this memorial is to represent the facts to the legislature, and to ask that, for the purpose of quieting all apprehension on the subject, the rights, privileges and immunities granted to the Portsmouth, New Market and Concord railroad, and their proceedings in pursuance thereof, may be confirmed unto the corporators and their associates for the purpose of constructing a railroad in the towns embraced in the report of the commissioners above referred to, and that the time may be extended therefor.
